PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by The Reverend Brad Clayton, Faith Presbyterian Church, Tallahassee:

Holy God, we call on you this day like so many days before. We call on you to provide for every need that we have. We call on you to forgive us when we make mistakes. We call on you to help us when we are overwhelmed. We call on you to heal our state, our country, our world. We call on you to lift up the broken, to overwhelm our enemies, and to give us prosperity.

But, God, we remember that you call on us too. You call on us to be servant leaders. You call on us to care for the least of these. You call on us to love our enemies and pray for those who persecute us. You call on us to love our neighbors as ourselves. You call on us to seek justice, to love kindness, and to walk humbly. You call on us to believe, to believe in something greater than ourselves.

And so as we live into this calling this day, we ask for courage, for strength, and for inspiration. Grant us faith that carries us through the storms around us. Grant us peace that calms the storms within us. Grant us wisdom to follow your path that you have given us. Grant us hope that inspires those around us. Grant us humility to listen and learn from each other. Grant us the gift of unity, that even when we disagree, we may always work together.

We pray this all in the name of God whose steadfast love endures forever. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senator Albritton led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

—was read the second time by title.

Pursuant to Rule 7.1, there being no objection, consideration of the following late-filed amendment was allowed:

Senator Brodeur moved the following amendment which was adopted: by the owner, lessee, agent, independent contractor, ~~or~~ ~~and~~ supplier which occur on a farm in connection with the production of farm, honeybee, or apiculture products or in connection with complementary agritourism activities. These conditions and activities include, but are not limited to, the marketing of farm products ~~and includes, but is not limited to, the marketing of farm products~~ ~~produce~~ at roadside stands or farm markets; the operation of machinery and irrigation pumps; the generation of noise, odors, dust, fumes, and particle emissions ~~and fumes~~; ground or aerial seeding and spraying; the placement and operation of an apiary; the application of chemical fertilizers, conditioners, insecticides, pesticides, and herbicides; agritourism activities; and the employment and use of labor.

Amendment 1 (545786)—Delete lines 94-185 and insert:

(d)(e) “Farm product” means any plant, as defined in s. 581.011, or animal or insect useful to humans and includes, but is not limited to, any product derived therefrom.

(e)(d) “Established date of operation” means the date the farm operation commenced. For an agritourism activity, the term “established date of operation” means the date the specific agritourism activity commenced. If the farm operation is subsequently expanded within the original boundaries of the farm land, the established date of operation of the expansion shall also be considered as the date the original farm operation commenced. If the land boundaries of the farm are subsequently expanded, the established date of operation for each expansion is deemed to be a separate and independent established date of operation. The expanded operation shall not divest the farm operation of a previous established date of operation.

(f) “Nuisance” means any interference with reasonable use and enjoyment of land, including, but not limited to, noise, smoke, odors, dust, fumes, particle emissions, or vibration. The term also includes all claims that meet the requirements of this definition, regardless of whether the plaintiff designates those claims as brought in nuisance, negligence, trespass, personal injury, strict liability, or other tort.

~~(4) FARM OPERATIONS; NUISANCE FARM OPERATION NOT TO BE OR BECOME A NUISANCE.~~

(a) No farm operation which has been in operation for 1 year or more since its established date of operation and which was not a nuisance at the time of its established date of operation shall be a public or private nuisance if the farm operation conforms to generally accepted agricultural and management practices, except that the following conditions shall constitute evidence of a nuisance:

1. The presence of untreated or improperly treated human waste, garbage, offal, dead animals, dangerous waste materials, or gases which are harmful to human or animal life.

2. The presence of improperly built or improperly maintained septic tanks, water closets, or privies.

3. The keeping of diseased animals which are dangerous to human health, unless such animals are kept in accordance with a current state or federal disease control program.

4. The presence of unsanitary places where animals are slaughtered, which may give rise to diseases which are harmful to human or animal life.

(b) No farm operation shall become a public or private nuisance as a result of a change in ownership, a change in the type of farm product being produced, a change in conditions in or around the locality of the farm, or a change brought about to comply with best management practices adopted by local, state, or federal agencies if such farm has been in operation for 1 year or more since its established date of operation and if it was not a nuisance at the time of its established date of operation.

(c) A farm may not be held liable for nuisance unless the plaintiff proves by clear and convincing evidence that the claim arises out of conduct that did not comply with state or federal environmental laws, regulations, or best management practices.

(d) A nuisance action may not be filed against a farm operation unless the real property affected by the conditions alleged to be a nuisance is located within one-half mile of the source of the activity or structure alleged to be a nuisance.

(7) COMPENSATORY DAMAGES.—When the alleged nuisance emanated from a farm operation, the compensatory damages that may be awarded to a plaintiff for a private nuisance action must be measured by the reduction in the fair market value of the plaintiff's property caused by the nuisance, but may not exceed the fair market value of the property.

(8) PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—Any punitive damages claim in a nuisance action brought against a farm is subject to ss. 768.71 through 768.81. Additionally, a plaintiff may not recover punitive damages in a nuisance action against a farm unless:

(a) The alleged nuisance is based on substantially the same conduct that was subject to a civil enforcement judgment or criminal conviction; and

(b) The conviction or judgment occurred within 3 years of the first action forming the basis of the nuisance action.

(9) NUISANCE ACTIONS BASED ON EXISTING FARM OPERATIONS.—A plaintiff who fails to prevail in a nuisance action based on a farm operation that has been in existence for 1 year or more before the date that the action was instituted and that conforms with generally accepted agricultural and management practices or state and federal environmental laws is liable to the farm for all costs, fees, and expenses incurred in defense of the action.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Addison K. Mitchell, Parker Memorial Missionary Baptist Church, Cocoa:

Almighty God, the creator and sustainer of all life, first and foremost, we want to thank you for a reasonable portion of life, health, and strength. We thank you for your many blessings you have bestowed upon each of us and our respective families down through the years.

We seek your divine blessings upon our Governor, the Honorable Ron DeSantis, and all of the men and women of the Florida State Senate who have devoted their time and talents to serving the needs of the people of our great state. We ask for your guidance as we assemble this afternoon to make decisions that will make our state the best state for living, loving, and laughing.

Grant our Senators the wisdom, knowledge, and understanding that will result in legislation, laws, and amendments that will be pleasing in your sight and best for our state as a whole. Help them to be with one accord. Unite them in love, dignity, and respect of various opinions. At the end of the day, may we all depart this place united as one, indivisible, promoting liberty and justice for all.

These and all blessings we ask for in the name and in the power of our God and creator. Amen.

WHEREAS, amblyopia can cause permanent vision loss if not detected and treated early in life, and

WHEREAS, the detection of amblyopia and other vision threatening disorders, including retinoblastoma tumors, cataracts, and strabismus, in early childhood increases the chances of successful treatment, especially if the disorder is detected before a child reaches 5 years of age, and

WHEREAS, many forms of amblyopia are difficult to detect and can be identified only through proper screening techniques, and

WHEREAS, the sooner children are identified as having amblyopia or other vision threatening disorders, the sooner treatment can commence, and

WHEREAS, millions of children in the United States are left with permanent vision loss due to undetected amblyopia and other childhood ocular disorders that could have been detected with proper screening and successfully treated, and

WHEREAS, less than 20 percent of preschool children are currently screened for vision problems, despite the fact that such screening is a covered service by many health insurance plans and health maintenance organizations, and

WHEREAS, parents should be encouraged to have their children screened for vision problems before admission to preschool, and

WHEREAS, the Florida Society of Ophthalmology and the For Eye Care Foundation, Inc., believe that it is of paramount importance to promote statewide preschool vision screening, with the goal of testing all children between 3 and 5 years of age, NOW, THEREFORE,

WHEREAS, the American Cancer Society projects that, in 2021, there will be 11,220 new cases of colorectal cancer in Florida and that 4,360 Floridians will die from colorectal cancer, and

WHEREAS, the colorectal cancer survival rate could increase if adults older than 45 years of age were regularly screened to discover the cancer in its earliest stages, and

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Rabbi Schneur Oirechman, Chabad Lubavitch of the Panhandle, Tallahassee:

Almighty G-d, Master of the Universe, we stand here before you in the waning days of a pandemic that shut down much of the world—a global disaster that all began with the smallest of things but which brought so much destruction. So, we ask you today, as we begin to feel the rays of hope, to grant us the capacity to imagine and to appreciate the power of even the smallest good act.

Rabbi Menachem Schneerson, a blessed memory, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, the leader of the Jewish world, whose birthday we marked yesterday, taught all of us that our generation is the last generation of exile and the first generation of the redemption. We are taught by Maimonides that redemption brings to the world peace—no hunger, no greed, no evil, and no war. I am quoting from Maimonides, the Laws of Kings, “In that era, there will be neither famine or war, envy or competition, for good will flow in abundance, and all delights will be freely available as dust. The occupation of the entire world will be solely to know G-d.”

We are taught by the Rebbe that the road to redemption lies in the power of one more small act of goodness and kindness. Each good thought, good and positive word, or good and positive action changes the world for the better and ushers in that era now. And so, Almighty, let us remember that if one small, almost insignificant thing can inflict such horror upon the world, how much more so can one small good thing bring hope to the world?

Let us always remember the influence of one good positive thought, one good positive word, and one good positive action. However, the voice within, the evil inclination, may tell us that goodness doesn’t really matter, that we don’t really matter. What is it? One small good deed, or thought, or speech? But, the Rebbe taught us that it absolutely does matter.

So we pray that we should always heed our inclination to do good, that we should always remember that good thoughts matter, good words matter, and good actions matter. We pray to remember that a little light can dispel much darkness. You don’t fight darkness with darkness. We pray for competence to make this world a better place. We pray for the day that our good thoughts, words, and actions add up and tip the scale to redemption forever.

This coming Saturday night, Jews all around the world will be celebrating Passover. In Passover, we celebrate freedom. We pray that we pass over our limitations and realize our inborn potential, and may G-d help us so we can live up to our true potential. We ask that you bless our noble Senators, our Senate President, and their staff—that their work for the common good bears the fruit of goodness and kindness and helps usher in that world of redemption. And, may it become a reality now. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senator Baxley led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

Senator Gruters moved the following amendment:

Amendment 1 (913612) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. This act may be cited as the “Park Randall ‘Randy’ Miller Act.”

Section 2. Paragraph (e) of subsection (14) of section 212.02, Florida Statutes, is amended, and paragraph (f) is added to that subsection, to read:

212.02 Definitions.—The following terms and phrases when used in this chapter have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(e) The term “retail sale” includes a remote mail order sale; as defined in s. 212.0596(1).

(f) The term “retail sale” includes a sale facilitated through a marketplace as defined in s. 212.05965(1).

Section 3. Section 212.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.05 Sales, storage, use tax.—It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that every person is exercising a taxable privilege who engages in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail in this state, including the business of making or facilitating remote mail order sales; or who rents or furnishes any of the things or services taxable under this chapter; or who stores for use or consumption in this state any item or article of tangible personal property as defined herein and who leases or rents such property within the state.

(1) For the exercise of such privilege, a tax is levied on each taxable transaction or incident, which tax is due and payable as follows:

(a)1.a. At the rate of 6 percent of the sales price of each item or article of tangible personal property when sold at retail in this state, computed on each taxable sale for the purpose of remitting the amount of tax due the state, and including each and every retail sale.

b. Each occasional or isolated sale of an aircraft, boat, mobile home, or motor vehicle of a class or type which is required to be registered, licensed, titled, or documented in this state or by the United States Government shall be subject to tax at the rate provided in this paragraph. The department shall by rule adopt any nationally recognized publication for valuation of used motor vehicles as the reference price list for any used motor vehicle which is required to be licensed pursuant to s. 320.08(1), (2), (3)(a), (b), (c), or (e), or (9). If any party to an occasional or isolated sale of such a vehicle reports to the tax collector a sales price which is less than 80 percent of the average loan price for the specified model and year of such vehicle as listed in the most recent reference price list, the tax levied under this paragraph shall be computed by the department on such average loan price unless the parties to the sale have provided to the tax collector an affidavit signed by each party, or other substantial proof, stating the actual sales price. Any party to such sale who reports a sales price less than the actual sales price is guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. The department shall collect or attempt to collect from such party any delinquent sales taxes. In addition, such party shall pay any tax due and any penalty and interest assessed plus a penalty equal to twice the amount of the additional tax owed. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Department of Revenue may waive or compromise any penalty imposed pursuant to this subparagraph.

2. This paragraph does not apply to the sale of a boat or aircraft by or through a registered dealer under this chapter to a purchaser who, at the time of taking delivery, is a nonresident of this state, does not make his or her permanent place of abode in this state, and is not engaged in carrying on in this state any employment, trade, business, or profession in which the boat or aircraft will be used in this state, or is a corporation none of the officers or directors of which is a resident of, or makes his or her permanent place of abode in, this state, or is a noncorporate entity that has no individual vested with authority to participate in the management, direction, or control of the entity's affairs who is a resident of, or makes his or her permanent abode in, this state. For purposes of this exemption, either a registered dealer acting on his or her own behalf as seller, a registered dealer acting as broker on behalf of a seller, or a registered dealer acting as broker on behalf of the purchaser may be deemed to be the selling dealer. This exemption shall not be allowed unless:

a. The purchaser removes a qualifying boat, as described in subparagraph f., from the state within 90 days after the date of purchase or extension, or the purchaser removes a nonqualifying boat or an aircraft from this state within 10 days after the date of purchase or, when the boat or aircraft is repaired or altered, within 20 days after completion of the repairs or alterations; or if the aircraft will be registered in a foreign jurisdiction and:

(I) Application for the aircraft's registration is properly filed with a civil airworthiness authority of a foreign jurisdiction within 10 days after the date of purchase;

(II) The purchaser removes the aircraft from the state to a foreign jurisdiction within 10 days after the date the aircraft is registered by the applicable foreign airworthiness authority; and

(III) The aircraft is operated in the state solely to remove it from the state to a foreign jurisdiction.

For purposes of this sub-subparagraph, the term "foreign jurisdiction" means any jurisdiction outside of the United States or any of its territories;

b. The purchaser, within 90 days from the date of departure, provides the department with written proof that the purchaser licensed, registered, titled, or documented the boat or aircraft outside the state. If such written proof is unavailable, within 90 days the purchaser shall provide proof that the purchaser applied for such license, title, registration, or documentation. The purchaser shall forward to the department proof of title, license, registration, or documentation upon receipt;

c. The purchaser, within 30 days after removing the boat or aircraft from Florida, furnishes the department with proof of removal in the form of receipts for fuel, dockage, slippage, tie-down, or hanging from outside of Florida. The information so provided must clearly and specifically identify the boat or aircraft;

d. The selling dealer, within 30 days after the date of sale, provides to the department a copy of the sales invoice, closing statement, bills of sale, and the original affidavit signed by the purchaser attesting that he or she has read the provisions of this section;

e. The seller makes a copy of the affidavit a part of his or her record for as long as required by s. 213.35; and

f. Unless the nonresident purchaser of a boat of 5 net tons of admeasurement or larger intends to remove the boat from this state within 10 days after the date of purchase or when the boat is repaired or altered, within 20 days after completion of the repairs or alterations, the nonresident purchaser applies to the selling dealer for a decal which authorizes 90 days after the date of purchase for removal of the boat. The nonresident purchaser of a qualifying boat may apply to the selling dealer within 60 days after the date of purchase for an extension decal that authorizes the boat to remain in this state for an additional 90 days, but not more than a total of 180 days, before the nonresident purchaser is required to pay the tax imposed by this chapter. The department is authorized to issue decals in advance to dealers. The number of decals issued in advance to a dealer shall be consistent with the volume of the dealer's past sales of boats which qualify under this sub-subparagraph. The selling dealer or his or her agent shall mark and affix the decals to qualifying boats in the manner prescribed by the department, before delivery of the boat.

(I) The department is hereby authorized to charge dealers a fee sufficient to recover the costs of decals issued, except the extension decal shall cost $425.

(II) The proceeds from the sale of decals will be deposited into the administrative trust fund.

(III) Decals shall display information to identify the boat as a qualifying boat under this sub-subparagraph, including, but not limited to, the decal's date of expiration.

(IV) The department is authorized to require dealers who purchase decals to file reports with the department and may prescribe all necessary records by rule. All such records are subject to inspection by the department.

(V) Any dealer or his or her agent who issues a decal falsely, fails to affix a decal, mismarks the expiration date of a decal, or fails to properly account for decals will be considered prima facie to have committed a fraudulent act to evade the tax and will be liable for payment of the tax plus a mandatory penalty of 200 percent of the tax, and shall be liable for fine and punishment as provided by law for a conviction of a misdemeanor of the first degree, as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(VI) Any nonresident purchaser of a boat who removes a decal before permanently removing the boat from the state, or defaces, changes, modifies, or alters a decal in a manner affecting its expiration date before its expiration, or who causes or allows the same to be done by another, will be considered prima facie to have committed a fraudulent act to evade the tax and will be liable for payment of the tax plus a mandatory penalty of 200 percent of the tax, and shall be liable for fine and punishment as provided by law for a conviction of a misdemeanor of the first degree, as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(VII) The department is authorized to adopt rules necessary to administer and enforce this subparagraph and to publish the necessary forms and instructions.

(VIII) The department is hereby authorized to adopt emergency rules pursuant to s. 120.54(4) to administer and enforce the provisions of this subparagraph.

If the purchaser fails to remove the qualifying boat from this state within the maximum 180 days after purchase or a nonqualifying boat or an aircraft from this state within 10 days after purchase or, when the boat or aircraft is repaired or altered, within 20 days after completion of such repairs or alterations, or permits the boat or aircraft to return to this state within 6 months from the date of departure, except as provided in s. 212.08(7)(fff), or if the purchaser fails to furnish the department with any of the documentation required by this subparagraph within the prescribed time period, the purchaser shall be liable for use tax on the cost price of the boat or aircraft and, in addition thereto, payment of a penalty to the Department of Revenue equal to the tax payable. This penalty shall be in lieu of the penalty imposed by s. 212.12(2). The maximum 180-day period following the sale of a qualifying boat tax-exempt to a nonresident may not be tolled for any reason.

(b) At the rate of 6 percent of the cost price of each item or article of tangible personal property when the same is not sold but is used, consumed, distributed, or stored for use or consumption in this state; however, for tangible property originally purchased exempt from tax for use exclusively for lease and which is converted to the owner's own use, tax may be paid on the fair market value of the property at the time of conversion. If the fair market value of the property cannot be determined, use tax at the time of conversion shall be based on the owner's acquisition cost. Under no circumstances may the aggregate amount of sales tax from leasing the property and use tax due at the time of conversion be less than the total sales tax that would have been due on the original acquisition cost paid by the owner.

(c) At the rate of 6 percent of the gross proceeds derived from the lease or rental of tangible personal property, as defined herein; however, the following special provisions apply to the lease or rental of motor vehicles:

1. When a motor vehicle is leased or rented for a period of less than 12 months:

a. If the motor vehicle is rented in Florida, the entire amount of such rental is taxable, even if the vehicle is dropped off in another state.

b. If the motor vehicle is rented in another state and dropped off in Florida, the rental is exempt from Florida tax.

2. Except as provided in subparagraph 3., for the lease or rental of a motor vehicle for a period of not less than 12 months, sales tax is due on the lease or rental payments if the vehicle is registered in this state; provided, however, that no tax shall be due if the taxpayer documents use of the motor vehicle outside this state and tax is being paid on the lease or rental payments in another state.

3. The tax imposed by this chapter does not apply to the lease or rental of a commercial motor vehicle as defined in s. 316.003(13)(a) to one lessee or rentee for a period of not less than 12 months when tax was paid on the purchase price of such vehicle by the lessor. To the extent tax was paid with respect to the purchase of such vehicle in another state, territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia, the Florida tax payable shall be reduced in accordance with the provisions of s. 212.06(7). This subparagraph shall only be available when the lease or rental of such property is an established business or part of an established business or the same is incidental or germane to such business.

(d) At the rate of 6 percent of the lease or rental price paid by a lessee or rentee, or contracted or agreed to be paid by a lessee or rentee, to the owner of the tangible personal property.

(e)1. At the rate of 6 percent on charges for:

a. Prepaid calling arrangements. The tax on charges for prepaid calling arrangements shall be collected at the time of sale and remitted by the selling dealer.

(I) "Prepaid calling arrangement" has the same meaning as provided in s. 202.11.

(II) If the sale or recharge of the prepaid calling arrangement does not take place at the dealer's place of business, it shall be deemed to have taken place at the customer's shipping address or, if no item is shipped, at the customer's address or the location associated with the customer's mobile telephone number.

(III) The sale or recharge of a prepaid calling arrangement shall be treated as a sale of tangible personal property for purposes of this chapter, regardless of whether a tangible item evidencing such arrangement is furnished to the purchaser, and such sale within this state subjects the selling dealer to the jurisdiction of this state for purposes of this subsection.

(IV) No additional tax under this chapter or chapter 202 is due or payable if a purchaser of a prepaid calling arrangement who has paid tax under this chapter on the sale or recharge of such arrangement applies one or more units of the prepaid calling arrangement to obtain communications services as described in s. 202.11(9)(b)3., other services that are not communications services, or products.

b. The installation of telecommunication and telegraphic equipment.

c. Electrical power or energy, except that the tax rate for charges for electrical power or energy is 4.35 percent. Charges for electrical power and energy do not include taxes imposed under ss. 166.231 and 203.01(1)(a)3.

2. Section 212.17(3), regarding credit for tax paid on charges subsequently found to be worthless, is equally applicable to any tax paid under this section on charges for prepaid calling arrangements, telecommunication or telegraph services, or electric power subsequently found to be uncollectible. As used in this paragraph, the term "charges" does not include any excise or similar tax levied by the Federal Government, a political subdivision of this state, or a municipality upon the purchase, sale, or recharge of prepaid calling arrangements or upon the purchase or sale of telecommunication, television system program, or telegraph service or electric power, which tax is collected by the seller from the purchaser.

(f) At the rate of 6 percent on the sale, rental, use, consumption, or storage for use in this state of machines and equipment, and parts and accessories therefor, used in manufacturing, processing, compounding, producing, mining, or quarrying personal property for sale or to be used in furnishing communications, transportation, or public utility services.

(g)1. At the rate of 6 percent on the retail price of newspapers and magazines sold or used in Florida.

2. Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter, inserts of printed materials which are distributed with a newspaper or magazine are a component part of the newspaper or magazine, and neither the sale nor use of such inserts is subject to tax when:

a. Printed by a newspaper or magazine publisher or commercial printer and distributed as a component part of a newspaper or magazine, which means that the items after being printed are delivered directly to a newspaper or magazine publisher by the printer for inclusion in editions of the distributed newspaper or magazine;

b. Such publications are labeled as part of the designated newspaper or magazine publication into which they are to be inserted; and

c. The purchaser of the insert presents a resale certificate to the vendor stating that the inserts are to be distributed as a component part of a newspaper or magazine.

(h)1. A tax is imposed at the rate of 4 percent on the charges for the use of coin-operated amusement machines. The tax shall be calculated by dividing the gross receipts from such charges for the applicable reporting period by a divisor, determined as provided in this subparagraph, to compute gross taxable sales, and then subtracting gross taxable sales from gross receipts to arrive at the amount of tax due. For counties that do not impose a discretionary sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.04; for counties that impose a 0.5 percent discretionary sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.045; for counties that impose a 1 percent discretionary sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.050; and for counties that impose a 2 percent sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.060. If a county imposes a discretionary sales surtax that is not listed in this subparagraph, the department shall make the applicable divisor available in an electronic format or otherwise. Additional divisors shall bear the same mathematical relationship to the next higher and next lower divisors as the new surtax rate bears to the next higher and next lower surtax rates for which divisors have been established. When a machine is activated by a slug, token, coupon, or any similar device which has been purchased, the tax is on the price paid by the user of the device for such device.

2. As used in this paragraph, the term “operator” means any person who possesses a coin-operated amusement machine for the purpose of generating sales through that machine and who is responsible for removing the receipts from the machine.

a. If the owner of the machine is also the operator of it, he or she shall be liable for payment of the tax without any deduction for rent or a license fee paid to a location owner for the use of any real property on which the machine is located.

b. If the owner or lessee of the machine is also its operator, he or she shall be liable for payment of the tax on the purchase or lease of the machine, as well as the tax on sales generated through the machine.

c. If the proprietor of the business where the machine is located does not own the machine, he or she shall be deemed to be the lessee and operator of the machine and is responsible for the payment of the tax on sales, unless such responsibility is otherwise provided for in a written agreement between him or her and the machine owner.

3.a. An operator of a coin-operated amusement machine may not operate or cause to be operated in this state any such machine until the operator has registered with the department and has conspicuously displayed an identifying certificate issued by the department. The identifying certificate shall be issued by the department upon application from the operator. The identifying certificate shall include a unique number, and the certificate shall be permanently marked with the operator’s name, the operator’s sales tax number, and the maximum number of machines to be operated under the certificate. An identifying certificate shall not be transferred from one operator to another. The identifying certificate must be conspicuously displayed on the premises where the coin-operated amusement machines are being operated.

b. The operator of the machine must obtain an identifying certificate before the machine is first operated in the state and by July 1 of each year thereafter. The annual fee for each certificate shall be based on the number of machines identified on the application times $30 and is due and payable upon application for the identifying device. The application shall contain the operator’s name, sales tax number, business address where the machines are being operated, and the number of machines in operation at that place of business by the operator. No operator may operate more machines than are listed on the certificate. A new certificate is required if more machines are being operated at that location than are listed on the certificate. The fee for the new certificate shall be based on the number of additional machines identified on the application form times $30.

c. A penalty of $250 per machine is imposed on the operator for failing to properly obtain and display the required identifying certificate. A penalty of $250 is imposed on the lessee of any machine placed in a place of business without a proper current identifying certificate. Such penalties shall apply in addition to all other applicable taxes, interest, and penalties.

d. Operators of coin-operated amusement machines must obtain a separate sales and use tax certificate of registration for each county in which such machines are located. One sales and use tax certificate of registration is sufficient for all of the operator’s machines within a single county.

4. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to coin-operated amusement machines owned and operated by churches or synagogues.

5. In addition to any other penalties imposed by this chapter, a person who knowingly and willfully violates any provision of this paragraph commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

6. The department may adopt rules necessary to administer the provisions of this paragraph.

(i)1. At the rate of 6 percent on charges for all:

a. Detective, burglar protection, and other protection services (NAICS National Numbers 561611, 561612, 561613, and 561621). Fingerprint services required under s. 790.06 or s. 790.062 are not subject to the tax. Any law enforcement officer, as defined in s. 943.10, who is performing approved duties as determined by his or her local law enforcement agency in his or her capacity as a law enforcement officer, and who is subject to the direct and immediate command of his or her law enforcement agency, and in the law enforcement officer’s uniform as authorized by his or her law enforcement agency, is performing law enforcement and public safety services and is not performing detective, burglar protection, or other protective services, if the law enforcement officer is performing his or her approved duties in a geographical area in which the law enforcement officer has arrest jurisdiction. Such law enforcement and public safety services are not subject to tax irrespective of whether the duty is characterized as “extra duty,” “off-duty,” or “secondary employment,” and irrespective of whether the officer is paid directly or through the officer’s agency by an outside source. The term “law enforcement officer” includes full-time or part-time law enforcement officers, and any auxiliary law enforcement officer, when such auxiliary law enforcement officer is working under the direct supervision of a full-time or part-time law enforcement officer.

b. Nonresidential cleaning, excluding cleaning of the interiors of transportation equipment, and nonresidential building pest control services (NAICS National Numbers 561710 and 561720).

2. As used in this paragraph, “NAICS” means those classifications contained in the North American Industry Classification System, as published in 2007 by the Office of Management and Budget, Executive Office of the President.

3. Charges for detective, burglar protection, and other protection security services performed in this state but used outside this state are exempt from taxation. Charges for detective, burglar protection, and other protection security services performed outside this state and used in this state are subject to tax.

4. If a transaction involves both the sale or use of a service taxable under this paragraph and the sale or use of a service or any other item not taxable under this chapter, the consideration paid must be separately identified and stated with respect to the taxable and exempt portions of the transaction or the entire transaction shall be presumed taxable. The burden shall be on the seller of the service or the purchaser of the service, whichever applicable, to overcome this presumption by providing documentary evidence as to which portion of the transaction is exempt from tax. The department is authorized to adjust the amount of consideration identified as the taxable and exempt portions of the transaction; however, a determination that the taxable and exempt portions are inaccurately stated and that the adjustment is applicable must be supported by substantial competent evidence.

5. Each seller of services subject to sales tax pursuant to this paragraph shall maintain a monthly log showing each transaction for which sales tax was not collected because the services meet the requirements of subparagraph 3. for out-of-state use. The log must identify the purchaser’s name, location and mailing address, and federal employer identification number, if a business, or the social security number, if an individual, the service sold, the price of the service, the date of sale, the reason for the exemption, and the sales invoice number. The monthly log shall be maintained pursuant to the same requirements and subject to the same penalties imposed for the keeping of similar records pursuant to this chapter.

(j)1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, there is hereby levied a tax on the sale, use, consumption, or storage for use in this state of any coin or currency, whether in circulation or not, when such coin or currency:

- a. Is not legal tender;
- b. If legal tender, is sold, exchanged, or traded at a rate in excess of its face value; or
- c. Is sold, exchanged, or traded at a rate based on its precious metal content.

2. Such tax shall be at a rate of 6 percent of the price at which the coin or currency is sold, exchanged, or traded, except that, with respect to a coin or currency which is legal tender of the United States and which is sold, exchanged, or traded, such tax shall not be levied.

3. There are exempt from this tax exchanges of coins or currency which are in general circulation in, and legal tender of, one nation for coins or currency which are in general circulation in, and legal tender of, another nation when exchanged solely for use as legal tender and at an exchange rate based on the relative value of each as a medium of exchange.

4. With respect to any transaction that involves the sale of coins or currency taxable under this paragraph in which the taxable amount represented by the sale of such coins or currency exceeds $500, the entire amount represented by the sale of such coins or currency is exempt from the tax imposed under this paragraph. The dealer must maintain proper documentation, as prescribed by rule of the department, to identify that portion of a transaction which involves the sale of coins or currency and is exempt under this subparagraph.

(k) At the rate of 6 percent of the sales price of each gallon of diesel fuel not taxed under chapter 206 purchased for use in a vessel, except dyed diesel fuel that is exempt pursuant to s. 212.08(4)(a)4.

(l) Florists located in this state are liable for sales tax on sales to retail customers regardless of where or by whom the items sold are to be delivered. Florists located in this state are not liable for sales tax on payments received from other florists for items delivered to customers in this state.

(m) Operators of game concessions or other concessionaires who customarily award tangible personal property as prizes may, in lieu of paying tax on the cost price of such property, pay tax on 25 percent of the gross receipts from such concession activity.

(2) The tax shall be collected by the dealer, as defined herein, and remitted by the dealer to the state at the time and in the manner as hereinafter provided.

(3) The tax so levied is in addition to all other taxes, whether levied in the form of excise, license, or privilege taxes, and in addition to all other fees and taxes levied.

(4) The tax imposed pursuant to this chapter shall be due and payable according to the algorithm provided ~~brackets set forth~~ in s. 212.12.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the maximum amount of tax imposed under this chapter and collected on each sale or use of a boat in this state may not exceed $18,000 and on each repair of a boat in this state may not exceed $60,000.

Section 4. Paragraph (c) of subsection (4) of section 212.054, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.054 Discretionary sales surtax; limitations, administration, and collection.—

(c)1. Any dealer located in a county that does not impose a discretionary sales surtax, any marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter, or any person located outside this state who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales ~~but~~ who collects the surtax due to sales of tangible personal property or services delivered to a county imposing a surtax ~~outside the county~~ shall remit monthly the proceeds of the surtax to the department to be deposited into an account in the Discretionary Sales Surtax Clearing Trust Fund which is separate from the county surtax collection accounts. The department shall distribute funds in this account using a distribution factor determined for each county that levies a surtax and multiplied by the amount of funds in the account and available for distribution. The distribution factor for each county equals the product of:

- a. The county's latest official population determined pursuant to s. 186.901;
- b. The county's rate of surtax; and
- c. The number of months the county has levied a surtax during the most recent distribution period;

divided by the sum of all such products of the counties levying the surtax during the most recent distribution period.

2. The department shall compute distribution factors for eligible counties once each quarter and make appropriate quarterly distributions.

3. A county that fails to timely provide the information required by this section to the department authorizes the department, by such action, to use the best information available to it in distributing surtax revenues to the county. If this information is unavailable to the department, the department may partially or entirely disqualify the county from receiving surtax revenues under this paragraph. A county that fails to provide timely information waives its right to challenge the department's determination of the county's share, if any, of revenues provided under this paragraph.

Section 5. Section 212.0596, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(Substantial rewording of section. See s. 212.0596, F.S., for present text.)

212.0596 Taxation of remote sales.—

(1) As used in this chapter, the term:

(a) "Remote sale" means a retail sale of tangible personal property ordered by mail, telephone, the Internet, or other means of communication from a person who receives the order outside of this state and transports the property or causes the property to be transported from any jurisdiction, including this state, to a location in this state. For purposes of this paragraph, tangible personal property delivered to a location within this state is presumed to be used, consumed, distributed, or stored to be used or consumed in this state.

(b) "Substantial number of remote sales" means any number of taxable remote sales in the previous calendar year in which the sum of the sales prices, as defined in s. 212.02(16), exceeded $100,000.

(2) Every person making a substantial number of remote sales is a dealer for purposes of this chapter.

(3) The department may establish by rule procedures for collecting the use tax from unregistered persons who but for their remote purchases would not be required to remit sales or use tax directly to the department. The procedures may provide for waiver of registration, provisions for irregular remittance of tax, elimination of the collection allowance, and nonapplication of local option surtaxes.

(4) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter or a person who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales is required to collect surtax when the taxable item of tangible personal property is delivered within a county imposing a surtax as provided in s. 212.054(3)(a).

Section 6. Section 212.05965, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

212.05965 Taxation of marketplace sales.—

(1) As used in this chapter, the term:

(a) "Marketplace" means any physical place or electronic medium through which tangible personal property is offered for sale.

(b) “Marketplace provider” means a person who facilitates a retail sale by a marketplace seller by listing or advertising for sale by the marketplace seller tangible personal property in a marketplace and who directly, or indirectly through agreements or arrangements with third parties, collects payment from the customer and transmits all or part of the payment to the marketplace seller, regardless of whether the marketplace provider receives compensation or other consideration in exchange for its services.

1. The term does not include a person who solely provides travel agency services. As used in this subparagraph, the term “travel agency services” means arranging, booking, or otherwise facilitating for a commission, fee, or other consideration vacation or travel packages, rental cars, or other travel reservations; tickets for domestic or foreign travel by air, rail, ship, bus, or other mode of transportation; or hotel or other lodging accommodations.

2. The term does not include a person who is a delivery network company unless the delivery network company is a registered dealer for purposes of this chapter and the delivery network company notifies all local merchants that sell through the delivery network company’s website or mobile application that the delivery network company is subject to the requirements of a marketplace provider under this section. As used in this subparagraph, the term:

a. “Delivery network company” means a person who maintains a website or mobile application used to facilitate delivery services, the sale of local products, or both.

b. “Delivery network courier” means a person who provides delivery services through a delivery network company website or mobile application using a personal means of transportation, such as a motor vehicle as defined in s. 320.01(1), bicycle, scooter, or other similar means of transportation; using public transportation; or by walking.

c. “Delivery services” means the pickup and delivery by a delivery network courier of one or more local products from a local merchant to a customer, which may include the selection, collection, and purchase of the local product in connection with the delivery. The term does not include any delivery requiring more than 75 miles of travel from the local merchant to the customer.

d. “Local merchant” means a kitchen, a restaurant, or a third-party merchant, including a grocery store, retail store, convenience store, or business of another type, which is not under common ownership or control of the delivery network company.

e. “Local product” means any tangible personal property, including food but excluding freight, mail, or a package to which postage has been affixed.

3. The term does not include a payment processor business that processes payment transactions from various channels, such as charge cards, credit cards, or debit cards, and whose sole activity with respect to marketplace sales is to process payment transactions between two or more parties.

(c) “Marketplace seller” means a person who has an agreement with a marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter and who makes retail sales of tangible personal property through a marketplace owned, operated, or controlled by the marketplace provider.

(2) A marketplace provider that has a physical presence in this state or who is making or facilitating through a marketplace a substantial number of remote sales as defined in s. 212.0596(1) is a dealer for purposes of this chapter.

(3) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter shall certify to its marketplace sellers that it will collect and remit the tax imposed under this chapter on taxable retail sales made through the marketplace. Such certification may be included in the agreement between the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller.

(4)(a) A marketplace seller may not collect and remit the tax under this chapter on a taxable retail sale when the sale is made through the marketplace and the marketplace provider certifies, as required under subsection (3), that it will collect and remit such tax. A marketplace seller shall exclude such sales made through the marketplace from the marketplace seller’s tax return under s. 212.11.

(b)1. A marketplace seller who has a physical presence in this state shall register and shall collect and remit the tax imposed under this chapter on all taxable retail sales made outside of the marketplace.

2. A marketplace seller who is not described under subparagraph 1. but who makes a substantial number of remote sales as defined in s. 212.0596(1) shall register and shall collect and remit the tax imposed under this chapter on all taxable retail sales made outside of the marketplace. For the purpose of determining whether a marketplace seller made a substantial number of remote sales, the marketplace seller shall consider only those sales made outside of a marketplace.

(5)(a) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter shall allow the department to examine and audit its books and records pursuant to s. 212.13. For retail sales facilitated through a marketplace, the department may not examine or audit the books and records of marketplace sellers, nor may the department assess marketplace sellers except to the extent that the marketplace provider seeks relief under paragraph (b). The department may examine, audit, and assess a marketplace seller for retail sales made outside of a marketplace under paragraph (4)(b). This paragraph does not provide relief to a marketplace seller who is under audit; has been issued a bill, notice, or demand for payment; or is under an administrative or judicial proceeding before July 1, 2021.

(b) The marketplace provider is relieved of liability for the tax on the retail sale and the marketplace seller or customer is liable for the tax imposed under this chapter if the marketplace provider demonstrates to the department’s satisfaction that the marketplace provider made a reasonable effort to obtain accurate information related to the retail sales facilitated through the marketplace from the marketplace seller, but that the failure to collect and remit the correct amount of tax imposed under this chapter was due to the provision of incorrect or incomplete information to the marketplace provider by the marketplace seller. This paragraph does not apply to a retail sale for which the marketplace provider is the seller if the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller are related parties or if transactions between a marketplace seller and marketplace buyer are not conducted at arm’s length.

(6) For purposes of registration pursuant to s. 212.18, a marketplace is deemed a separate place of business.

(7) A marketplace provider and a marketplace seller may agree by contract or otherwise that if a marketplace provider pays the tax imposed under this chapter on a retail sale facilitated through a marketplace for a marketplace seller as a result of an audit or otherwise, the marketplace provider has the right to recover such tax and any associated interest and penalties from the marketplace seller.

(8) This section may not be construed to authorize the state to collect sales tax from both the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller on the same retail sale.

(9) Chapter 213 applies to the administration of this section to the extent that chapter does not conflict with this section.

Section 7. Effective April 1, 2022, subsections (10) and (11) are added to section 212.05965, Florida Statutes, as created by this act, to read:

212.05965 Taxation of marketplace sales.—

(10) Notwithstanding any other law, the marketplace provider is also responsible for collecting and remitting any prepaid wireless E911 fee under s. 365.172, waste tire fee under s. 403.718, and lead-acid battery fee under s. 403.7185 at the time of sale for taxable retail sales made through its marketplace.

(11) Notwithstanding paragraph (4)(a), the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller may contractually agree to have the marketplace seller collect and remit all applicable taxes and fees if the marketplace seller:

(a) Has annual United States gross sales of more than $1 billion, including the gross sales of any related entities, and in the case of franchised entities, including the combined sales of all franchisees of a single franchisor;

(b) Provides evidence to the marketplace provider that it is registered under s. 212.18; and

(c) Notifies the department in a manner prescribed by the department that the marketplace seller will collect and remit all applicable taxes and fees on its sales through the marketplace and is liable for failure to collect or remit applicable taxes and fees on its sales.

Section 8. Paragraph (c) of subsection (2) and paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of section 212.06, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

212.06 Sales, storage, use tax; collectible from dealers; “dealer” defined; dealers to collect from purchasers; legislative intent as to scope of tax.—

(c) The term “dealer” is further defined to mean every person, as used in this chapter, who sells at retail or who offers for sale at retail, or who has in his or her possession for sale at retail; or for use, consumption, or distribution; or for storage to be used or consumed in this state, tangible personal property as defined herein, including a retailer who transacts a substantial number of remote sales or a marketplace provider that has a physical presence in this state or that makes or facilitates through its marketplace a substantial number of remote sales mail order sale.

(5)(a)1. Except as provided in subparagraph 2., it is not the intention of this chapter to levy a tax upon tangible personal property imported, produced, or manufactured in this state for export, provided that tangible personal property may not be considered as being imported, produced, or manufactured for export unless the importer, producer, or manufacturer delivers the same to a licensed exporter for exporting or to a common carrier for shipment outside the state or mails the same by United States mail to a destination outside the state; or, in the case of aircraft being exported under their own power to a destination outside the continental limits of the United States, by submission to the department of a duly signed and validated United States customs declaration, showing the departure of the aircraft from the continental United States; and further with respect to aircraft, the canceled United States registry of said aircraft; or in the case of parts and equipment installed on aircraft of foreign registry, by submission to the department of documentation, the extent of which shall be provided by rule, showing the departure of the aircraft from the continental United States; nor is it the intention of this chapter to levy a tax on any sale which the state is prohibited from taxing under the Constitution or laws of the United States. Every retail sale made to a person physically present at the time of sale shall be presumed to have been delivered in this state.

2.a. Notwithstanding subparagraph 1., a tax is levied on each sale of tangible personal property to be transported to a cooperating state as defined in sub-subparagraph c., at the rate specified in sub-subparagraph d. However, a Florida dealer will be relieved from the requirements of collecting taxes pursuant to this subparagraph if the Florida dealer obtains from the purchaser an affidavit setting forth the purchaser’s name, address, state taxpayer identification number, and a statement that the purchaser is aware of his or her state’s use tax laws, is a registered dealer in Florida or another state, or is purchasing the tangible personal property for resale or is otherwise not required to pay the tax on the transaction. The department may, by rule, provide a form to be used for the purposes set forth herein.

b. For purposes of this subparagraph, “a cooperating state” is one determined by the executive director of the department to cooperate satisfactorily with this state in collecting taxes on remote mail order sales. No state shall be so determined unless it meets all the following minimum requirements:

(I) It levies and collects taxes on remote mail order sales of property transported from that state to persons in this state, as described in s. 212.0596, upon request of the department.

(II) The tax so collected shall be at the rate specified in s. 212.05, not including any local option or tourist or convention development taxes collected pursuant to s. 125.0104 or this chapter.

(III) Such state agrees to remit to the department all taxes so collected no later than 30 days from the last day of the calendar quarter following their collection.

(IV) Such state authorizes the department to audit dealers within its jurisdiction who make remote mail order sales that are the subject of s. 212.0596, or makes arrangements deemed adequate by the department for auditing them with its own personnel.

(V) Such state agrees to provide to the department records obtained by it from retailers or dealers in such state showing delivery of tangible personal property into this state upon which no sales or use tax has been paid in a manner similar to that provided in sub-subparagraph g.

c. For purposes of this subparagraph, “sales of tangible personal property to be transported to a cooperating state” means remote mail order sales to a person who is in the cooperating state at the time the order is executed, from a dealer who receives that order in this state.

d. The tax levied by sub-subparagraph a. shall be at the rate at which such a sale would have been taxed pursuant to the cooperating state’s tax laws if consummated in the cooperating state by a dealer and a purchaser, both of whom were physically present in that state at the time of the sale.

e. The tax levied by sub-subparagraph a., when collected, shall be held in the State Treasury in trust for the benefit of the cooperating state and shall be paid to it at a time agreed upon between the department, acting for this state, and the cooperating state or the department or agency designated by it to act for it; however, such payment shall in no event be made later than 30 days from the last day of the calendar quarter after the tax was collected. Funds held in trust for the benefit of a cooperating state shall not be subject to the service charges imposed by s. 215.20.

f. The department is authorized to perform such acts and to provide such cooperation to a cooperating state with reference to the tax levied by sub-subparagraph a. as is required of the cooperating state by sub-subparagraph b.

g. In furtherance of this act, dealers selling tangible personal property for delivery in another state shall make available to the department, upon request of the department, records of all tangible personal property so sold. Such records shall include a description of the property, the name and address of the purchaser, the name and address of the person to whom the property was sent, the purchase price of the property, information regarding whether sales tax was paid in this state on the purchase price, and such other information as the department may by rule prescribe.

Section 9. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 212.07, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(b) A resale must be in strict compliance with s. 212.18 and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder. A dealer who makes a sale for resale that is not in strict compliance with s. 212.18 and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder is liable for and must pay the tax. A dealer who makes a sale for resale shall document the exempt nature of the transaction, as established by rules adopted by the department, by retaining a copy of the purchaser’s resale certificate. In lieu of maintaining a copy of the certificate, a dealer may document, before the time of sale, an authorization number provided telephonically or electronically by the department, or by such other means established by rule of the department. The dealer may rely on a resale certificate issued pursuant to s. 212.18(3)(e) ~~s. 212.18(3)(d)~~, valid at the time of receipt from the purchaser, without seeking annual verification of the resale certificate if the dealer makes recurring sales to a purchaser in the normal course of business on a continual basis. For purposes of this paragraph, “recurring sales to a purchaser in the normal course of business” refers to a sale in which the dealer extends credit to the purchaser and records the debt as an account receivable, or in which the dealer sells to a purchaser who has an established cash or C.O.D. account, similar to an open credit account. For purposes of this paragraph, purchases are made from a selling dealer on a continual basis if the selling dealer makes, in the normal course of business, sales to the purchaser at least once in every 12-month period. A dealer may, through the informal protest provided for in s. 213.21 and the rules of the department, provide the department with evidence of the exempt status of a sale. Consumer certificates of exemption executed by those exempt entities that were registered with the department at the time of sale, resale certificates provided by purchasers who were active dealers at the time of sale, and verification by the department of a purchaser's active dealer status at the time of sale in lieu of a resale certificate shall be accepted by the department when submitted during the protest period, but may not be accepted in any proceeding under chapter 120 or any circuit court action instituted under chapter 72.

Section 10. Paragraph (f) is added to subsection (4) of section 212.11, Florida Statutes, to read:

212.11 Tax returns and regulations.—

(f) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter or a person who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales shall file returns and pay taxes by electronic means under s. 213.755.

Section 11. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (5), and subsections (9), (10), (11), and (14) of section 212.12, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

212.12 Dealer's credit for collecting tax; penalties for non-compliance; powers of Department of Revenue in dealing with delinquents; rounding brackets applicable to taxable transactions; records required.—

(1)(a)4. Notwithstanding any other law and for the purpose of compensating persons granting licenses for and the lessors of real and personal property taxed hereunder, for the purpose of compensating dealers in tangible personal property, for the purpose of compensating dealers providing communication services and taxable services, for the purpose of compensating owners of places where admissions are collected, and for the purpose of compensating remitters of any taxes or fees reported on the same documents utilized for the sales and use tax, as compensation for the keeping of prescribed records, filing timely tax returns, and the proper accounting and remitting of taxes by them, such seller, person, lessor, dealer, owner, and remitter ~~(except dealers who make mail order sales)~~ who files the return required pursuant to s. 212.11 only by electronic means and who pays the amount due on such return only by electronic means shall be allowed 2.5 percent of the amount of the tax due, accounted for, and remitted to the department in the form of a deduction. However, if the amount of the tax due and remitted to the department by electronic means for the reporting period exceeds $1,200, an allowance is not allowed for all amounts in excess of $1,200. For purposes of this paragraph ~~subparagraph~~, the term "electronic means" has the same meaning as provided in s. 213.755(2)(c).

~~2. The executive director of the department is authorized to negotiate a collection allowance, pursuant to rules promulgated by the department, with a dealer who makes mail order sales. The rules of the department shall provide guidelines for establishing the collection allowance based upon the dealer's estimated costs of collecting the tax, the volume and value of the dealer's mail order sales to purchasers in this state, and the administrative and legal costs and likelihood of achieving collection of the tax absent the cooperation of the dealer. However, in no event shall the collection allowance negotiated by the executive director exceed 10 percent of the tax remitted for a reporting period.~~

(5)(a) The department is authorized to audit or inspect the records and accounts of dealers defined herein, including audits or inspections of dealers who make remote mail order sales to the extent permitted by another state, and to correct by credit any overpayment of tax, and, in the event of a deficiency, an assessment shall be made and collected. No administrative finding of fact is necessary prior to the assessment of any tax deficiency.

(9) Taxes imposed by this chapter upon the privilege of the use, consumption, storage for consumption, or sale of tangible personal property, admissions, license fees, rentals, ~~communication services~~, and upon the sale or use of services as herein taxed shall be collected upon the basis of an addition of the tax imposed by this chapter to the total price of such admissions, license fees, rentals, ~~communication or other services~~, or sale price of such article or articles that are purchased, sold, or leased at any one time by or to a customer or buyer; the dealer, or person charged herein, is required to pay a privilege tax in the amount of the tax imposed by this chapter on the total of his or her gross sales of tangible personal property, admissions, license fees, ~~and rentals, and communication services~~ or to collect a tax upon the sale or use of services, and such person or dealer shall add the tax imposed by this chapter to the price, license fee, rental, ~~or admissions, and communication or other services~~ and collect the total sum from the purchaser, admittee, licensee, lessee, or consumer. ~~The department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and the following brackets applicable to all transactions taxable at the rate of 6 percent:~~

~~(a) On single sales of less than 10 cents, no tax shall be added.~~

~~(b) On single sales in amounts from 10 cents to 16 cents, both inclusive, 1 cent shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(c) On sales in amounts from 17 cents to 33 cents, both inclusive, 2 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(d) On sales in amounts from 34 cents to 50 cents, both inclusive, 3 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(e) On sales in amounts from 51 cents to 66 cents, both inclusive, 4 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(f) On sales in amounts from 67 cents to 83 cents, both inclusive, 5 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(g) On sales in amounts from 84 cents to $1, both inclusive, 6 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(h) On sales in amounts of more than $1, 6 percent shall be charged upon each dollar of price, plus the appropriate bracket charge upon any fractional part of a dollar.~~

(10)(a) A dealer must calculate the tax due on the privilege of the use, consumption, storage for consumption, or sale of tangible personal property, admissions, license fees, rentals, and upon the sale or use of services, based on a rounding algorithm that meets the following criteria:

1. The computation of the tax must be carried to the third decimal place.

2. The tax must be rounded to the whole cent using a method that rounds up to the next cent whenever the third decimal place is greater than four.

~~(b) A dealer may apply the rounding algorithm to the aggregate tax amount computed on all taxable items on an invoice or to the taxable amount on each individual item on the invoice. In counties which have adopted a discretionary sales surtax at the rate of 1 percent, the department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and the following brackets applicable to all taxable transactions that would otherwise have been transactions taxable at the rate of 6 percent:~~

~~(a) On single sales of less than 10 cents, no tax shall be added.~~

~~(b) On single sales in amounts from 10 cents to 14 cents, both inclusive, 1 cent shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(c) On sales in amounts from 15 cents to 28 cents, both inclusive, 2 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(d) On sales in amounts from 29 cents to 42 cents, both inclusive, 3 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(e) On sales in amounts from 43 cents to 57 cents, both inclusive, 4 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(f) On sales in amounts from 58 cents to 71 cents, both inclusive, 5 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(g) On sales in amounts from 72 cents to 85 cents, both inclusive, 6 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(h) On sales in amounts from 86 cents to $1, both inclusive, 7 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(i) On sales in amounts from $1 up to, and including, the first $5,000 in price, 7 percent shall be charged upon each dollar of price, plus the appropriate bracket charge upon any fractional part of a dollar.~~

~~(j) On sales in amounts of more than $5,000 in price, 7 percent shall be added upon the first $5,000 in price, and 6 percent shall be added upon each dollar of price in excess of the first $5,000 in price, plus the bracket charges upon any fractional part of a dollar as provided for in subsection (9).~~

~~(11) The department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and brackets applicable to all taxable transactions that occur in counties that have a surtax at a rate other than 1 percent which would otherwise have been transactions taxable at the rate of 6 percent. Likewise, the department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and brackets applicable to transactions taxable at 4.35 percent pursuant to s. 212.05(1)(c)1.e. or the applicable tax rate pursuant to s. 212.031(1) and on transactions which would otherwise have been so taxable in counties which have adopted a discretionary sales surtax.~~

~~(14) If it is determined upon audit that a dealer has collected and remitted taxes by applying the applicable tax rate to each transaction as described in subsection (9) and rounding the tax due to the nearest whole cent rather than applying the appropriate bracket system provided by law or department rule, the dealer shall not be held liable for additional tax, penalty, and interest resulting from such failure if:~~

~~(a) The dealer acted in a good faith belief that rounding to the nearest whole cent was the proper method of determining the amount of tax due on each taxable transaction.~~

~~(b) The dealer timely reported and remitted all taxes collected on each taxable transaction.~~

~~(c) The dealer agrees in writing to future compliance with the laws and rules concerning brackets applicable to the dealer's transactions.~~

Section 12. Present paragraphs (c) through (f) of subsection (3) of section 212.18, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as paragraphs (d) through (g), respectively, a new paragraph (c) is added to that subsection, and present paragraph (f) of that subsection is amended, to read:

212.18 Administration of law; registration of dealers; rules.—

(c) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter or a person who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales must file with the department an application for a certificate of registration electronically.

~~(g)(f)~~ As used in this paragraph, the term “exhibitor” means a person who enters into an agreement authorizing the display of tangible personal property or services at a convention or a trade show. The following provisions apply to the registration of exhibitors as dealers under this chapter:

1. An exhibitor whose agreement prohibits the sale of tangible personal property or services subject to the tax imposed in this chapter is not required to register as a dealer.

2. An exhibitor whose agreement provides for the sale at wholesale only of tangible personal property or services subject to the tax imposed by this chapter must obtain a resale certificate from the purchasing dealer but is not required to register as a dealer.

3. An exhibitor whose agreement authorizes the retail sale of tangible personal property or services subject to the tax imposed by this chapter must register as a dealer and collect the tax on such sales.

4. An exhibitor who makes a remote mail order sale pursuant to s. 212.0596 must register as a dealer.

A person who conducts a convention or a trade show must make his or her exhibitor's agreements available to the department for inspection and copying.

Section 13. Subsection (4) and paragraph (d) of subsection (6) of section 212.20, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

212.20 Funds collected, disposition; additional powers of department; operational expense; refund of taxes adjudicated unconstitutionally collected.—

(4) When there has been a final adjudication that any tax pursuant to s. 212.0596 or s. 212.05965 was levied, collected, or both, contrary to the Constitution of the United States or the State Constitution, the department shall, in accordance with rules, determine, based upon claims for refund and other evidence and information, who paid such tax or taxes, and refund to each such person the amount of tax paid. For purposes of this subsection, a “final adjudication” is a decision of a court of competent jurisdiction from which no appeal can be taken or from which the official or officials of this state with authority to make such decisions has or have decided not to appeal.

(6) Distribution of all proceeds under this chapter and ss. 202.18(1)(b) and (2)(b) and 203.01(1)(a)3. is as follows:

(d) The proceeds of all other taxes and fees imposed pursuant to this chapter or remitted pursuant to s. 202.18(1)(b) and (2)(b) shall be distributed as follows:

1. In any fiscal year, the greater of $500 million, minus an amount equal to 4.6 percent of the proceeds of the taxes collected pursuant to chapter 201, or 5.2 percent of all other taxes and fees imposed pursuant to this chapter or remitted pursuant to s. 202.18(1)(b) and (2)(b) shall be deposited in monthly installments into the General Revenue Fund.

2. After the distribution under subparagraph 1., 8.9744 percent of the amount remitted by a sales tax dealer located within a participating county pursuant to s. 218.61 shall be transferred into the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund. Beginning July 1, 2003, the amount to be transferred shall be reduced by 0.1 percent, and the department shall distribute this amount to the Public Employees Relations Commission Trust Fund less $5,000 each month, which shall be added to the amount calculated in subparagraph 3. and distributed accordingly.

3. After the distribution under subparagraphs 1. and 2., 0.0966 percent shall be transferred to the Local Government Half-cent Sales Tax Clearing Trust Fund and distributed pursuant to s. 218.65.

4. After the distributions under subparagraphs 1., 2., and 3., 2.0810 percent of the available proceeds shall be transferred monthly to the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Counties pursuant to s. 218.215.

5. After the distributions under subparagraphs 1., 2., and 3., 1.3653 percent of the available proceeds shall be transferred monthly to the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities pursuant to s. 218.215. If the total revenue to be distributed pursuant to this subparagraph is at least as great as the amount due from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities and the former Municipal Financial Assistance Trust Fund in state fiscal year 1999-2000, no municipality shall receive less than the amount due from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities and the former Municipal Financial Assistance Trust Fund in state fiscal year 1999-2000. If the total proceeds to be distributed are less than the amount received in combination from the Revenue Sharing Trust Fund for Municipalities and the former Municipal Financial Assistance Trust Fund in state fiscal year 1999-2000, each municipality shall receive an amount proportionate to the amount it was due in state fiscal year 1999-2000.

6. Of the remaining proceeds:

a. In each fiscal year, the sum of $29,915,500 shall be divided into as many equal parts as there are counties in the state, and one part shall be distributed to each county. The distribution among the several counties must begin each fiscal year on or before January 5th and continue monthly for a total of 4 months. If a local or special law required that any moneys accruing to a county in fiscal year 1999-2000 under the then-existing provisions of s. 550.135 be paid directly to the district school board, special district, or a municipal government, such payment must continue until the local or special law is amended or repealed. The state covenants with holders of bonds or other instruments of indebtedness issued by local governments, special districts, or district school boards before July 1, 2000, that it is not the intent of this subparagraph to adversely affect the rights of those holders or relieve local governments, special districts, or district school boards of the duty to meet their obligations as a result of previous pledges or assignments or trusts entered into which obligated funds received from the distribution to county governments under then-existing s. 550.135. This distribution specifically is in lieu of funds distributed under s. 550.135 before July 1, 2000.

b. The department shall distribute $166,667 monthly to each applicant certified as a facility for a new or retained professional sports franchise pursuant to s. 288.1162. Up to $41,667 shall be distributed monthly by the department to each certified applicant as defined in s. 288.11621 for a facility for a spring training franchise. However, not more than $416,670 may be distributed monthly in the aggregate to all certified applicants for facilities for spring training franchises. Distributions begin 60 days after such certification and continue for not more than 30 years, except as otherwise provided in s. 288.11621. A certified applicant identified in this sub-subparagraph may not receive more in distributions than expended by the applicant for the public purposes provided in s. 288.1162(5) or s. 288.11621(3).

c. Beginning 30 days after notice by the Department of Economic Opportunity to the Department of Revenue that an applicant has been certified as the professional golf hall of fame pursuant to s. 288.1168 and is open to the public, $166,667 shall be distributed monthly, for up to 300 months, to the applicant.

d. Beginning 30 days after notice by the Department of Economic Opportunity to the Department of Revenue that the applicant has been certified as the International Game Fish Association World Center facility pursuant to s. 288.1169, and the facility is open to the public, $83,333 shall be distributed monthly, for up to 168 months, to the applicant. This distribution is subject to reduction pursuant to s. 288.1169.

e. The department shall distribute up to $83,333 monthly to each certified applicant as defined in s. 288.11631 for a facility used by a single spring training franchise, or up to $166,667 monthly to each certified applicant as defined in s. 288.11631 for a facility used by more than one spring training franchise. Monthly distributions begin 60 days after such certification or July 1, 2016, whichever is later, and continue for not more than 20 years to each certified applicant as defined in s. 288.11631 for a facility used by a single spring training franchise or not more than 25 years to each certified applicant as defined in s. 288.11631 for a facility used by more than one spring training franchise. A certified applicant identified in this sub-subparagraph may not receive more in distributions than expended by the applicant for the public purposes provided in s. 288.11631(3).

f. The adjustments made by the department to the total distributions shall be equal to the total refunds made pursuant to s. 443.131(3)(e)3. If the amount of refunds to be subtracted from any single distribution exceeds the distribution, the* department may not make that distribution and must subtract the remaining balance from the next distribution.

(II) Beginning July 2022, and on or before the 25th day of each month, the department shall distribute $90 million monthly to the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund.

(III) If the ending balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund exceeds $4,071,519,600 on the last day of any month, as determined from United States Department of the Treasury data, the Office of Economic and Demographic Research shall certify to the department that the ending balance of the trust fund exceeds such amount.

(IV) This sub-subparagraph is repealed, and the department shall end monthly distributions under sub-sub-subparagraph (II), on the date the department receives certification under sub-sub-subparagraph (III) or December 31, 2025, whichever is earlier.

Section 14. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 443.1216, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

443.1216 Employment.—Employment, as defined in s. 443.036, is subject to this chapter under the following conditions:

(1)(a) The employment subject to this chapter includes a service performed, including a service performed in interstate commerce, by:

1. An officer of a corporation.

2. An individual who, under the usual common-law rules applicable in determining the employer-employee relationship, is an employee. However, whenever a client, as defined in s. 443.036(18), which would otherwise be designated as an employing unit has contracted with an employee leasing company to supply it with workers, those workers are considered employees of the employee leasing company. An employee leasing company may lease corporate officers of the client to the client and other workers to the client, except as prohibited by regulations of the Internal Revenue Service. Employees of an employee leasing company must be reported under the employee leasing company's tax identification number and contribution rate for work performed for the employee leasing company.

a. However, except for the internal employees of an employee leasing company, each employee leasing company may make a separate one-time election to report and pay contributions under the tax identification number and contribution rate for each client of the employee leasing company. Under the client method, an employee leasing company choosing this option must assign leased employees to the client company that is leasing the employees. The client method is solely a method to report and pay unemployment contributions, and, whichever method is chosen, such election may not impact any other aspect of state law. An employee leasing company that elects the client method must pay contributions at the rates assigned to each client company.

(I) The election applies to all of the employee leasing company's current and future clients.

(II) The employee leasing company must notify the Department of Revenue of its election by July 1, 2012, and such election applies to reports and contributions for the first quarter of the following calendar year. The notification must include:

(A) A list of each client company and the unemployment account number or, if one has not yet been issued, the federal employment identification number, as established by the employee leasing company upon the election to file by client method;

(B) A list of each client company's current and previous employees and their respective social security numbers for the prior 3 state fiscal years or, if the client company has not been a client for the prior 3 state fiscal years, such portion of the prior 3 state fiscal years that the client company has been a client must be supplied;

(C) The wage data and benefit charges associated with each client company for the prior 3 state fiscal years or, if the client company has not been a client for the prior 3 state fiscal years, such portion of the prior 3 state fiscal years that the client company has been a client must be supplied. If the client company's employment record is chargeable with benefits for less than 8 calendar quarters while being a client of the employee leasing company, the client company must pay contributions at the initial rate of 2.7 percent; and

(D) The wage data and benefit charges for the prior 3 state fiscal years that cannot be associated with a client company must be reported and charged to the employee leasing company.

(III) Subsequent to choosing the client method, the employee leasing company may not change its reporting method.

(IV) The employee leasing company shall file a Florida Department of Revenue Employer's Quarterly Report for each client company by approved electronic means, and pay all contributions by approved electronic means.

(V) For the purposes of calculating experience rates when the client method is chosen, each client's own benefit charges and wage data experience while with the employee leasing company determines each client's tax rate where the client has been a client of the employee leasing company for at least 8 calendar quarters before the election. The client company shall continue to report the nonleased employees under its tax rate.

(VI) The election is binding on each client of the employee leasing company for as long as a written agreement is in effect between the client and the employee leasing company pursuant to s. 468.525(3)(a). If the relationship between the employee leasing company and the client terminates, the client retains the wage and benefit history experienced under the employee leasing company.

(VII) Notwithstanding which election method the employee leasing company chooses, the applicable client company is an employing unit for purposes of s. 443.071. The employee leasing company or any of its officers or agents are liable for any violation of s. 443.071 engaged in by such persons or entities. The applicable client company or any of its officers or agents are liable for any violation of s. 443.071 engaged in by such persons or entities. The employee leasing company or its applicable client company is not liable for any violation of s. 443.071 engaged in by the other party or by the other party's officers or agents.

(VIII) If an employee leasing company fails to select the client method of reporting not later than July 1, 2012, the entity is required to report under the employee leasing company's tax identification number and contribution rate.

(IX) After an employee leasing company is licensed pursuant to part XI of chapter 468, each newly licensed entity has 30 days after the date the license is granted to notify the tax collection service provider in writing of their selection of the client method. A newly licensed employee leasing company that fails to timely select reporting pursuant to the client method of reporting must report under the employee leasing company's tax identification number and contribution rate.

(X) Irrespective of the election, each transfer of trade or business, including workforce, or a portion thereof, between employee leasing companies is subject to the provisions of s. 443.131(3)(h) ~~s. 443.131(3)(g)~~ if, at the time of the transfer, there is common ownership, management, or control between the entities.

b. In addition to any other report required to be filed by law, an employee leasing company shall submit a report to the Labor Market Statistics Center within the Department of Economic Opportunity which includes each client establishment and each establishment of the leasing company, or as otherwise directed by the department. The report must include the following information for each establishment:

- (I) The trade or establishment name;
- (II) The former reemployment assistance account number, if available;
- (III) The former federal employer's identification number, if available;
- (IV) The industry code recognized and published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, if available;

(V) A description of the client's primary business activity in order to verify or assign an industry code;

(VI) The address of the physical location;

(VII) The number of full-time and part-time employees who worked during, or received pay that was subject to reemployment assistance taxes for, the pay period including the 12th of the month for each month of the quarter;

(VIII) The total wages subject to reemployment assistance taxes paid during the calendar quarter;

(IX) An internal identification code to uniquely identify each establishment of each client;

(X) The month and year that the client entered into the contract for services; and

(XI) The month and year that the client terminated the contract for services.

c. The report must be submitted electronically or in a manner otherwise prescribed by the Department of Economic Opportunity in the format specified by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor for its Multiple Worksite Report for Professional Employer Organizations. The report must be provided quarterly to the Labor Market Statistics Center within the department, or as otherwise directed by the department, and must be filed by the last day of the month immediately after the end of the calendar quarter. The information required in sub-sub-subparagraphs b.(X) and (XI) need be provided only in the quarter in which the contract to which it relates was entered into or terminated. The sum of the employment data and the sum of the wage data in this report must match the employment and wages reported in the reemployment assistance quarterly tax and wage report.

d. The department shall adopt rules as necessary to administer this subparagraph, and may administer, collect, enforce, and waive the penalty imposed by s. 443.141(1)(b) for the report required by this subparagraph.

e. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the term "establishment" means any location where business is conducted or where services or industrial operations are performed.

3. An individual other than an individual who is an employee under subparagraph 1. or subparagraph 2., who performs services for remuneration for any person:

a. As an agent-driver or commission-driver engaged in distributing meat products, vegetable products, fruit products, bakery products, beverages other than milk, or laundry or drycleaning services for his or her principal.

b. As a traveling or city salesperson engaged on a full-time basis in the solicitation on behalf of, and the transmission to, his or her principal of orders from wholesalers, retailers, contractors, or operators of hotels, restaurants, or other similar establishments for merchandise for resale or supplies for use in the business operations. This sub-subparagraph does not apply to an agent-driver or a commission-driver and does not apply to sideline sales activities performed on behalf of a person other than the salesperson's principal.

4. The services described in subparagraph 3. are employment subject to this chapter only if:

a. The contract of service contemplates that substantially all of the services are to be performed personally by the individual;

b. The individual does not have a substantial investment in facilities used in connection with the services, other than facilities used for transportation; and

c. The services are not in the nature of a single transaction that is not part of a continuing relationship with the person for whom the services are performed.

Section 15. Effective upon becoming a law and applying retroactively to April 1, 2020, present paragraphs (f) through (k) of subsection (3) of section 443.131, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as paragraphs (g) through (l), respectively, a new paragraph (f) is added to that subsection, and paragraphs (b) and (e) of that subsection are amended, to read:

443.131 Contributions.—

(3) VARIATION OF CONTRIBUTION RATES BASED ON BENEFIT EXPERIENCE.—

(b) Benefit ratio.—

1. As used in this paragraph, the term “annual payroll” means the calendar quarter taxable payroll reported to the tax collection service provider for the quarters used in computing the benefit ratio. The term does not include a penalty resulting from the untimely filing of required wage and tax reports. All of the taxable payroll reported to the tax collection service provider by the end of the quarter preceding the quarter for which the contribution rate is to be computed must be used in the computation.

2. As used in this paragraph, the term “benefits charged to the employer’s employment record” means the amount of benefits paid to individuals multiplied by:

- a. For benefits paid prior to July 1, 2007, 1.
- b. For benefits paid during the period beginning on July 1, 2007, and ending March 31, 2011, 0.90.
- c. For benefits paid after March 31, 2011, 1.
- d. For benefits paid during the period beginning April 1, 2020, and ending December 31, 2020, 0.
- e. For benefits paid during the period beginning January 1, 2021, and ending June 30, 2021, 1, except as otherwise adjusted in accordance with paragraph (f).

3. For each calendar year, the tax collection service provider shall compute a benefit ratio for each employer whose employment record was chargeable for benefits during the 12 consecutive quarters ending June 30 of the calendar year preceding the calendar year for which the benefit ratio is computed. An employer’s benefit ratio is the quotient obtained by dividing the total benefits charged to the employer’s employment record during the 3-year period ending June 30 of the preceding calendar year by the total of the employer’s annual payroll for the 3-year period ending June 30 of the preceding calendar year. The benefit ratio shall be computed to the fifth decimal place and rounded to the fourth decimal place.

4. The tax collection service provider shall compute a benefit ratio for each employer who was not previously eligible under subparagraph 3., whose contribution rate is set at the initial contribution rate in paragraph (2)(a), and whose employment record was chargeable for benefits during at least 8 calendar quarters immediately preceding the calendar quarter for which the benefit ratio is computed. The employer’s benefit ratio is the quotient obtained by dividing the total benefits charged to the employer’s employment record during the first 6 of the 8 completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the calendar quarter for which the benefit ratio is computed by the total of the employer’s annual payroll during the first 7 of the 9 completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the calendar quarter for which the benefit ratio is computed. The benefit ratio shall be computed to the fifth decimal place and rounded to the fourth decimal place and applies for the remainder of the calendar year. The employer must subsequently be rated on an annual basis using up to 12 calendar quarters of benefits charged and up to 12 calendar quarters of annual payroll. That employer’s benefit ratio is the quotient obtained by dividing the total benefits charged to the employer’s employment record by the total of the employer’s annual payroll during the quarters used in his or her first computation plus the subsequent quarters reported through June 30 of the preceding calendar year. Each subsequent calendar year, the rate shall be computed under subparagraph 3. The tax collection service provider shall assign a variation from the standard rate of contributions in paragraph (c) on a quarterly basis to each eligible employer in the same manner as an assignment for a calendar year under paragraph (e).

(e) Assignment of variations from the standard rate.—

1. As used in this paragraph, the terms “total benefit payments,” “benefits paid to an individual,” and “benefits charged to the employment record of an employer” mean the amount of benefits paid to individuals multiplied by:

- a. For benefits paid prior to July 1, 2007, 1.
- b. For benefits paid during the period beginning on July 1, 2007, and ending March 31, 2011, 0.90.
- c. For benefits paid after March 31, 2011, 1.
- d. For benefits paid during the period beginning April 1, 2020, and ending December 31, 2020, 0.
- e. For benefits paid during the period beginning January 1, 2021, and ending June 30, 2021, 1, except as otherwise adjusted in accordance with paragraph (f).

2. For the calculation of contribution rates effective January 1, 2012, and thereafter:

a. The tax collection service provider shall assign a variation from the standard rate of contributions for each calendar year to each eligible employer. In determining the contribution rate, varying from the standard rate to be assigned each employer, adjustment factors computed under sub-sub-paragraphs (I)-(IV) are added to the benefit ratio. This addition shall be accomplished in two steps by adding a variable adjustment factor and a final adjustment factor. The sum of these adjustment factors computed under sub-sub-paragraphs (I)-(IV) shall first be algebraically summed. The sum of these adjustment factors shall next be divided by a gross benefit ratio determined as follows: Total benefit payments for the 3-year period described in subparagraph (b)3. are charged to employers eligible for a variation from the standard rate, minus excess payments for the same period, divided by taxable payroll entering into the computation of individual benefit ratios for the calendar year for which the contribution rate is being computed. The ratio of the sum of the adjustment factors computed under sub-sub-paragraphs (I)-(IV) to the gross benefit ratio is multiplied by each individual benefit ratio that is less than the maximum contribution rate to obtain variable adjustment factors; except that if the sum of an employer’s individual benefit ratio and variable adjustment factor exceeds the maximum contribution rate, the variable adjustment factor is reduced in order for the sum to equal the maximum contribution rate. The variable adjustment factor for each of these employers is multiplied by his or her taxable payroll entering into the computation of his or her benefit ratio. The sum of these products is divided by the taxable payroll of the employers who entered into the computation of their benefit ratios. The resulting ratio is subtracted from the sum of the adjustment factors computed under sub-sub-paragraphs (I)-(IV) to obtain the final adjustment factor. The variable adjustment factors and the final adjustment factor must be computed to five decimal places and rounded to the fourth decimal place. This final adjustment factor is added to the variable adjustment factor and benefit ratio of each employer to obtain each employer’s contribution rate. An employer’s contribution rate may not, however, be rounded to less than 0.1 percent. In determining the contribution rate, varying from the standard rate to be assigned, the computation shall exclude any benefit that is excluded by the multipliers under subparagraph (b)2. and subparagraph 1. The computation of the contribution rate, varying from the standard rate to be assigned, shall also exclude any benefit paid as a result of a governmental order related to COVID-19 to close or reduce capacity of a business. In addition, the contribution rate for the 2021 and 2022 calendar years shall be calculated without the application of the positive adjustment factor in sub-sub-paragraph (III).

(I) An adjustment factor for noncharge benefits is computed to the fifth decimal place and rounded to the fourth decimal place by dividing the amount of noncharge benefits during the 3-year period described in subparagraph (b)3. by the taxable payroll of employers eligible for a variation from the standard rate who have a benefit ratio for the current year which is less than the maximum contribution rate. For purposes of computing this adjustment factor, the taxable payroll of these employers is the taxable payrolls for the 3 years ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of the same calendar year. As used in this sub-sub-paragraph, the term “noncharge benefits” means benefits paid to an individual, as adjusted pursuant to subparagraph (b)2. and subparagraph 1., from the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund, ~~but~~ which were not charged to the employment record of any employer, but excluding any benefit paid as a result of a governmental order related to COVID-19 to close or reduce capacity of a business.

(II) An adjustment factor for excess payments is computed to the fifth decimal place, and rounded to the fourth decimal place by dividing the total excess payments during the 3-year period described in subparagraph (b)3. by the taxable payroll of employers eligible for a variation from the standard rate who have a benefit ratio for the current year which is less than the maximum contribution rate. For purposes of computing this adjustment factor, the taxable payroll of these employers is the same figure used to compute the adjustment factor for noncharge benefits under sub-sub-paragraph (I). As used in this sub-sub-paragraph, the term “excess payments” means the amount of benefits charged to the employment record of an employer, as adjusted pursuant to subparagraph (b)2. and subparagraph 1., during the 3-year period described in subparagraph (b)3., but excluding any benefit paid as a result of a governmental order related to COVID-19 to close or reduce capacity of a business, less the product of the maximum contribution rate and the employer’s taxable payroll for the 3 years ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of the same calendar year. As used in this sub-sub-paragraph, the term “total excess payments” means the sum of the individual employer excess payments for those employers that were eligible for assignment of a contribution rate different from the standard rate.

(III) With respect to computing a positive adjustment factor:

(A) Beginning January 1, 2012, if the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund on September 30 of the calendar year immediately preceding the calendar year for which the contribution rate is being computed is less than 4 percent of the taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year, a positive adjustment factor shall be computed. The positive adjustment factor is computed annually to the fifth decimal place and rounded to the fourth decimal place by dividing the sum of the total taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year into a sum equal to one-fifth of the difference between the balance of the fund as of September 30 of that calendar year and the sum of 5 percent of the total taxable payrolls for that year. The positive adjustment factor remains in effect for subsequent years until the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund as of September 30 of the year immediately preceding the effective date of the contribution rate equals or exceeds 4 percent of the taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year.

(B) Beginning January 1, 2018, and for each year thereafter, the positive adjustment shall be computed by dividing the sum of the total taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year into a sum equal to one-fourth of the difference between the balance of the fund as of September 30 of that calendar year and the sum of 5 percent of the total taxable payrolls for that year. The positive adjustment factor remains in effect for subsequent years until the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund as of September 30 of the year immediately preceding the effective date of the contribution rate equals or exceeds 4 percent of the taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year.

(IV) If, beginning January 1, 2015, and each year thereafter, the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund as of September 30 of the year immediately preceding the calendar year for which the contribution rate is being computed exceeds 5 percent of the taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year, a negative adjustment factor must be computed.

The negative adjustment factor shall be computed annually beginning on January 1, 2015, and each year thereafter, to the fifth decimal place and rounded to the fourth decimal place by dividing the sum of the total taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of the calendar year into a sum equal to one-fourth of the difference between the balance of the fund as of September 30 of the current calendar year and 5 percent of the total taxable payrolls of that year. The negative adjustment factor remains in effect for subsequent years until the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund as of September 30 of the year immediately preceding the effective date of the contribution rate is less than 5 percent, but more than 4 percent of the taxable payrolls for the year ending June 30 of the current calendar year as reported to the tax collection service provider by September 30 of that calendar year. The negative adjustment authorized by this section is suspended in any calendar year in which repayment of the principal amount of an advance received from the federal Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund under 42 U.S.C. s. 1321 is due to the Federal Government.

(V) The maximum contribution rate that may be assigned to an employer is 5.4 percent, except employers participating in an approved short-time compensation plan may be assigned a maximum contribution rate that is 1 percent greater than the maximum contribution rate for other employers in any calendar year in which short-time compensation benefits are charged to the employer’s employment record.

(VI) As used in this subsection, “taxable payroll” shall be determined by excluding any part of the remuneration paid to an individual by an employer for employment during a calendar year in excess of the first $7,000. Beginning January 1, 2012, “taxable payroll” shall be determined by excluding any part of the remuneration paid to an individual by an employer for employment during a calendar year as described in s. 443.1217(2). For the purposes of the employer rate calculation that will take effect in January 1, 2012, and in January 1, 2013, the tax collection service provider shall use the data available for taxable payroll from 2009 based on excluding any part of the remuneration paid to an individual by an employer for employment during a calendar year in excess of the first $7,000, and from 2010 and 2011, the data available for taxable payroll based on excluding any part of the remuneration paid to an individual by an employer for employment during a calendar year in excess of the first $8,500.

b. If the transfer of an employer’s employment record to an employing unit under paragraph (g) ~~(h)~~ which, before the transfer, was an employer, the tax collection service provider shall recompute a benefit ratio for the successor employer based on the combined employment records and reassign an appropriate contribution rate to the successor employer effective on the first day of the calendar quarter immediately after the effective date of the transfer.

3. The tax collection service provider shall reissue rates for the 2021 calendar year. However, an employer shall continue to timely file its employer’s quarterly reports and pay the contributions due in a timely manner in accordance with the rules of the Department of Economic Opportunity. The Department of Revenue shall post the revised rates on its website to enable employers to securely review the revised rates. For contributions for the first quarter of the 2021 calendar year, if any employer remits to the tax collection service provider an amount in excess of the amount that would be due as calculated pursuant to this paragraph, the tax collection service provider shall refund the excess amount from the amount erroneously collected. Notwithstanding s. 443.141(6), refunds issued through August 31, 2021, for first quarter 2021 contributions must be paid from the General Revenue Fund.

4. The tax collection service provider shall calculate and assign contribution rates effective January 1, 2022, through December 31, 2022, excluding any benefit charge that is excluded by the multipliers under subparagraph (b)2. and subparagraph 1.; without the application of the positive adjustment factor in sub-sub-paragraph 2.a.(III); and without the inclusion of any benefit charge directly related to COVID-19 as a result of a governmental order to close or reduce capacity of a business, as determined by the Department of Economic Opportunity, for each employer who is eligible for a variation from the standard rate pursuant to paragraph (d). The Department of Economic Opportunity shall provide the tax collection service provider with all necessary benefit charge information by August 1, 2021, including specific information for adjustments related to COVID-19 charges resulting from a governmental order to close or reduce capacity of a business, to enable the tax collection service provider to calculate and issue tax rates effective January 1, 2022. The tax collection service provider shall calculate and post rates for the 2022 calendar year by March 1, 2022.

5. Subject to subparagraph 6., the tax collection service provider shall calculate and assign contribution rates effective January 1, 2023, through December 31, 2025, excluding any benefit charge that is excluded by the multipliers under subparagraph (b)2. and subparagraph 1.; without the application of the positive adjustment factor in sub-subparagraph 2.a.(III); and without the inclusion of any benefit charge directly related to COVID-19 as a result of a governmental order to close or reduce capacity of a business, as determined by the Department of Economic Opportunity, for each employer who is eligible for a variation from the standard rate pursuant to paragraph (d). The Department of Economic Opportunity shall provide the tax collection service provider with all necessary benefit charge information by August 1 of each year, including specific information for adjustments related to COVID-19 charges resulting from a governmental order to close or reduce capacity of a business, to enable the tax collection service provider to calculate and issue tax rates effective the following January.

6. If the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund on June 30 of any year exceeds $4,071,519,600, subparagraph 5. is repealed for rates effective the following years. The Office of Economic and Demographic Research shall advise the tax collection service provider of the balance of the trust fund on June 30 by August 1 of that year. After the repeal of subparagraph 5. and notwithstanding the dates specified in that subparagraph, the tax collection service provider shall calculate and assign contribution rates for each subsequent calendar year as otherwise provided in this section.

(f) Adjustment in benefit ratio multiplier.—For purposes of calculating the benefits charged for the period beginning January 1, 2021, and ending June 30, 2021, pursuant to sub-subparagraphs (b)2.e. and (e)1.e., the amount of benefits paid to individuals shall be multiplied by 1, unless such calculation results in estimated total contributions of more than $475.5 million for calendar year 2022 as estimated by the Office of Economic and Demographic Research, based on the preliminary 2022 computed rate. If the estimated total contributions calculated are more than $475.5 million, the multiplier in sub-subparagraphs (b)2.e. and (e)1.e. shall be reduced by increments of 0.05 until the estimated total contributions are $475.5 million or less. The Office of Economic and Demographic Research shall provide the incremental reduction, if any, to the tax collection service provider by January 1, 2022.

Section 16. Subsection (1) of section 443.191, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

443.191 Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund; establishment and control.—

- (b) Interest earned on any moneys in the fund;
- (c) Any property or securities acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund;

212.04 Admissions tax; rate, procedure, enforcement.—

(b) For the exercise of such privilege, a tax is levied at the rate of 6 percent of sales price, or the actual value received from such admissions, which 6 percent shall be added to and collected with all such admissions from the purchaser thereof, and such tax shall be paid for the exercise of the privilege as defined in the preceding paragraph. Each ticket must show on its face the actual sales price of the admission, or each dealer selling the admission must prominently display at the box office or other place where the admission charge is made a notice disclosing the price of the admission, and the tax shall be computed and collected on the basis of the actual price of the admission charged by the dealer. The sale price or actual value of admission shall, for the purpose of this chapter, be that price remaining after deduction of federal taxes and state or locally imposed or authorized seat surcharges, taxes, or fees, if any, imposed upon such admission. The sale price or actual value does not include separately stated ticket service charges that are imposed by a facility ticket office or a ticketing service and added to a separately stated, established ticket price. The rate of tax on each admission shall be according to the algorithm provided in s. 212.12 ~~brackets established by s. 212.12(9).~~

Section 19. Subsection (3) of section 213.015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

213.015 Taxpayer rights.—There is created a Florida Taxpayer's Bill of Rights to guarantee that the rights, privacy, and property of Florida taxpayers are adequately safeguarded and protected during tax assessment, collection, and enforcement processes administered under the revenue laws of this state. The Taxpayer's Bill of Rights compiles, in one document, brief but comprehensive statements which explain, in simple, nontechnical terms, the rights and obligations of the Department of Revenue and taxpayers. Section 192.0105 provides additional rights afforded to payors of property taxes and assessments. The rights afforded taxpayers to ensure that their privacy and property are safeguarded and protected during tax assessment and collection are available only insofar as they are implemented in other parts of the Florida Statutes or rules of the Department of Revenue. The rights so guaranteed Florida taxpayers in the Florida Statutes and the departmental rules are:

(3) The right to be represented or advised by counsel or other qualified representatives at any time in administrative interactions with the department, the right to procedural safeguards with respect to recording of interviews during tax determination or collection processes conducted by the department, the right to be treated in a professional manner by department personnel, and the right to have audits, inspections of records, and interviews conducted at a reasonable time and place except in criminal and internal investigations (see ss. 198.06, 199.218, 201.11(1), 203.02, 206.14, 211.125(3), 211.33(3), 212.0305(3), 212.12(5)(a), (6)(a), and (12) ~~(13)~~, 212.13(5), 213.05, 213.21(1)(a) and (c), and 213.34).

Section 20. (1) For the period of July 1, 2021, through September 30, 2021, a taxpayer may calculate the tax due under chapter 212, Florida Statutes, by applying s. 212.12, Florida Statutes, as amended by this act, or by applying the appropriate bracket system pursuant to former s. 212.12, Florida Statutes 2020.

(2) This section does not establish a right to a refund or credit of taxes already paid.

(3) This section is repealed October 1, 2021.

Section 21. Subsection (5) of section 213.27, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

213.27 Contracts with debt collection agencies and certain vendors.—

(5) The department may, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of or collecting any taxes due from a person making or facilitating remote sales under s. 212.0596 or s. 212.05965 ~~doing mail order business~~ in this state, contract with any auditing agency doing business within or without this state for the purpose of conducting an audit of such person ~~mail order business~~; however, such audit agency may not conduct an audit on behalf of the department of any person domiciled in this state, person registered for sales and use tax purposes in this state, or corporation filing a Florida corporate tax return, if any such person or corporation objects to such audit in writing to the department and the auditing agency. The department shall notify the taxpayer by mail at least 30 days before the department assigns the collection of such taxes.

Section 22. For the purpose of incorporating the amendment made by this act to section 212.054, Florida Statutes, in references thereto, paragraph (c) of subsection (2), paragraph (c) of subsection (3), paragraph (c) of subsection (8), and paragraph (c) of subsection (9) of section 212.055, Florida Statutes, are reenacted to read:

212.055 Discretionary sales surtaxes; legislative intent; authorization and use of proceeds.—It is the legislative intent that any authorization for imposition of a discretionary sales surtax shall be published in the Florida Statutes as a subsection of this section, irrespective of the duration of the levy. Each enactment shall specify the types of counties authorized to levy; the rate or rates which may be imposed; the maximum length of time the surtax may be imposed, if any; the procedure which must be followed to secure voter approval, if required; the purpose for which the proceeds may be expended; and such other requirements as the Legislature may provide. Taxable transactions and administrative procedures shall be as provided in s. 212.054.

(2) LOCAL GOVERNMENT INFRASTRUCTURE SURTAX.—

(c) Pursuant to s. 212.054(4), the proceeds of the surtax levied under this subsection shall be distributed to the county and the municipalities within such county in which the surtax was collected, according to:

1. An interlocal agreement between the county governing authority and the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county's municipal population, which agreement may include a school district with the consent of the county governing authority and the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county's municipal population; or

2. If there is no interlocal agreement, according to the formula provided in s. 218.62.

Any change in the distribution formula must take effect on the first day of any month that begins at least 60 days after written notification of that change has been made to the department.

(3) SMALL COUNTY SURTAX.—

(c) Pursuant to s. 212.054(4), the proceeds of the surtax levied under this subsection shall be distributed to the county and the municipalities within the county in which the surtax was collected, according to:

1. An interlocal agreement between the county governing authority and the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county's municipal population, which agreement may include a school district with the consent of the county governing authority and the governing bodies of the municipalities representing a majority of the county's municipal population; or

2. If there is no interlocal agreement, according to the formula provided in s. 218.62.

Any change in the distribution formula shall take effect on the first day of any month that begins at least 60 days after written notification of that change has been made to the department.

(8) EMERGENCY FIRE RESCUE SERVICES AND FACILITIES SURTAX.—

(c) Pursuant to s. 212.054(4), the proceeds of the discretionary sales surtax collected under this subsection, less an administrative fee that may be retained by the Department of Revenue, shall be distributed by the department to the county. The county shall distribute the proceeds it receives from the department to each local government entity providing emergency fire rescue services in the county. The surtax proceeds, less an administrative fee not to exceed 2 percent of the surtax collected, shall be distributed by the county based on each entity's average annual expenditures for fire control and emergency fire rescue services in the 5 fiscal years preceding the fiscal year in which the surtax takes effect in proportion to the average annual total of the expenditures for such entities in the 5 fiscal years preceding the fiscal year in which the surtax takes effect. The county shall revise the distribution proportions to reflect a change in the service area of an entity receiving a distribution of the surtax proceeds. If an entity declines its share of surtax revenue, such revenue shall be redistributed proportionally to the entities that are participating in the sharing of such revenue based on each participating entity's average annual expenditures for fire control and emergency fire rescue services in the preceding 5 fiscal years in proportion to the average annual total of the expenditures for the participating entities in the preceding 5 fiscal years.

(9) PENSION LIABILITY SURTAX.—

(c) Pursuant to s. 212.054(4), the proceeds of the surtax collected under this subsection, less an administrative fee that may be retained by the department, shall be distributed by the department to the local government.

Section 23. This act first applies to remote sales made or facilitated on or after July 1, 2021, by a person who made or facilitated a substantial number of remote sales in calendar year 2020. A marketplace seller shall consider only those sales made outside of a marketplace to determine whether it made a substantial number of remote sales in calendar year 2020.

Section 24. (1) A person subject to the requirements of this act to collect and remit the tax under chapter 212, Florida Statutes, on remote sales is relieved of liability for tax, penalty, and interest due on remote sales that occurred before July 1, 2021, provided that the person registers with the department before October 1, 2021. This subsection is also intended to provide relief to a marketplace seller for remote sales made before July 1, 2021, which were facilitated by a marketplace provider. For a marketplace provider with a physical presence in this state, this subsection is intended to provide relief only for sales facilitated by the marketplace provider on behalf of a marketplace seller. This subsection does not apply to a person who is under audit; has been issued a bill, notice, or demand for payment; or is under an administrative or judicial proceeding as of July 1, 2021.

(2) The department may not use data received from registered marketplace providers or persons making remote sales for the purposes of identifying use tax liabilities occurring before July 1, 2021, from unregistered persons who but for their purchases from the registered taxpayer would not be required to remit sales or use tax directly to the department. This subsection does not apply to a person who is under audit; has been issued a bill, notice, or demand for payment; or is under an administrative or judicial proceeding as of July 1, 2021.

(3) This section does not establish a right to a refund or credit of taxes already paid.

Section 25. (1) The Department of Revenue is authorized, and all conditions are deemed met, to adopt emergency rules pursuant to s. 120.54(4), Florida Statutes, for the purpose of administering this act.

(2) Notwithstanding any other law, emergency rules adopted pursuant to subsection (1) are effective for 6 months after adoption and may be renewed during the pendency of procedures to adopt permanent rules addressing the subject of the emergency rules.

(3) This section shall take effect upon this act becoming a law and expires July 1, 2023.

Section 26. Notwithstanding s. 287.057, Florida Statutes, the Department of Revenue is authorized to contract with a qualified vendor to provide services necessary to administer this act without using a competitive solicitation process. The authority granted to the Department of Revenue by this section applies solely to the implementation and administration of this act and may not be used for any other purpose. Such authority ends, and any contract entered into pursuant to this section still in force becomes void, upon the expiration of this section. This section expires June 30, 2023.

Section 27. For the 2020-2021 fiscal year, the sum of $353,000 in nonrecurring funds is appropriated from the General Revenue Fund to the Department of Revenue for the purpose of implementing this act. Funds remaining unexpended or unencumbered from this appropriation as of June 30, 2021, shall revert and be reappropriated for the same purpose in the 2021-2022 fiscal year.

Section 28. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Section 29. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act and except for this section, which shall take effect upon this act becoming a law, this act shall take effect July 1, 2021.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Farmer raised a point of order that pursuant to Article VII, Section 19 of the Florida Constitution, CS for CS for SB 50 required a supermajority vote to impose, authorize, or raise state taxes or fees and was therefore out of order. The President referred the point of order to Senator Passidomo, Chair of the Committee on Rules.

RULING ON POINT OF ORDER

Senator Passidomo, Chair of the Committee on Rules, clarified that Senator Farmer made a parliamentary inquiry rather than raising a point of order.

Senator Farmer asserts that the bill imposes a new tax that is subject to the provisions of Article VII, Section 19 of the Florida Constitution, which requires new or increased taxes to be passed by a two-thirds vote in a separate bill that contains no other subject.

All throughout the committee process, the staff analysis clearly states the requirements of Article VII, Section 19: “Since 1990, Florida has required dealers who transact mail order sales to collect Florida’s sales tax when the activities of the dealer have sufficient connection with this state to create nexus under the U.S. Commerce Clause.” The analysis concludes that the bill neither imposes a tax where none was due before nor does it increase the amount of a current state tax. Rather, the bill updates Florida’s mail order statute to align with U.S. Commerce Clause limitations as redefined by the U.S. Supreme Court in its 2018 Wayfair decision.

As such, the bill does not appear to trigger the requirements of Article VII, Section 19 of the Florida Constitution. On recommendation by Senator Passidomo, Chair of the Committee on Rules, the extraordinary vote requirement raised by Senator Farmer does not apply.

The President ruled the parliamentary question was answered and accepted the interpretation of the constitutional matter provided by the Rules Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Reverend Margaret Fox, First Presbyterian Church, Tallahassee:

Almighty God, we thank you for this day, for this chance to gather, and for this charge to serve the public interest and uphold the public trust. We pray today for the men and women of the Florida Senate. Give them ears to listen, minds to think, hearts to love, and hands to act. Sober them, center them, and remind them of their purpose and their calling. Give them wisdom and courage to know and to do what is right. Help them work together, and help them serve the people of this state.

We pray today for all the people who support this legislative body, for all those present here today, in person or online. We pray for staffers and aides, lobbyists and activists, concerned citizens and custodial staff, proofreaders and parliamentarians, security professionals and journalists, and camera operators and cafeteria workers. We thank you for their work. Help them to do it well. And, we pray today for the people of Florida.

In all matters that are before this body, bless us. Bless us in our education, our employment, our transportation, our recreation, our healthcare, and our family life. Bless us when we're at our best, and help us when we're at our worst. Awaken the better angels of our nature. Help us to love and honor one another. Help us to live the best lives we can. We pray all of this in your holy name. Amen.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Perry—

By Senator Perry—

SR 618—A resolution recognizing May 10, 2021, and each May 10 thereafter, as “First Responders Mental Health Awareness Day” in Florida.

WHEREAS, Florida is home to a large community of first responders, including law enforcement officers, firefighters, emergency medical service professionals, emergency medical technicians, and paramedics, who work tirelessly on behalf of the people of this state, often without regard to the peril to their own well-being, and

WHEREAS, while mental health problems can affect people of all ages and walks of life, first responders are at a higher risk than the general population of suffering mental health issues due to the challenging nature of their duties, and

WHEREAS, research frequently describes shame and stigma surrounding mental health care needs within a profession that prioritizes bravery and toughness, and

WHEREAS, while this culture is, perhaps, necessary to survive the dangers of the job, it also contributes to the phenomenon of first responders not seeking help to manage chronic stress or trauma injury, or not even recognizing the need before it becomes critical, and

WHEREAS, we also must recognize that the COVID-19 pandemic represents one of the biggest challenges in modern times, especially to our first responders, as they face increased workloads as they adapt to policing and emergency response models in a pandemic, compounding the dynamic nature of first responder stress and fatigue at a time when health, wellness, and resiliency are more critical than ever, and

WHEREAS, police, firefighters, and emergency medical personnel pay a high price for their prompt response to the needs of others, and

WHEREAS, we owe a great debt to our first responders and will continue to work to improve their mental health care, their lives, and the lives of their families, no matter the week or month, and

WHEREAS, we salute all of our heroes risking their lives to protect us all, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That May 10, 2021, and each May 10 thereafter, is recognized as “First Responders Mental Health Awareness Day” in Florida.

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

At the request of Senator Jones—

By Senator Jones—

SR 2026—A resolution recognizing April 1, 2021, as “FAMU Day” in Florida.

WHEREAS, Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (FAMU) was founded in 1887, named a land-grant institution in 1891, and designated a university in 1953, and

WHEREAS, FAMU, a historically black college and university (HBCU) offering undergraduate, graduate, postgraduate, and professional degree programs, seeks qualified students from all racial, ethnic, religious, and national groups and provides immeasurable educational opportunities for young men and women, and

WHEREAS, academic components of the university consist of seven colleges and seven schools: the Colleges of Agriculture and Food Sciences; Education; Engineering; Law; Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences; Science and Technology; and Social Sciences, Arts, and Humanities and the Schools of Allied Health Sciences; Architecture and Engineering Technology; Business and Industry; the Environment; Graduate Studies and Research; Journalism and Graphic Communication; and Nursing, and

WHEREAS, under the dedicated leadership of President Larry Robinson, Ph.D., and the FAMU Board of Trustees, FAMU is laser-focused on providing an exceptional student experience and ranks first among public HBCUs for the second consecutive year according to the U.S. News & World Report 2021 Best Colleges Ranking of Top Public Universities, and

WHEREAS, FAMU is the leading producer of African-American graduates in several disciplines at the baccalaureate, professional, and graduate levels and is ranked as a top STEM HBCU for science, technology, engineering, and math majors, and

WHEREAS, since April 25, 2020, FAMU’s Bragg Stadium has served as a free COVID-19 testing site for the Big Bend community, providing more than 250,000 tests and helping to address vaccine hesitancy, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That, in recognition of Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University’s contributions as an outstanding institution of higher education, April 1, 2021, is recognized as “FAMU Day” in Florida.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Major Carlyle Gargis, Salvation Army of Lee, Hendry, and Glades Counties, Fort Myers:

God our Father and divine author of creation, in this season of rebirth and new life, we turn to you in these times of challenge. Lord, protect our elderly and the vulnerable. Provide for those who need help, hope, and home. Help us as a body to be a beacon of leadership and inspiration for those who suffer in these harsh times.

Today, as we gather as members of the Florida Senate, you remind us that we, as servant leaders, need to listen to your word and your example. Under the leadership of our Senate President and the members of this body, give these, your servants, the inspiration to enact laws and policies to ensure the health, peace, and prosperity of all Floridians. Together with our colleagues in the House and our local partners in government, help us to make prudent and faith-filled decisions that will provide the needed resources. Bless the first responders and the heroic work of all men and women who have answered the call to service during this pandemic—unheralded heroes who demonstrate the beauty and mercy that comes from you.

In a special way, we remember all of the members of the Florida Senate gathered here in this chamber during these challenging times. Give them the guidance of your will as they seek to provide leadership, opportunity, and progress for the people of this great state. In your holy name, we pray. Amen.

WHEREAS, in 2009, George H. Starke, Jr., was awarded the University of Florida's Distinguished Alumnus Award, and, in 2019, 61 years after he had first entered the law school, Mr. Starke received the most notable recognition, the honorary Doctorate of Laws, from the Levin College of Law, and

Senator Rodrigues moved the following amendment which was adopted:

Amendment 1 (132074)—Delete lines 115-323 and insert:

(c) A vulnerability assessment conducted pursuant to paragraph (b) must encompass the entire county or municipality; include all critical assets owned or maintained by the grant applicant; and use the most recent publicly available Digital Elevation Model and generally accepted analysis and modeling techniques. An assessment may encompass a smaller geographic area or include only a portion of the critical assets owned or maintained by the grant applicant with appropriate rationale and upon approval by the department. Locally collected elevation data may also be included as part of the assessment as long as it is submitted to the department pursuant to this paragraph.

1. The assessment must include an analysis of the vulnerability of and risks to critical assets, including regionally significant assets, owned or managed by the county or municipality.

2. Upon completion of a vulnerability assessment, the county or municipality shall submit to the department the following:

a. A report detailing the findings of the assessment.

b. All electronic mapping data used to illustrate flooding and sea level rise impacts identified in the assessment. When submitting such data, the county or municipality shall include:

(I) Geospatial data in an electronic file format suitable for input to the department's mapping tool.

(II) Geographic information system data that has been projected into the appropriate Florida State Plane Coordinate System and that is suitable for the department's mapping tool. The county or municipality must also submit metadata using standards prescribed by the department.

c. A list of critical assets, including regionally significant assets, that are impacted by flooding and sea level rise.

(d) A vulnerability assessment conducted pursuant to paragraph (b) must include all of the following, if applicable:

1. Peril of flood comprehensive plan amendments that address the requirements of s. 163.3178(2)(f), if the county or municipality is subject to such requirements and has not complied with such requirements as determined by the Department of Economic Opportunity.

2. The depth of:

a. Tidal flooding, including future high tide flooding, which must use thresholds published and provided by the department. To the extent practicable, the analysis should also geographically display the number of tidal flood days expected for each scenario and planning horizon.

b. Current and future storm surge flooding using publicly available National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration or Federal Emergency Management Agency storm surge data. The initial storm surge event used must equal or exceed the current 100-year flood event. Higher frequency storm events may be analyzed to understand the exposure of a critical asset.

c. To the extent practicable, rainfall-induced flooding using spatio-temporal analysis or existing hydrologic and hydraulic modeling results. Future boundary conditions should be modified to consider sea level rise and high tide conditions.

d. To the extent practicable, compound flooding or the combination of tidal, storm surge, and rainfall-induced flooding.

3. The following scenarios and standards:

a. All analyses in the North American Vertical Datum of 1988.

b. At least two local sea level rise scenarios, which must include the 2017 National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration intermediate-low and intermediate-high sea level rise projections.

c. At least two planning horizons that include planning horizons for the years 2040 and 2070.

d. Local sea level data that has been interpolated between the two closest National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration tide gauges. Local sea level data may be taken from one such gauge if the gauge has a higher mean sea level. Data taken from an alternate tide gauge may be used with appropriate rationale and department approval, as long as it is publicly available or submitted to the department pursuant to paragraph (b).

(4) COMPREHENSIVE STATEWIDE FLOOD VULNERABILITY AND SEA LEVEL RISE DATA SET AND ASSESSMENT.—

(a) By July 1, 2022, the department shall complete the development of a comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise data set sufficient to conduct a comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise assessment. In developing the data set, the department shall compile, analyze, and incorporate, as appropriate, information related to vulnerability assessments submitted to the department pursuant to subsection (3) or any previously completed assessments that meet the requirements of subsection (3).

1. The Chief Science Officer shall, in coordination with necessary experts and resources, develop statewide sea level rise projections that incorporate temporal and spatial variability, to the extent practicable, for inclusion in the data set. This subparagraph does not supersede regionally adopted projections.

2. The data set must include information necessary to determine the risks to inland and coastal communities, including, but not limited to, elevation, tidal levels, and precipitation.

(b) By July 1, 2023, the department shall complete a comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise assessment that identifies inland and coastal infrastructure, geographic areas, and communities in the state that are vulnerable to flooding and sea level rise and the associated risks.

1. The department shall use the comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise data set to conduct the assessment.

2. The assessment must incorporate local and regional analyses of vulnerabilities and risks, including, as appropriate, local mitigation strategies and postdisaster redevelopment plans.

3. The assessment must include an inventory of critical assets, including regionally significant assets, that are essential for critical government and business functions, national security, public health and safety, the economy, flood and storm protection, water quality management, and wildlife habitat management, and must identify and analyze the vulnerability of and risks to such critical assets. When identifying critical assets for inclusion in the assessment, the department shall also take into consideration the critical assets identified by local governments and submitted to the department pursuant to subsection (3).

(c) The department shall update the comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise data set and assessment every 5 years. The department may update the data set and assessment more frequently if it determines that updates are necessary to maintain the validity of the data set and assessment.

(5) STATEWIDE FLOODING AND SEA LEVEL RISE RESILIENCE PLAN.—

(a) By December 1, 2021, and each December 1 thereafter, the department shall develop a Statewide Flooding and Sea Level Rise Resilience Plan on a 3-year planning horizon and submit it to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The plan must consist of ranked projects that address risks of flooding and sea level rise to coastal and inland communities in the state.

(b) The plan submitted by December 1, 2021, before the comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise assessment is completed, will be a preliminary plan that addresses risks of flooding and sea level rise identified in available local government vulnerability assessments. The plan submitted by December 1, 2022, will be an update to the preliminary plan. The plan submitted by December 1, 2023, and each plan submitted by December 1 thereafter, shall address risks of flooding and sea level rise identified in the comprehensive statewide flood vulnerability and sea level rise assessment.

(c) Each plan submitted by the department pursuant to this subsection must include the following information for each recommended project:

1. A description of the project.
2. The location of the project.

A regional resilience entity may also submit such proposed projects to the department on behalf of one or more member counties or municipalities.*

2. By September 1, 2021, and each September 1 thereafter, each water management district and flood control district may submit to the department a list of any proposed projects that mitigate the risks of flooding or sea level rise on water supplies or water resources of the state and a corresponding evaluation of each project.

- d. An estimate of the cost of the project.
- e. The cost-share percentage available for the project.

f. The project sponsor.

(e) Each project included in the plan must have a minimum 50 percent cost-share unless the project assists or is within a financially disadvantaged small community. For purposes of this section, the term "financially disadvantaged small community" means:

1. A municipality that has a population of 10,000 or fewer, according to the most recent April 1 population estimates posted on the Office of Economic and Demographic Research's website, and a per capita annual income that is less than the state's per capita annual income as shown in the most recent release from the Bureau of the Census of the United States Department of Commerce that includes both measurements; or

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Ken Whitten, Idlewild Baptist Church, Lutz:

Dear Lord Jesus, on this day, when bills will be decided, and laws will be made, and decisions brought forth that will affect our everyday lives, may the men and women here in these chambers know that today they are being prayed for, and loved on, and given the honor of appreciation for their service to our communities and their great sacrifice that they make every day for the betterment of our state.

Lord, will you, this day, bring a spirit of unity in this Senate? But would you help us all, even today, to understand that even you would rather us be divided by truth than united in error. We pray for wisdom and integrity—that it would reign in every leader’s life on this day. May our goals today be simple—giving birth to ideas and laws that will keep our state safe, protect the weak, heal the broken, and encourage the downtrodden. May your word, Father, become the truth and guide for all of our decisions, and may all of us look to you for the last word.

We thank you for that word—that word that tells us what’s right, what’s not right, how to get right, and even how to stay right. It is that wisdom we ask for in this place—wisdom that James tells us is first pure, peaceable, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.

Lord, as we close this prayer, may we remember, and even repeat, what an old Anglican pastor said years ago, “What we know not, teach us; what we have not, give us; and what we are not, make us.” We pray this in the only mighty and exalted name that’s in heaven or on Earth, the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senator Boyd led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Dr. Ankush Bansal of Palm Beach Gardens, sponsored by Senator Berman, as the doctor of the day. Dr. Bansal specializes in internal medicine.

The purchaser removes a qualifying boat, as described in subparagraph f., from the state within 90 days after the date of purchase or extension, or the purchaser removes a nonqualifying boat or an aircraft from this state within 10 days after the date of purchase or, when the boat or aircraft is repaired or altered, within 20 days after completion of the repairs or alterations; or if the aircraft will be registered in a foreign jurisdiction and:

(I) Application for the aircraft's registration is properly filed with a civil airworthiness authority of a foreign jurisdiction within 10 days after the date of purchase;

(II) The purchaser removes the aircraft from the state to a foreign jurisdiction within 10 days after the date the aircraft is registered by the applicable foreign airworthiness authority; and

(III) The aircraft is operated in the state solely to remove it from the state to a foreign jurisdiction.

For purposes of this sub-subparagraph, the term "foreign jurisdiction" means any jurisdiction outside of the United States or any of its territories;

b. The purchaser, within 90 days from the date of departure, provides the department with written proof that the purchaser licensed, registered, titled, or documented the boat or aircraft outside the state. If such written proof is unavailable, within 90 days the purchaser shall provide proof that the purchaser applied for such license, title, registration, or documentation. The purchaser shall forward to the department proof of title, license, registration, or documentation upon receipt;

c. The purchaser, within 30 days after removing the boat or aircraft from Florida, furnishes the department with proof of removal in the form of receipts for fuel, dockage, slippage, tie-down, or hanging from outside of Florida. The information so provided must clearly and specifically identify the boat or aircraft;

d. The selling dealer, within 30 days after the date of sale, provides to the department a copy of the sales invoice, closing statement, bills of sale, and the original affidavit signed by the purchaser attesting that he or she has read the provisions of this section;

e. The seller makes a copy of the affidavit a part of his or her record for as long as required by s. 213.35; and

f. Unless the nonresident purchaser of a boat of 5 net tons of admeasurement or larger intends to remove the boat from this state within 10 days after the date of purchase or when the boat is repaired or altered, within 20 days after completion of the repairs or alterations, the nonresident purchaser applies to the selling dealer for a decal which authorizes 90 days after the date of purchase for removal of the boat. The nonresident purchaser of a qualifying boat may apply to the selling dealer within 60 days after the date of purchase for an extension decal that authorizes the boat to remain in this state for an additional 90 days, but not more than a total of 180 days, before the nonresident purchaser is required to pay the tax imposed by this chapter. The department is authorized to issue decals in advance to dealers. The number of decals issued in advance to a dealer shall be consistent with the volume of the dealer's past sales of boats which qualify under this sub-subparagraph. The selling dealer or his or her agent shall mark and affix the decals to qualifying boats in the manner prescribed by the department, before delivery of the boat.

(I) The department is hereby authorized to charge dealers a fee sufficient to recover the costs of decals issued, except the extension decal shall cost $425.

(II) The proceeds from the sale of decals will be deposited into the administrative trust fund.

(III) Decals shall display information to identify the boat as a qualifying boat under this sub-subparagraph, including, but not limited to, the decal's date of expiration.

(IV) The department is authorized to require dealers who purchase decals to file reports with the department and may prescribe all necessary records by rule. All such records are subject to inspection by the department.

(V) Any dealer or his or her agent who issues a decal falsely, fails to affix a decal, mismarks the expiration date of a decal, or fails to properly account for decals will be considered prima facie to have committed a fraudulent act to evade the tax and will be liable for payment of the tax plus a mandatory penalty of 200 percent of the tax, and shall be liable for fine and punishment as provided by law for a conviction of a misdemeanor of the first degree, as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(VI) Any nonresident purchaser of a boat who removes a decal before permanently removing the boat from the state, or defaces, changes, modifies, or alters a decal in a manner affecting its expiration date before its expiration, or who causes or allows the same to be done by another, will be considered prima facie to have committed a fraudulent act to evade the tax and will be liable for payment of the tax plus a mandatory penalty of 200 percent of the tax, and shall be liable for fine and punishment as provided by law for a conviction of a misdemeanor of the first degree, as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(VII) The department is authorized to adopt rules necessary to administer and enforce this subparagraph and to publish the necessary forms and instructions.

(VIII) The department is hereby authorized to adopt emergency rules pursuant to s. 120.54(4) to administer and enforce the provisions of this subparagraph.

If the purchaser fails to remove the qualifying boat from this state within the maximum 180 days after purchase or a nonqualifying boat or an aircraft from this state within 10 days after purchase or, when the boat or aircraft is repaired or altered, within 20 days after completion of such repairs or alterations, or permits the boat or aircraft to return to this state within 6 months from the date of departure, except as provided in s. 212.08(7)(fff), or if the purchaser fails to furnish the department with any of the documentation required by this subparagraph within the prescribed time period, the purchaser shall be liable for use tax on the cost price of the boat or aircraft and, in addition thereto, payment of a penalty to the Department of Revenue equal to the tax payable. This penalty shall be in lieu of the penalty imposed by s. 212.12(2). The maximum 180-day period following the sale of a qualifying boat tax-exempt to a nonresident may not be tolled for any reason.

(b) At the rate of 6 percent of the cost price of each item or article of tangible personal property when the same is not sold but is used, consumed, distributed, or stored for use or consumption in this state; however, for tangible property originally purchased exempt from tax for use exclusively for lease and which is converted to the owner's own use, tax may be paid on the fair market value of the property at the time of conversion. If the fair market value of the property cannot be determined, use tax at the time of conversion shall be based on the owner's acquisition cost. Under no circumstances may the aggregate amount of sales tax from leasing the property and use tax due at the time of conversion be less than the total sales tax that would have been due on the original acquisition cost paid by the owner.

(c) At the rate of 6 percent of the gross proceeds derived from the lease or rental of tangible personal property, as defined herein; however, the following special provisions apply to the lease or rental of motor vehicles:

1. When a motor vehicle is leased or rented for a period of less than 12 months:

a. If the motor vehicle is rented in Florida, the entire amount of such rental is taxable, even if the vehicle is dropped off in another state.

b. If the motor vehicle is rented in another state and dropped off in Florida, the rental is exempt from Florida tax.

2. Except as provided in subparagraph 3., for the lease or rental of a motor vehicle for a period of not less than 12 months, sales tax is due on the lease or rental payments if the vehicle is registered in this state; provided, however, that no tax shall be due if the taxpayer documents use of the motor vehicle outside this state and tax is being paid on the lease or rental payments in another state.

3. The tax imposed by this chapter does not apply to the lease or rental of a commercial motor vehicle as defined in s. 316.003(13)(a) to one lessee or rentee for a period of not less than 12 months when tax was paid on the purchase price of such vehicle by the lessor. To the extent tax was paid with respect to the purchase of such vehicle in another state, territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia, the Florida tax payable shall be reduced in accordance with the provisions of s. 212.06(7). This subparagraph shall only be available when the lease or rental of such property is an established business or part of an established business or the same is incidental or germane to such business.

(d) At the rate of 6 percent of the lease or rental price paid by a lessee or rentee, or contracted or agreed to be paid by a lessee or rentee, to the owner of the tangible personal property.

(e)1. At the rate of 6 percent on charges for:

a. Prepaid calling arrangements. The tax on charges for prepaid calling arrangements shall be collected at the time of sale and remitted by the selling dealer.

(I) "Prepaid calling arrangement" has the same meaning as provided in s. 202.11.

(II) If the sale or recharge of the prepaid calling arrangement does not take place at the dealer's place of business, it shall be deemed to have taken place at the customer's shipping address or, if no item is shipped, at the customer's address or the location associated with the customer's mobile telephone number.

(III) The sale or recharge of a prepaid calling arrangement shall be treated as a sale of tangible personal property for purposes of this chapter, regardless of whether a tangible item evidencing such arrangement is furnished to the purchaser, and such sale within this state subjects the selling dealer to the jurisdiction of this state for purposes of this subsection.

(IV) No additional tax under this chapter or chapter 202 is due or payable if a purchaser of a prepaid calling arrangement who has paid tax under this chapter on the sale or recharge of such arrangement applies one or more units of the prepaid calling arrangement to obtain communications services as described in s. 202.11(9)(b)3., other services that are not communications services, or products.

b. The installation of telecommunication and telegraphic equipment.

c. Electrical power or energy, except that the tax rate for charges for electrical power or energy is 4.35 percent. Charges for electrical power and energy do not include taxes imposed under ss. 166.231 and 203.01(1)(a)3.

2. Section 212.17(3), regarding credit for tax paid on charges subsequently found to be worthless, is equally applicable to any tax paid under this section on charges for prepaid calling arrangements, telecommunication or telegraph services, or electric power subsequently found to be uncollectible. As used in this paragraph, the term "charges"

does not include any excise or similar tax levied by the Federal Government, a political subdivision of this state, or a municipality upon the purchase, sale, or recharge of prepaid calling arrangements or upon the purchase or sale of telecommunication, television system program, or telegraph service or electric power, which tax is collected by the seller from the purchaser.

(f) At the rate of 6 percent on the sale, rental, use, consumption, or storage for use in this state of machines and equipment, and parts and accessories therefor, used in manufacturing, processing, compounding, producing, mining, or quarrying personal property for sale or to be used in furnishing communications, transportation, or public utility services.

(g)1. At the rate of 6 percent on the retail price of newspapers and magazines sold or used in Florida.

2. Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter, inserts of printed materials which are distributed with a newspaper or magazine are a component part of the newspaper or magazine, and neither the sale nor use of such inserts is subject to tax when:

a. Printed by a newspaper or magazine publisher or commercial printer and distributed as a component part of a newspaper or magazine, which means that the items after being printed are delivered directly to a newspaper or magazine publisher by the printer for inclusion in editions of the distributed newspaper or magazine;

b. Such publications are labeled as part of the designated newspaper or magazine publication into which they are to be inserted; and

c. The purchaser of the insert presents a resale certificate to the vendor stating that the inserts are to be distributed as a component part of a newspaper or magazine.

(h)1. A tax is imposed at the rate of 4 percent on the charges for the use of coin-operated amusement machines. The tax shall be calculated by dividing the gross receipts from such charges for the applicable reporting period by a divisor, determined as provided in this subparagraph, to compute gross taxable sales, and then subtracting gross taxable sales from gross receipts to arrive at the amount of tax due. For counties that do not impose a discretionary sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.04; for counties that impose a 0.5 percent discretionary sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.045; for counties that impose a 1 percent discretionary sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.050; and for counties that impose a 2 percent sales surtax, the divisor is equal to 1.060. If a county imposes a discretionary sales surtax that is not listed in this subparagraph, the department shall make the applicable divisor available in an electronic format or otherwise. Additional divisors shall bear the same mathematical relationship to the next higher and next lower divisors as the new surtax rate bears to the next higher and next lower surtax rates for which divisors have been established. When a machine is activated by a slug, token, coupon, or any similar device which has been purchased, the tax is on the price paid by the user of the device for such device.

2. As used in this paragraph, the term "operator" means any person who possesses a coin-operated amusement machine for the purpose of generating sales through that machine and who is responsible for removing the receipts from the machine.

a. If the owner of the machine is also the operator of it, he or she shall be liable for payment of the tax without any deduction for rent or a license fee paid to a location owner for the use of any real property on which the machine is located.

b. If the owner or lessee of the machine is also its operator, he or she shall be liable for payment of the tax on the purchase or lease of the machine, as well as the tax on sales generated through the machine.

c. If the proprietor of the business where the machine is located does not own the machine, he or she shall be deemed to be the lessee and operator of the machine and is responsible for the payment of the tax on sales, unless such responsibility is otherwise provided for in a written agreement between him or her and the machine owner.

3.a. An operator of a coin-operated amusement machine may not operate or cause to be operated in this state any such machine until the operator has registered with the department and has conspicuously displayed an identifying certificate issued by the department. The identifying certificate shall be issued by the department upon application from the operator. The identifying certificate shall include a unique number, and the certificate shall be permanently marked with the operator's name, the operator's sales tax number, and the maximum number of machines to be operated under the certificate. An identifying certificate shall not be transferred from one operator to another. The identifying certificate must be conspicuously displayed on the premises where the coin-operated amusement machines are being operated.

b. The operator of the machine must obtain an identifying certificate before the machine is first operated in the state and by July 1 of each year thereafter. The annual fee for each certificate shall be based on the number of machines identified on the application times $30 and is due and payable upon application for the identifying device. The application shall contain the operator's name, sales tax number, business address where the machines are being operated, and the number of machines in operation at that place of business by the operator. No operator may operate more machines than are listed on the certificate. A new certificate is required if more machines are being operated at that location than are listed on the certificate. The fee for the new certificate shall be based on the number of additional machines identified on the application form times $30.

c. A penalty of $250 per machine is imposed on the operator for failing to properly obtain and display the required identifying certificate. A penalty of $250 is imposed on the lessee of any machine placed in a place of business without a proper current identifying certificate. Such penalties shall apply in addition to all other applicable taxes, interest, and penalties.

d. Operators of coin-operated amusement machines must obtain a separate sales and use tax certificate of registration for each county in which such machines are located. One sales and use tax certificate of registration is sufficient for all of the operator's machines within a single county.

4. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to coin-operated amusement machines owned and operated by churches or synagogues.

5. In addition to any other penalties imposed by this chapter, a person who knowingly and willfully violates any provision of this paragraph commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

6. The department may adopt rules necessary to administer the provisions of this paragraph.

(i)1. At the rate of 6 percent on charges for all:

a. Detective, burglar protection, and other protection services (NAICS National Numbers 561611, 561612, 561613, and 561621). Fingerprint services required under s. 790.06 or s. 790.062 are not subject to the tax. Any law enforcement officer, as defined in s. 943.10, who is performing approved duties as determined by his or her local law enforcement agency in his or her capacity as a law enforcement officer, and who is subject to the direct and immediate command of his or her law enforcement agency, and in the law enforcement officer's uniform as authorized by his or her law enforcement agency, is performing law enforcement and public safety services and is not performing detective, burglar protection, or other protective services, if the law enforcement officer is performing his or her approved duties in a geographical area in which the law enforcement officer has arrest jurisdiction. Such law enforcement and public safety services are not subject to tax irrespective of whether the duty is characterized as "extra duty," "off-duty," or "secondary employment," and irrespective of whether the officer is paid directly or through the officer's agency by an outside source. The term "law enforcement officer" includes full-time or part-time law enforcement officers, and any auxiliary law enforcement officer, when such auxiliary law enforcement officer is working under the direct supervision of a full-time or part-time law enforcement officer.

b. Nonresidential cleaning, excluding cleaning of the interiors of transportation equipment, and nonresidential building pest control services (NAICS National Numbers 561710 and 561720).

2. As used in this paragraph, "NAICS" means those classifications contained in the North American Industry Classification System, as published in 2007 by the Office of Management and Budget, Executive Office of the President.

3. Charges for detective, burglar protection, and other protection security services performed in this state but used outside this state are exempt from taxation. Charges for detective, burglar protection, and other protection security services performed outside this state and used in this state are subject to tax.

4. If a transaction involves both the sale or use of a service taxable under this paragraph and the sale or use of a service or any other item not taxable under this chapter, the consideration paid must be separately identified and stated with respect to the taxable and exempt portions of the transaction or the entire transaction shall be presumed taxable. The burden shall be on the seller of the service or the purchaser of the service, whichever applicable, to overcome this presumption by providing documentary evidence as to which portion of the transaction is exempt from tax. The department is authorized to adjust the amount of consideration identified as the taxable and exempt portions of the transaction; however, a determination that the taxable and exempt portions are inaccurately stated and that the adjustment is applicable must be supported by substantial competent evidence.

5. Each seller of services subject to sales tax pursuant to this paragraph shall maintain a monthly log showing each transaction for which sales tax was not collected because the services meet the requirements of subparagraph 3. for out-of-state use. The log must identify the purchaser's name, location and mailing address, and federal employer identification number, if a business, or the social security number, if an individual, the service sold, the price of the service, the date of sale, the reason for the exemption, and the sales invoice number. The monthly log shall be maintained pursuant to the same requirements and subject to the same penalties imposed for the keeping of similar records pursuant to this chapter.

(j)1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, there is hereby levied a tax on the sale, use, consumption, or storage for use in this state of any coin or currency, whether in circulation or not, when such coin or currency:

- a. Is not legal tender;
- b. If legal tender, is sold, exchanged, or traded at a rate in excess of its face value; or
- c. Is sold, exchanged, or traded at a rate based on its precious metal content.

2. Such tax shall be at a rate of 6 percent of the price at which the coin or currency is sold, exchanged, or traded, except that, with respect to a coin or currency which is legal tender of the United States and which is sold, exchanged, or traded, such tax shall not be levied.

3. There are exempt from this tax exchanges of coins or currency which are in general circulation in, and legal tender of, one nation for coins or currency which are in general circulation in, and legal tender of, another nation when exchanged solely for use as legal tender and at an exchange rate based on the relative value of each as a medium of exchange.

4. With respect to any transaction that involves the sale of coins or currency taxable under this paragraph in which the taxable amount represented by the sale of such coins or currency exceeds $500, the entire amount represented by the sale of such coins or currency is exempt from the tax imposed under this paragraph. The dealer must maintain proper documentation, as prescribed by rule of the department, to identify that portion of a transaction which involves the sale of coins or currency and is exempt under this subparagraph.

(k) At the rate of 6 percent of the sales price of each gallon of diesel fuel not taxed under chapter 206 purchased for use in a vessel, except dyed diesel fuel that is exempt pursuant to s. 212.08(4)(a)4.

(l) Florists located in this state are liable for sales tax on sales to retail customers regardless of where or by whom the items sold are to be delivered. Florists located in this state are not liable for sales tax on payments received from other florists for items delivered to customers in this state.

(m) Operators of game concessions or other concessionaires who customarily award tangible personal property as prizes may, in lieu of paying tax on the cost price of such property, pay tax on 25 percent of the gross receipts from such concession activity.

(2) The tax shall be collected by the dealer, as defined herein, and remitted by the dealer to the state at the time and in the manner as hereinafter provided.

(3) The tax so levied is in addition to all other taxes, whether levied in the form of excise, license, or privilege taxes, and in addition to all other fees and taxes levied.

(4) The tax imposed pursuant to this chapter shall be due and payable according to the algorithm provided ~~brackets set forth~~ in s. 212.12.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the maximum amount of tax imposed under this chapter and collected on each sale or use of a boat in this state may not exceed $18,000 and on each repair of a boat in this state may not exceed $60,000.

Section 4. Paragraph (c) of subsection (4) of section 212.054, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(c)1. Any dealer located in a county that does not impose a discretionary sales surtax, any marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter, or any person located outside this state who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales ~~but~~ who collects the surtax due to sales of tangible personal property or services delivered to a county imposing a surtax ~~outside the county~~ shall remit monthly the proceeds of the surtax to the department to be deposited into an account in the Discretionary Sales Surtax Clearing Trust Fund which is separate from the county surtax collection accounts. The department shall distribute funds in this account using a distribution factor determined for each county that levies a surtax and multiplied by the amount of funds in the account and available for distribution. The distribution factor for each county equals the product of:

- a. The county's latest official population determined pursuant to s. 186.901;
- b. The county's rate of surtax; and
- c. The number of months the county has levied a surtax during the most recent distribution period;

divided by the sum of all such products of the counties levying the surtax during the most recent distribution period.

2. The department shall compute distribution factors for eligible counties once each quarter and make appropriate quarterly distributions.

3. A county that fails to timely provide the information required by this section to the department authorizes the department, by such action, to use the best information available to it in distributing surtax revenues to the county. If this information is unavailable to the department, the department may partially or entirely disqualify the county from receiving surtax revenues under this paragraph. A county that fails to provide timely information waives its right to challenge the department's determination of the county's share, if any, of revenues provided under this paragraph.

Section 5. Section 212.0596, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(Substantial rewording of section. See s. 212.0596, F.S., for present text.)

212.0596 Taxation of remote sales.—

(1) As used in this chapter, the term:

(a) *“Remote sale” means a retail sale of tangible personal property ordered by mail, telephone, the Internet, or other means of communication from a person who receives the order outside of this state and transports the property or causes the property to be transported from any jurisdiction, including this state, to a location in this state. (3) The department may establish by rule procedures for collecting the use tax from unregistered persons who but for their remote purchases would not be required to remit sales or use tax directly to the department. The procedures may provide for waiver of registration, provisions for irregular remittance of tax, elimination of the collection allowance, and nonapplication of local option surtaxes.

(4) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter or a person who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales is required to collect surtax when the taxable item of tangible personal property is delivered within a county imposing a surtax as provided in s. 212.054(3)(a).

(b) “Marketplace provider” means a person who facilitates a retail sale by a marketplace seller by listing or advertising for sale by the marketplace seller tangible personal property in a marketplace and who directly, or indirectly through agreements or arrangements with third parties, collects payment from the customer and transmits all or part of the payment to the marketplace seller, regardless of whether the marketplace provider receives compensation or other consideration in exchange for its services.

1. The term does not include a person who solely provides travel agency services. As used in this subparagraph, the term “travel agency services” means arranging, booking, or otherwise facilitating for a commission, fee, or other consideration vacation or travel packages, rental cars, or other travel reservations; tickets for domestic or foreign travel by air, rail, ship, bus, or other mode of transportation; or hotel or other lodging accommodations.

2. The term does not include a person who is a delivery network company unless the delivery network company is a registered dealer for purposes of this chapter and the delivery network company notifies all local merchants that sell through the delivery network company's website or mobile application that the delivery network company is subject to the requirements of a marketplace provider under this section. As used in this subparagraph, the term:

a. “Delivery network company” means a person who maintains a website or mobile application used to facilitate delivery services, the sale of local products, or both.

b. “Delivery network courier” means a person who provides delivery services through a delivery network company website or mobile application using a personal means of transportation, such as a motor vehicle as defined in s. 320.01(1), bicycle, scooter, or other similar means of transportation; using public transportation; or by walking.

(c) “Marketplace seller” means a person who has an agreement with a marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter and who makes retail sales of tangible personal property through a marketplace owned, operated, or controlled by the marketplace provider.

(2) A marketplace provider that has a physical presence in this state or who is making or facilitating through a marketplace a substantial number of remote sales as defined in s. 212.0596(1) is a dealer for purposes of this chapter.

(3) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter shall certify to its marketplace sellers that it will collect and remit the tax imposed under this chapter on taxable retail sales made through the marketplace. Such certification may be included in the agreement between the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller.

(4)(a) A marketplace seller may not collect and remit the tax under this chapter on a taxable retail sale when the sale is made through the marketplace and the marketplace provider certifies, as required under subsection (3), that it will collect and remit such tax. The department may examine, audit, and assess a marketplace seller for retail sales made outside of a marketplace under paragraph (4)(b). This paragraph does not provide relief to a marketplace seller who is under audit; has been issued a bill, notice, or demand for payment; or is under an administrative or judicial proceeding before July 1, 2021.

(b) The marketplace provider is relieved of liability for the tax on the retail sale and the marketplace seller or customer is liable for the tax imposed under this chapter if the marketplace provider demonstrates to the department's satisfaction that the marketplace provider made a reasonable effort to obtain accurate information related to the retail sales facilitated through the marketplace from the marketplace seller, but that the failure to collect and remit the correct amount of tax imposed under this chapter was due to the provision of incorrect or incomplete information to the marketplace provider by the marketplace seller. This paragraph does not apply to a retail sale for which the marketplace provider is the seller if the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller are related parties or if transactions between a marketplace seller and marketplace buyer are not conducted at arm's length.

(6) For purposes of registration pursuant to s. 212.18, a marketplace is deemed a separate place of business.

(7) A marketplace provider and a marketplace seller may agree by contract or otherwise that if a marketplace provider pays the tax imposed under this chapter on a retail sale facilitated through a marketplace for a marketplace seller as a result of an audit or otherwise, the marketplace provider has the right to recover such tax and any associated interest and penalties from the marketplace seller.

(8) This section may not be construed to authorize the state to collect sales tax from both the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller on the same retail sale.

(9) Chapter 213 applies to the administration of this section to the extent that chapter does not conflict with this section.

Section 7. Effective April 1, 2022, subsections (10) and (11) are added to section 212.05965, Florida Statutes, as created by this act, to read:

212.05965 Taxation of marketplace sales.—

(10) Notwithstanding any other law, the marketplace provider is also responsible for collecting and remitting any prepaid wireless E911 fee under s. 365.172, waste tire fee under s. 403.718, and lead-acid battery fee under s. 403.7185 at the time of sale for taxable retail sales made through its marketplace.

(11) Notwithstanding paragraph (4)(a), the marketplace provider and the marketplace seller may contractually agree to have the marketplace seller collect and remit all applicable taxes and fees if the marketplace seller:

(a) Has annual United States gross sales of more than $1 billion, including the gross sales of any related entities, and in the case of franchised entities, including the combined sales of all franchisees of a single franchisor;

(b) Provides evidence to the marketplace provider that it is registered under s. 212.18; and

(c) Notifies the department in a manner prescribed by the department that the marketplace seller will collect and remit all applicable taxes and fees on its sales through the marketplace and is liable for failure to collect or remit applicable taxes and fees on its sales.

Section 8. Paragraph (c) of subsection (2) and paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of section 212.06, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

212.06 Sales, storage, use tax; collectible from dealers; "dealer" defined; dealers to collect from purchasers; legislative intent as to scope of tax.—

(c) The term "dealer" is further defined to mean every person, as used in this chapter, who sells at retail or who offers for sale at retail, or who has in his or her possession for sale at retail; or for use, consumption, or distribution; or for storage to be used or consumed in this state, tangible personal property as defined herein, including a retailer who transacts a substantial number of remote sales or a marketplace provider that has a physical presence in this state or that makes or facilitates through its marketplace a substantial number of remote sales mail order sale.

ported, produced, or manufactured in this state for export, provided that tangible personal property may not be considered as being imported, produced, or manufactured for export unless the importer, producer, or manufacturer delivers the same to a licensed exporter for exporting or to a common carrier for shipment outside the state or mails the same by United States mail to a destination outside the state; or, in the case of aircraft being exported under their own power to a destination outside the continental limits of the United States, by submission to the department of a duly signed and validated United States customs declaration, showing the departure of the aircraft from the continental United States; and further with respect to aircraft, the canceled United States registry of said aircraft; or in the case of parts and equipment installed on aircraft of foreign registry, by submission to the department of documentation, the extent of which shall be provided by rule, showing the departure of the aircraft from the continental United States; nor is it the intention of this chapter to levy a tax on any sale which the state is prohibited from taxing under the Constitution or laws of the United States. Every retail sale made to a person physically present at the time of sale shall be presumed to have been delivered in this state.

2.a. Notwithstanding subparagraph 1., a tax is levied on each sale of tangible personal property to be transported to a cooperating state as specified in sub-subparagraph c., at the rate specified in sub-subparagraph d. However, a Florida dealer will be relieved from the requirements of collecting taxes pursuant to this subparagraph if the Florida dealer obtains from the purchaser an affidavit setting forth the purchaser's name, address, state taxpayer identification number, and a statement that the purchaser is aware of his or her state's use tax laws, is a registered dealer in Florida or another state, or is purchasing the tangible personal property for resale or is otherwise not required to pay the tax on the transaction. The department may, by rule, provide a form to be used for the purposes set forth herein.

b. For purposes of this subparagraph, "a cooperating state" is one determined by the executive director of the department to cooperate satisfactorily with this state in collecting taxes on remote mail order sales. No state shall be so determined unless it meets all the following minimum requirements:

(I) It levies and collects taxes on remote mail order sales of property transported from that state to persons in this state, as described in s. 212.0596, upon request of the department.

(II) The tax so collected shall be at the rate specified in s. 212.05, not including any local option or tourist or convention development taxes collected pursuant to s. 125.0104 or this chapter.

(III) Such state agrees to remit to the department all taxes so collected no later than 30 days from the last day of the calendar quarter following their collection.

(IV) Such state authorizes the department to audit dealers within its jurisdiction who make remote mail order sales that are the subject of s. 212.0596, or makes arrangements deemed adequate by the department for auditing them with its own personnel.

(V) Such state agrees to provide to the department records obtained by it from retailers or dealers in such state showing delivery of tangible personal property into this state upon which no sales or use tax has been paid in a manner similar to that provided in sub-subparagraph g.

c. For purposes of this subparagraph, "sales of tangible personal property to be transported to a cooperating state" means remote mail order sales to a person who is in the cooperating state at the time the order is executed, from a dealer who receives that order in this state.

d. The tax levied by sub-subparagraph a. shall be at the rate at which such a sale would have been taxed pursuant to the cooperating state's tax laws if consummated in the cooperating state by a dealer and a purchaser, both of whom were physically present in that state at the time of the sale.

e. The tax levied by sub-subparagraph a., when collected, shall be held in the State Treasury in trust for the benefit of the cooperating state and shall be paid to it at a time agreed upon between the department, acting for this state, and the cooperating state or the department or agency designated by it to act for it; however, such payment shall in no event be made later than 30 days from the last day of the calendar quarter after the tax was collected. Funds held in trust for the benefit of a cooperating state shall not be subject to the service charges imposed by s. 215.20.

f. The department is authorized to perform such acts and to provide such cooperation to a cooperating state with reference to the tax levied by sub-subparagraph a. as is required of the cooperating state by sub-subparagraph b.

g. In furtherance of this act, dealers selling tangible personal property for delivery in another state shall make available to the department, upon request of the department, records of all tangible personal property so sold. Such records shall include a description of the property, the name and address of the purchaser, the name and address of the person to whom the property was sent, the purchase price of the property, information regarding whether sales tax was paid in this state on the purchase price, and such other information as the department may by rule prescribe.

Section 9. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 212.07, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(b) A resale must be in strict compliance with s. 212.18 and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder. A dealer who makes a sale for resale that is not in strict compliance with s. 212.18 and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder is liable for and must pay the tax. A dealer who makes a sale for resale shall document the exempt nature of the transaction, as established by rules adopted by the department, by retaining a copy of the purchaser's resale certificate. In lieu of maintaining a copy of the certificate, a dealer may document, before the time of sale, an authorization number provided telephonically or electronically by the department, or by such other means established by rule of the department. The dealer may rely on a resale certificate issued pursuant to s. 212.18(3)(e) ~~s. 212.18(3)(d)~~, valid at the time of receipt from the purchaser, without seeking annual verification of the resale certificate if the dealer makes recurring sales to a purchaser in the normal course of business on a continual basis. For purposes of this paragraph, "recurring sales to a purchaser in the normal course of business" refers to a sale in which the dealer extends credit to the purchaser and records the debt as an account receivable, or in which the dealer sells to a purchaser who has an established cash or C.O.D. account, similar to an open credit account. For purposes of this paragraph, purchases are made from a selling dealer on a continual basis if the selling dealer makes, in the normal course of business, sales to the purchaser at least once in every 12-month period. A dealer may, through the informal protest provided for in s. 213.21 and the rules of the department, provide the department with evidence of the exempt status of a sale. Consumer certificates of exemption executed by those exempt entities that were registered with the department at the time of sale, resale certificates provided by purchasers who were active dealers at the time of sale, and verification by the department of a purchaser's active dealer status at the time of sale in lieu of a resale certificate shall be accepted by the department when submitted during the protest period, but may not be accepted in any proceeding under chapter 120 or any circuit court action instituted under chapter 72.

Section 10. Paragraph (f) is added to subsection (4) of section 212.11, Florida Statutes, to read:

(f) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter or a person who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales shall file returns and pay taxes by electronic means under s. 213.755.

Section 11. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (5), and subsections (9), (10), (11), and (14) of section 212.12, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

212.12 Dealer's credit for collecting tax; penalties for non-compliance; powers of Department of Revenue in dealing with delinquents; ~~rounding brackets applicable to taxable transactions~~; records required.—

(1)(a) ~~1.~~ Notwithstanding any other law and for the purpose of compensating persons granting licenses for and the lessors of real and personal property taxed hereunder, for the purpose of compensating dealers in tangible personal property, for the purpose of compensating dealers providing communication services and taxable services, for the purpose of compensating owners of places where admissions are collected, and for the purpose of compensating remitters of any taxes or fees reported on the same documents utilized for the sales and use tax, as compensation for the keeping of prescribed records, filing timely tax returns, and the proper accounting and remitting of taxes by them, such seller, person, lessor, dealer, owner, and remitter ~~(except dealers who make mail order sales)~~ who files the return required pursuant to s. 212.11 only by electronic means and who pays the amount due on such return only by electronic means shall be allowed 2.5 percent of the amount of the tax due, accounted for, and remitted to the department in the form of a deduction. However, if the amount of the tax due and remitted to the department by electronic means for the reporting period exceeds $1,200, an allowance is not allowed for all amounts in excess of $1,200. For purposes of this ~~paragraph~~ ~~subparagraph~~, the term "electronic means" has the same meaning as provided in s. 213.755(2)(c).

~~2. The executive director of the department is authorized to negotiate a collection allowance, pursuant to rules promulgated by the department, with a dealer who makes mail order sales. The rules of the department shall provide guidelines for establishing the collection allowance based upon the dealer's estimated costs of collecting the tax, the volume and value of the dealer's mail order sales to purchasers in this state, and the administrative and legal costs and likelihood of achieving collection of the tax absent the cooperation of the dealer. However, in no event shall the collection allowance negotiated by the executive director exceed 10 percent of the tax remitted for a reporting period.~~

(5)(a) The department is authorized to audit or inspect the records and accounts of dealers defined herein, including audits or inspections of dealers who make ~~remote mail order sales to the extent permitted by another state~~, and to correct by credit any overpayment of tax, and, in the event of a deficiency, an assessment shall be made and collected. No administrative finding of fact is necessary prior to the assessment of any tax deficiency.

(9) Taxes imposed by this chapter upon the privilege of the use, consumption, storage for consumption, or sale of tangible personal property, admissions, license fees, rentals, ~~communication services~~, and upon the sale or use of services as herein taxed shall be collected upon the basis of an addition of the tax imposed by this chapter to the total price of such admissions, license fees, rentals, ~~communication or other services~~, or sale price of such article or articles that are purchased, sold, or leased at any one time by or to a customer or buyer; the dealer, or person charged herein, is required to pay a privilege tax in the amount of the tax imposed by this chapter on the total of his or her gross sales of tangible personal property, admissions, license fees, ~~and rentals, and communication services~~ or to collect a tax upon the sale or use of services, and such person or dealer shall add the tax imposed by this chapter to the price, license fee, rental, ~~or admissions, and communication or other services~~ and collect the total sum from the purchaser, admittee, licensee, lessee, or consumer. ~~The department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and the following brackets applicable to all transactions taxable at the rate of 6 percent:~~

~~(a) On single sales of less than 10 cents, no tax shall be added.~~

~~(b) On single sales in amounts from 10 cents to 16 cents, both inclusive, 1 cent shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(c) On sales in amounts from 17 cents to 33 cents, both inclusive, 2 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(d) On sales in amounts from 34 cents to 50 cents, both inclusive, 3 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(e) On sales in amounts from 51 cents to 66 cents, both inclusive, 4 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(f) On sales in amounts from 67 cents to 83 cents, both inclusive, 5 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(g) On sales in amounts from 84 cents to $1, both inclusive, 6 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(h) On sales in amounts of more than $1, 6 percent shall be charged upon each dollar of price, plus the appropriate bracket charge upon any fractional part of a dollar.~~

(10)(a) A dealer must calculate the tax due on the privilege of the use, consumption, storage for consumption, or sale of tangible personal property, admissions, license fees, rentals, and upon the sale or use of services, based on a rounding algorithm that meets the following criteria:

1. The computation of the tax must be carried to the third decimal place.

2. The tax must be rounded to the whole cent using a method that rounds up to the next cent whenever the third decimal place is greater than four.

~~(b) A dealer may apply the rounding algorithm to the aggregate tax amount computed on all taxable items on an invoice or to the taxable amount on each individual item on the invoice. In counties which have adopted a discretionary sales surtax at the rate of 1 percent, the department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and the following brackets applicable to all taxable transactions that would otherwise have been transactions taxable at the rate of 6 percent:~~

~~(a) On single sales of less than 10 cents, no tax shall be added.~~

~~(b) On single sales in amounts from 10 cents to 14 cents, both inclusive, 1 cent shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(c) On sales in amounts from 15 cents to 28 cents, both inclusive, 2 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(d) On sales in amounts from 29 cents to 42 cents, both inclusive, 3 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(e) On sales in amounts from 43 cents to 57 cents, both inclusive, 4 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(f) On sales in amounts from 58 cents to 71 cents, both inclusive, 5 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(g) On sales in amounts from 72 cents to 85 cents, both inclusive, 6 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(h) On sales in amounts from 86 cents to $1, both inclusive, 7 cents shall be added for taxes.~~

~~(i) On sales in amounts from $1 up to, and including, the first $5,000 in price, 7 percent shall be charged upon each dollar of price, plus the appropriate bracket charge upon any fractional part of a dollar.~~

~~(j) On sales in amounts of more than $5,000 in price, 7 percent shall be added upon the first $5,000 in price, and 6 percent shall be added upon each dollar of price in excess of the first $5,000 in price, plus the bracket charges upon any fractional part of a dollar as provided for in subsection (9).~~

~~(11) The department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and brackets applicable to all taxable transactions that occur in counties that have a surtax at a rate other than 1 percent which would otherwise have been transactions taxable at the rate of 6 percent. Likewise, the department shall make available in an electronic format or otherwise the tax amounts and brackets applicable to transactions taxable at 4.35 percent pursuant to s. 212.05(1)(c)1.e. or the applicable tax rate pursuant to s. 212.031(1) and on transactions which would otherwise have been so taxable in counties which have adopted a discretionary sales surtax.~~

~~(14) If it is determined upon audit that a dealer has collected and remitted taxes by applying the applicable tax rate to each transaction as described in subsection (9) and rounding the tax due to the nearest whole cent rather than applying the appropriate bracket system provided by law or department rule, the dealer shall not be held liable for additional tax, penalty, and interest resulting from such failure if:~~

~~(a) The dealer acted in a good faith belief that rounding to the nearest whole cent was the proper method of determining the amount of tax due on each taxable transaction.~~

~~(b) The dealer timely reported and remitted all taxes collected on each taxable transaction.~~

~~(c) The dealer agrees in writing to future compliance with the laws and rules concerning brackets applicable to the dealer's transactions.~~

Section 12. Present paragraphs (c) through (f) of subsection (3) of section 212.18, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as paragraphs (d) through (g), respectively, a new paragraph (c) is added to that subsection, and present paragraph (f) of that subsection is amended, to read:

~~(c) A marketplace provider that is a dealer under this chapter or a person who is required to collect and remit sales tax on remote sales must file with the department an application for a certificate of registration electronically.~~

~~(g)(f) As used in this paragraph, the term "exhibitor" means a person who enters into an agreement authorizing the display of tangible personal property or services at a convention or a trade show. The following provisions apply to the registration of exhibitors as dealers under this chapter:~~

1. An exhibitor whose agreement prohibits the sale of tangible personal property or services subject to the tax imposed in this chapter is not required to register as a dealer.

2. An exhibitor whose agreement provides for the sale at wholesale only of tangible personal property or services subject to the tax imposed by this chapter must obtain a resale certificate from the purchasing dealer but is not required to register as a dealer.

3. An exhibitor whose agreement authorizes the retail sale of tangible personal property or services subject to the tax imposed by this chapter must register as a dealer and collect the tax on such sales.

4. An exhibitor who makes a remote mail order sale pursuant to s. 212.0596 must register as a dealer.

A person who conducts a convention or a trade show must make his or her exhibitor's agreements available to the department for inspection and copying.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Rabbi Michael Shields, Temple Israel, Tallahassee:

I would be remiss if I did not, before I begin the prayer, greet those in this chamber and, by extension, all of your constituents, in a way that honors the diversity that exists in our State of Florida. I recognize that the tapestry of diversity in our state extends far beyond the handful of greetings I offer now.

I say “Istonko,” hello in Seminole Creek. To our Muslim brothers and sisters, I say, “Salaam alaikum.” May this time of Ramadan which you have just entered be meaningful. I wish you a “Ramadan Mubarak.” If you are Buddhist or Hindu, I greet you warmly. “Namaste.” The divinity in me honors the divinity in you. For my Christian brothers and sisters, you share the goodwill found in the expression, “May the peace of Christ be with you.” To those who do not connect through the lens of religion, I say, “May we all be led toward greater justice.” I wish all a heartfelt “Shalom.” Peace.

The promise of our state and country is that all are welcome. Please take my words with that sentiment and deep honoring of each individual. Holy source of blessing, divine unity, sacred earth, sovereign God of the universe, gracious mother, exceedingly compassionate and merciful one to all humanity and all creatures, omnipresent enlightenment, supreme and universal spirit, sacred spark that unites us all.

He, she, they. You are the unity of all, and you recognize the innate holiness of every single human being. We are assembled to do the people’s work. We are called to bring our best selves to conversation and debate. May your presence contribute to the causes of justice and peace. We ask for blessings for this legislative body. May their hearts and hands be empowered to act with kindness and compassion for others. May all serve with wisdom, open minds, caring hearts, and good judgment. May these servant leaders be delivered from any harm, misfortune, and trouble that they may encounter.

In each age, we receive and transmit sacred teachings. At each moment, we are addressed by the world, and we are challenged to answer. We stand face to face with truth. We must build upon that which came before, and we must recognize that our children will become the next builders. What will we leave for them? We must seek to set the world firm on a foundation of truth, justice, and peace. May we do this work with our mouths, engaging in discussion and debate, but may we also do it with our feet. There must be talking and walking. We must honor and hold up those who seek righteousness and justice. For where there is justice, there can be peace.

Just a few short weeks ago, the Jewish people recounted the story of Passover, the exodus from Egypt. The phrase, “Let my people go,” should remind us today that there are far too many people shackled and enslaved in far too many ways. Oh, God, let us use our wisdom and compassion to face these problems and thus bring about true redemption, peace, and freedom for all. May we be inspired by the beauty of our world and have hope for our future. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senator Bracy led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

SR 2038—A resolution recognizing the 50th anniversary of the opening of the main terminal building at Tampa International Airport.

WHEREAS, on April 15, 1971, Tampa International Airport opened the doors to its brand-new, revolutionary landside-airside facility, drawing more than 60,000 members of the public and the media to tour the facility before the first jet even arrived, and

WHEREAS, Tampa International Airport, itself, became a tourist attraction for Central Florida as people came from all over the world to ride the first-ever airport shuttles, which were featured in Time magazine, and to marvel at the hub-and-spoke design that was spacious yet easy to navigate, and

WHEREAS, under the leadership of the Hillsborough County Aviation Authority and then-Director George J. Bean, Tampa International Airport was held up as a model that airports across the nation used for decades as an example of excellence, and

WHEREAS, among the most innovative elements of the new airport was its red-blue wayfinding system, designed by environmental graphic designer Jane Davis Doggett, which continues to guide the traveler experience from curbside to ticketing to the airside terminals with color rather than directional navigation, making the intentionally short walk from vehicle to gate even more seamless, and

WHEREAS, Ms. Doggett also created the airport's "Spirit of Flight" logo, a timeless representation of water, jet, and sunset which has withstood the passage of time, and

WHEREAS, Tampa International Airport's original architecture and customer-focused culture have been maintained, even as the Tampa Bay area and passenger traffic have grown immensely and, today, the facility is a gem in the community, still drawing praise from world travelers as well as from those who bring business and events to the area, and

WHEREAS, Tampa International Airport has ranked in the top 5 in the J.D. Power and Associates annual airport satisfaction survey for the last 6 years, and

WHEREAS, in 2021, Airports Council International named Tampa International Airport one of the most hygienic in North America as part of the organization's annual Airport Service Quality awards, which highlight the world's best airports as judged by their guests, and

WHEREAS, because of the vision for the future of those who conceived it, Tampa International Airport will remain an invaluable economic driver for the region for many generations to come, NOW, THEREFORE,

Amendment 2 (850610) (with title amendment)—Between lines 180 and 181 insert:

Section 3. Subsections (2) and (3) and paragraph (a) of subsection (6) of section 943.0583, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

943.0583 Human trafficking victim expunction.—

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, upon the filing of a petition as provided in this section, any court in the circuit in which the petitioner was arrested, so long as the court has jurisdiction over the class of offense or offenses sought to be expunged, may order a criminal justice agency to expunge the criminal history record of a victim of human trafficking who complies with the requirements of this section. A petition need not be filed in the court where the petitioner's criminal proceeding or proceedings originally occurred. This section does not confer any right to the expunction of any criminal history record, and any request for expunction of a criminal history record may be denied at the discretion of the court. The clerk of the court may not charge a filing fee, service charge, or copy fee or any other charge for a petition filed under this section. The clerk of the court shall treat a petition seeking to expunge more than one eligible case as a single petition.

However, this section does not apply to any offense listed in s. 775.084(1)(b) 1. Determination of the petition under this section should be by a preponderance of the evidence. A conviction expunged under this section is deemed to have been vacated due to a substantive defect in the underlying criminal proceedings. If a person is adjudicated not guilty by reason of insanity or is found to be incompetent to stand trial for any such charge, the expunction of the criminal history record may not prevent the entry of the judgment or finding in state and national databases for use in determining eligibility to purchase or possess a firearm or to carry a concealed firearm, as authorized in s. 790.065(2)(a)4.c. and 18 U.S.C. s. 922(t), nor shall it prevent any governmental agency that is authorized by state or federal law to determine eligibility to purchase or possess a firearm or to carry a concealed firearm from accessing or using the record of the judgment or finding in the course of such agency's official duties.

(6) Each petition to a court to expunge a criminal history record is complete only when accompanied by:

(a) The petitioner's sworn statement attesting that the petitioner is eligible for such an expunction to the best of his or her knowledge or belief ~~and does not have any other petition to expunge or any petition to seal pending before any court.~~

Any person who knowingly provides false information on such sworn statement to the court commits a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

Between lines 16 and 17 insert: amending s. 943.0583, F.S.; prohibiting a clerk of the court from charging certain fees for petitions for expunction of human trafficking victim criminal history records; providing that a petition seeking expunction of more than one case is a single petition; deleting a requirement that a petitioner under this section have no other expunction or any sealing petitions pending;

(g) Conduct systematic reviews of clinic billings to ensure that the billings are not fraudulent or unlawful. Upon discovery of an unlawful charge, the medical director or clinic director shall take immediate corrective action. If the clinic performs only the technical component of magnetic resonance imaging, static radiographs, computed tomography, or positron emission tomography, and provides the professional interpretation of such services, in a fixed facility that is accredited by a national accrediting organization that is approved by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services for magnetic resonance imaging and advanced diagnostic imaging services and if, in the preceding quarter, the percentage of scans performed by that clinic which was billed to ~~motor vehicle all personal injury protection~~ insurance carriers under ~~medical payments coverage~~ was less than 15 percent, the chief financial officer of the clinic may, in a written acknowledgment provided to the agency, assume the responsibility for the conduct of the systematic reviews of clinic billings to ensure that the billings are not fraudulent or unlawful.

Section 29. Subsection (28) of section 409.901, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.901 Definitions; ss. 409.901-409.920.—As used in ss. 409.901-409.920, except as otherwise specifically provided, the term:

(28) “Third-party benefit” means any benefit that is or may be available at any time through contract, court award, judgment, settlement, agreement, or any arrangement between a third party and any person or entity, including, without limitation, a Medicaid recipient, a provider, another third party, an insurer, or the agency, for any Medicaid-covered injury, illness, goods, or services, including costs of medical services related thereto, for ~~bodily personal injury~~ or for death of the recipient, but specifically excluding ~~policies of life insurance policies~~ on the recipient, unless available under terms of the policy to pay medical expenses ~~before~~ ~~prior to~~ death. The term includes, without limitation, collateral, as defined in this section; health insurance; any benefit under a health maintenance organization, a preferred provider arrangement, a prepaid health clinic, liability insurance, uninsured motorist insurance, or ~~medical payments coverage~~; or ~~personal injury protection coverage~~, medical benefits under workers’ compensation, and any obligation under law or equity to provide medical support.

Section 30. Paragraph (f) of subsection (11) of section 409.910, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.910 Responsibility for payments on behalf of Medicaid-eligible persons when other parties are liable.—

(11) The agency may, as a matter of right, in order to enforce its rights under this section, institute, intervene in, or join any legal or administrative proceeding in its own name in one or more of the following capacities: individually, as subrogee of the recipient, as assignee of the recipient, or as lienholder of the collateral.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision in this section to the contrary, in the event of an action in tort against a third party in which the recipient or his or her legal representative is a party which results in a judgment, award, or settlement from a third party, the amount recovered shall be distributed as follows:

1. After ~~attorney~~ ~~attorney’s~~ fees and taxable costs as defined by the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, one-half of the remaining recovery shall be paid to the agency up to the total amount of medical assistance provided by Medicaid.

2. The remaining amount of the recovery shall be paid to the recipient.

3. For purposes of calculating the agency’s recovery of medical assistance benefits paid, the fee for services of an attorney retained by the recipient or his or her legal representative shall be calculated at 25 percent of the judgment, award, or settlement.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, the agency shall be entitled to all medical coverage benefits up to the total amount of medical assistance provided by Medicaid. For purposes of this paragraph, the term “medical coverage” means any benefits under health insurance, a health maintenance organization, a preferred provider arrangement, or a prepaid health clinic, and the portion of benefits designated for medical payments under ~~coverage for~~ workers’ compensation coverage, motor vehicle insurance coverage, ~~personal injury protection~~, and casualty coverage.

Section 31. Paragraph (k) of subsection (2) of section 456.057, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

456.057 Ownership and control of patient records; report or copies of records to be furnished; disclosure of information.—

(2) As used in this section, the terms “records owner,” “health care practitioner,” and “health care practitioner’s employer” do not include any of the following persons or entities; furthermore, the following persons or entities are not authorized to acquire or own medical records, but are authorized under the confidentiality and disclosure requirements of this section to maintain those documents required by the part or chapter under which they are licensed or regulated:

(k) Persons or entities practicing under s. 627.7265 ~~s. 627.736(7)~~.

Section 32. Paragraphs (ee) and (ff) of subsection (1) of section 456.072, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

456.072 Grounds for discipline; penalties; enforcement.—

(1) The following acts shall constitute grounds for which the disciplinary actions specified in subsection (2) may be taken:

(ee) With respect to making a ~~medical payments coverage personal injury protection~~ claim under s. 627.7265 ~~as required by s. 627.736~~, intentionally submitting a claim, statement, or bill that has been ~~up-coded~~. As used in this paragraph, the term “up-coded” means an action that submits a billing code that would result in a greater payment amount than would be paid using a billing code that accurately describes the services performed. The term does not include an otherwise lawful bill by a magnetic resonance imaging facility which globally combines both technical and professional components, if the amount of the global bill is not more than the components if billed separately; however, payment of such a bill constitutes payment in full for all components of such service ~~“up-coded” as defined in s. 627.732~~.

(ff) With respect to making a ~~medical payments coverage personal injury protection~~ claim pursuant to s. 627.7265 ~~as required by s. 627.736~~, intentionally submitting a claim, statement, or bill for payment of services that were not rendered.

Section 33. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) and subsection (8) of section 624.155, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

624.155 Civil remedy.—

(1) Any person may bring a civil action against an insurer when such person is damaged:

(b) By the commission of any of the following acts by the insurer:

1. Except for a civil action for bad faith failure to settle a third-party claim subject to s. 624.156, not attempting in good faith to settle claims when, under all the circumstances, it could and should have done so, had it acted fairly and honestly toward its insured and with due regard for her or his interests;

2. Making claims payments to insureds or beneficiaries not accompanied by a statement setting forth the coverage under which payments are being made; ~~or~~

3. Except as to liability coverages, failing to promptly settle claims, when the obligation to settle a claim has become reasonably clear, under one portion of the insurance policy coverage in order to influence settlements under other portions of the insurance policy coverage; or

4. When handling a first-party claim under a motor vehicle insurance policy, not attempting in good faith to settle such claim pursuant to subparagraph 1. when such failure is caused by a failure to communicate to an insured:

a. The name, telephone number, e-mail address, and mailing address of the person who is adjusting the claim;

b. Any issues that may impair the insured’s coverage;

c. Information that might resolve the coverage issue in a prompt manner;

d. Any basis for the insurer's rejection or nonacceptance of any settlement demand or offer; or

e. Any needed extensions to respond to a time-limited settlement offer.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the above to the contrary, a person pursuing a remedy under this section need not prove that such act was committed or performed with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice.

(8) The civil remedy specified in this section does not preempt any other remedy or cause of action provided for pursuant to any other statute or pursuant to the common law of this state. ~~A Any person is may obtain a judgment under either the common law remedy of bad faith or this statutory remedy, but shall not be entitled to a judgment under multiple bad faith both remedies.~~ This section shall not be construed to create a common-law cause of action. The damages recoverable pursuant to this section shall include those damages which are a reasonably foreseeable result of a specified violation of this section by the authorized insurer and may include an award or judgment in an amount that exceeds the policy limits.

Section 34. Section 624.156, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

624.156 Actions against motor vehicle insurers for bad faith failure to settle third-party claims.—

(1) SCOPE.—This section applies in all actions against any insurer for bad faith failure to settle a third-party claim for a loss arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle operated or principally garaged in this state at the time of an incident or a loss, regardless of whether the insurer is authorized to do business in this state or issued a policy in this state. This section governs in any conflict with common law or any other statute.

(2) DUTY OF GOOD FAITH.—In handling claims, an insurer has a duty to its insured to handle claims in good faith by complying with the best practices standards of subsection (4). An insurer's negligence does not constitute bad faith. However, negligence is relevant to whether an insurer acted in bad faith.

(3) BAD FAITH FAILURE TO SETTLE.—"Bad faith failure to settle" means an insurer's failure to meet its duty of good faith, as described in subsection (2), which is a proximate cause of the insurer not settling a third-party claim when, under all the circumstances, the insurer could and should have done so, had it acted fairly and honestly toward its insured and with due regard for the insured's interests.

(4) BEST PRACTICES STANDARDS.—An insurer must meet the best practices standards of this subsection. The insurer's duty begins upon receiving actual notice of an incident or a loss that could give rise to a covered liability claim and continues until the claim is resolved. Notice may be communicated to the insurer or an agent of the insurer by any means. However, if actual notice is communicated by means other than through any manner permitted by the policy or other documents provided to the insured by the insurer, through the insurer's website, or through the e-mail address designated by the insurer under s. 624.422, the notice will not be effective under this subsection if that variation causes actual prejudice to the insurer's ability to settle the claim. The burden is on the party bringing the bad faith claim to prove that the insurer had actual notice of the incident or loss giving rise to the claim that resulted in an excess judgment and when such notice was received. After receipt of actual notice an insurer:

(a) Must assign a duly licensed and appointed insurance adjuster to investigate the extent of the insured's probable exposure and diligently attempt to resolve any questions concerning the existence or extent of the insured's coverage.

(b) Based on available information, must ethically evaluate every claim fairly, honestly, and with due regard for the interests of the insured; consider the extent of the claimant's recoverable damages; and consider the information in a reasonable and prudent manner.

(c) Must request from the insured or claimant additional relevant information the insurer reasonably deems necessary to evaluate whether to settle a claim.

(d) Must conduct all verbal and written communications with the insured with the utmost honesty and complete candor.

(e) Must make reasonable efforts to explain to persons not represented by counsel matters requiring expertise beyond the level normally expected of a layperson with no training in insurance or claims-handling issues.

(f) Must retain all written communications and note and retain a summary of all verbal communications in a reasonable manner for a period of not less than 5 years after the later of:

1. The entry of a judgment against the insured in excess of policy limits becomes final; or

2. The conclusion of the extracontractual claim, if any, including any related appeals.

(g) Must provide the insured, upon request, with all nonprivileged communications related to the insurer's handling of the claim which are not privileged as to the insured.

(h) Must provide, at the insurer's expense, reasonable accommodations necessary to communicate effectively with an insured covered under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

(i) In handling third-party claims, must communicate to an insured all of the following:

1. The identity of any other person or entity the insurer has reason to believe may be liable.

2. The insurer's evaluation of the claim.

3. The likelihood and possible extent of an excess judgment.

4. Steps the insured can take to avoid exposure to an excess judgment, including the right to secure personal counsel at the insured's expense.

5. The insured's duty to cooperate with the insurer, including any specific requests required because of a settlement opportunity or by the insurer for the insured's cooperation under subsection (5), the purpose of the required cooperation, and the consequences of refusing to cooperate.

6. Any settlement demands or offers.

(j) If, after the expiration of the safe harbor periods in subsection (8), the facts available to the insurer indicate that the insured's liability is likely to exceed the policy limits, must initiate settlement negotiations by tendering its policy limits to the claimant in exchange for a general release of the insured.

(k)1. Must give fair consideration to a settlement offer that is not unreasonable under the facts available to the insurer and settle, if possible, when a reasonably prudent person, faced with the prospect of paying the total probable exposure of the insured, would do so. The insurer shall provide reasonable assistance to the insured to comply with the insured's obligations to cooperate and shall act reasonably to attempt to satisfy any conditions of a claimant's settlement offer. If it is not possible to settle a liability claim within the available policy limits, the insurer shall act reasonably to attempt to minimize the excess exposure to the insured.

2. When multiple claims arise out of a single occurrence, the combined value of all claims exceeds the total of all applicable policy limits, and the claimants are unwilling to globally settle within the policy limits, must attempt to minimize the magnitude of possible excess judgments against the insured. Thereafter, the insurer is entitled to great discretion to decide how much to offer each respective claimant in its attempt to protect the insured. The insurer may, in its effort to minimize the excess liability of the insured, use its discretion to offer the full available policy limits to one or more claimants to the exclusion of other claimants and may leave the insured exposed to some liability after all the policy limits are paid. An insurer does not act in bad faith simply because it is unable to settle all claims in a multiple claimant case. It is a defense to a bad faith action if the insurer establishes that it used its discretion for the benefit of its insureds and complied with the other best practices standards of this subsection.

(l) When a loss creates the potential for a third-party claim against more than one insured, must attempt to settle the claim on behalf of all insureds against whom a claim may be presented. If it is not possible to settle on behalf of all insureds, the insurer may, in consultation with the insureds, enter into reasonable settlements of claims against certain insureds to the exclusion of other insureds.

(m) Must respond to any request for insurance information in compliance with s. 627.4137 or s. 626.9372, as applicable.

(n) Where it appears the insured's probable exposure is greater than policy limits, must take reasonable measures to preserve evidence, for a reasonable period of time, which is needed for the defense of the liability claim.

(o) Must comply with s. 627.426, if applicable.

(p) May not commit or perform with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice, any of the following:

1. Failing to adopt and implement standards for the proper investigation of claims.

2. Misrepresenting pertinent facts or insurance policy provisions relating to coverages at issue.

3. Failing to acknowledge and act promptly upon communications with respect to claims.

4. Denying claims without conducting reasonable investigations based upon available information.

(5) INSURED'S DUTY TO COOPERATE.—

(a) Insureds have a duty to cooperate with their insurer in the defense of the claim and in making settlements. Accordingly, the insured must take any reasonable action requested by the injured claimant or provided in the policy which is necessary to assist the insurer in settling a covered claim, including:

1. Executing affidavits regarding the facts within the insured's knowledge regarding the covered loss; and

2. Providing documents, including those requested pursuant to paragraph (b).

(b) When it is reasonably necessary to settle a covered claim valued in excess of all applicable policy limits, upon the request of the injured claimant, an insured must disclose on a form adopted by the department or provided by the claimant a summary of the following:

1. The insured's assets at the time of the loss, including:

a. Cash, stocks, bonds, and nonretirement-based mutual funds;

b. Nonhomestead real property;

c. All registered vehicles;

d. All bank accounts;

e. An estimated net accounting of all other assets; and

f. Any additional information included by the department.

2. The insured's liabilities, including:

a. Mortgage debt;

b. Credit card debt;

c. Child support and alimony payments;

d. Other liabilities; and

e. Any additional information included by the department.

3. For a corporate entity, information on its balance sheet, including the corporate entity's:

a. Cash, property, equipment, and inventory;

b. Liabilities, including obligations, rent, money owed to vendors, payroll, and taxes;

c. Other information relevant to understanding the entity's capital and net worth; and

d. Any additional information included by the department.

4. A list of all insurance policies that may provide coverage for the claim, stating the name of the insurer and policy number of each policy.

5. For natural persons, a statement of whether the insured was acting in the course and scope of employment at the time of the incident or loss giving rise to the claim and, if so, providing the name and contact information for the insured's employer.

(c) No later than 14 days following actual notice of an incident or a loss that could give rise to a covered liability claim, the insurer must notify the insured of the insured's duties under this subsection. The burden is on the insurer to prove it provided notice to the insured of the insured's duty to cooperate; otherwise, a presumption arises that the insured met its duty to cooperate under this subsection.

(d) An insurer may terminate the defense as to any insured who unreasonably fails to meet its duties under this subsection when:

1. The insurer exercised diligence and met its duties under subparagraph (4)(i)5.;

2. The insurer provided reasonable assistance to the insured to comply with the obligations of this subsection;

3. The insurer gave the insured written notice of any failure to cooperate and a reasonable opportunity for the insured to cure the lack of cooperation, consistent with any deadlines imposed by settlement negotiations;

4. The insured's failure to cooperate causes the insurer to be unable to settle the claim; and

5. The insurer unconditionally tenders its available coverage policy limits directly to the claimant or the claimant's attorney.

(e) When an insured's defense is terminated in compliance with this subsection, the insurer is not liable for any damages caused by a failure to settle or defend the liability claim against that insured.

(6) CLAIMANT COMMUNICATIONS.—The trier of fact may not attribute the insurer's failure to settle a covered third-party claim to a claimant's lack of communication with the insurer when the claimant truthfully complies with all applicable standards of this subsection by:

(a) Contemporaneously with or before making a claim with the insurer, communicating in writing to the insurer:

1. The date and location of loss;

2. The name, address, and date of birth of the claimant; and

3. A physical address, an e-mail address, and a facsimile number for further communications, including, but not limited to, responses to any settlement demand.

(b) Presenting the following in writing:

1. The legal and factual basis of the claim; and

2. A reasonably detailed description of the claimant's:

a. Known injuries caused or aggravated by the incident or loss on which the claim is based;

b. Medical treatment causally related to the incident or loss on which the claim is based;

c. Relevant pre-accident medical conditions, if known; and

d. Type and amount of known damages incurred and, if any, the damages the claimant reasonably anticipates incurring in the future.

(c) Providing any settlement demand in writing and stating within such demand:

1. The name of each insured to whom the demand for settlement is directed;

2. The amount of the demand for settlement; and

3. Any conditions the claimant is placing on acceptance of the demand for settlement.

This subsection does not reduce an insurer's duty of good faith, which is owed solely to its insured. The claimant owes no duty to the insured or the insurer, and the duties of the claimant's attorney are owed solely to their client. The claimant and the claimant's attorneys do not have a duty to comply with this subsection.

(7) CONDITIONS PRECEDENT.—It is a condition precedent to filing an action against an insurer for bad faith failure to settle a third-party claim that:

(a) A third-party claimant obtained a final judgment in excess of the policy limits against the insured or the insured's estate, bankruptcy trustee, or successor in interest, unless the insurer expressly waived the requirement of a final excess judgment or wrongfully breached its duty to defend the insured; and

(b) The insurer or an agent of the insurer received actual notice effective under subsection (4).

(8) SAFE HARBORS.—

(a) After an insurer receives actual notice of an incident or a loss that could give rise to a covered liability claim, the insurer is entitled to a reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate the claim. The amount of time required for the insurer's investigation and evaluation will vary depending on the circumstances of the claim. The safe harbors provided in this subsection are available to an insurer that complies with the best practices standards of subsection (4).

(b) When one claim arises out of a single occurrence, and an insurer initiates settlement negotiations by tendering the applicable policy limits in exchange for a general release of the insured within 45 days after receiving actual notice of the loss, the failure to tender the policy limits sooner does not constitute bad faith.

(c) When multiple claims arise out of a single occurrence, the combined value of all claims exceeds the total of all applicable policy limits, and an insurer initiates settlement negotiations by globally tendering the applicable policy limits in exchange for a general release of the insured within 45 days after receiving actual notice of the loss, the failure to tender policy limits sooner does not constitute bad faith.

(d) An insurer is not under any circumstances liable for the failure to accept a settlement offer within 45 days after receiving actual notice of the loss if:

1. The settlement offer provides the insurer fewer than 15 days for acceptance; or

2. The settlement offer provides the insurer fewer than 30 days for acceptance where the offer contains conditions for acceptance other than the insurer's disclosure of its policy limits.

(e) This subsection does not require that an insurer automatically tender policy limits within 45 days in every case.

(9) BURDEN OF PROOF.—In any action for bad faith failure to settle as defined in subsection (3):

(a) The party bringing the bad faith claim must prove every element of the claim by the greater weight of the evidence, taking into account the totality of the circumstances.

(b) An insurer that relies upon paragraph (5)(d) as a defense to a claim for bad faith failure to settle must prove the elements of that paragraph by the greater weight of the evidence.

(c) An insurer that relies upon a safe harbor provision of subsection (8) must prove the elements of the safe harbor by the greater weight of the evidence.

(10) DAMAGES.—If the trier of fact finds that a claimant has met its burden of proof, the insurer is liable for the amount of any excess judgment, together with court costs and, if the claimant is the insured or an assignee of the insured, the reasonable attorney fees incurred by the claimant. Punitive damages may not be awarded.

(11) ENFORCEMENT.—If a judgment creditor obtains a judgment that exceeds the insured's limits of liability, the judgment creditor must be subrogated to the rights of the insured against the insurer for bad faith under this section.

(12) LIMITATION ON MULTIPLE REMEDIES.—A person is not entitled to a judgment under multiple bad faith remedies.

Section 35. Paragraphs (i) and (o) of subsection (1) of section 626.9541, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

626.9541 Unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices defined.—

(1) UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION AND UNFAIR OR DECEPTIVE ACTS.—The following are defined as unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices:

(i) Unfair claim settlement practices.—

1. Attempting to settle claims on the basis of an application, when serving as a binder or intended to become a part of the policy, or any other material document which was altered without notice to, or knowledge or consent of, the insured;

2. Making a material misrepresentation made to an insured or any other person having an interest in the proceeds payable under such contract or policy, for the purpose and with the intent of effecting settlement of such claims, loss, or damage under such contract or policy on less favorable terms than those provided in, and contemplated by, such contract or policy; or

3. Committing or performing with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice any of the following:

a. Failing to adopt and implement standards for the proper investigation of claims;

b. Misrepresenting pertinent facts or insurance policy provisions relating to coverages at issue;

c. Failing to acknowledge and act promptly upon communications with respect to claims;

d. Denying claims without conducting reasonable investigations based upon available information;

e. Failing to affirm or deny full or partial coverage of claims, and, as to partial coverage, the dollar amount or extent of coverage, or failing to provide a written statement that the claim is being investigated, upon the written request of the insured within 30 days after proof-of-loss statements have been completed;

f. Failing to promptly provide a reasonable explanation in writing to the insured of the basis in the insurance policy, in relation to the facts or applicable law, for denial of a claim or for the offer of a compromise settlement;

g. Failing to promptly notify the insured of any additional information necessary for the processing of a claim; or

h. Failing to clearly explain the nature of the requested information and the reasons why such information is necessary.

~~i. Failing to pay personal injury protection insurance claims within the time periods required by s. 627.736(4)(b). The office may order the insurer to pay restitution to a policyholder, medical provider, or other claimant, including interest at a rate consistent with the amount set forth in s. 55.03(1), for the time period within which an insurer fails to pay claims as required by law. Restitution is in addition to any other penalties allowed by law, including, but not limited to, the suspension of the insurer's certificate of authority.~~

4. Failing to pay undisputed amounts of partial or full benefits owed under first-party property insurance policies within 90 days after an insurer receives notice of a residential property insurance claim, determines the amounts of partial or full benefits, and agrees to coverage, unless payment of the undisputed benefits is prevented by an act of God, prevented by the impossibility of performance, or due to actions by the insured or claimant that constitute fraud, lack of cooperation, or intentional misrepresentation regarding the claim for which benefits are owed.

(o) Illegal dealings in premiums; excess or reduced charges for insurance.—

1. Knowingly collecting any sum as a premium or charge for insurance, which is not then provided, or is not in due course to be provided, subject to acceptance of the risk by the insurer, by an insurance policy issued by an insurer as permitted by this code.

2. Knowingly collecting as a premium or charge for insurance any sum in excess of or less than the premium or charge applicable to such insurance, in accordance with the applicable classifications and rates as filed with and approved by the office, and as specified in the policy; or, in cases when classifications, premiums, or rates are not required by this code to be so filed and approved, premiums and charges collected from a Florida resident in excess of or less than those specified in the policy and as fixed by the insurer. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, this provision shall not be deemed to prohibit the charging and collection, by surplus lines agents licensed under part VIII of this chapter, of the amount of applicable state and federal taxes, or fees as authorized by s. 626.916(4), in addition to the premium required by the insurer or the charging and collection, by licensed agents, of the exact amount of any discount or other such fee charged by a credit card facility in connection with the use of a credit card, as authorized by subparagraph (q) 3., in addition to the premium required by the insurer. This subparagraph shall not be construed to prohibit collection of a premium for a universal life or a variable or indeterminate value insurance policy made in accordance with the terms of the contract.

3.a. Imposing or requesting an additional premium for bodily injury liability coverage, property damage liability coverage ~~a policy of motor vehicle liability, personal injury protection, medical payments coverage payment, or collision coverage in a motor vehicle liability insurance policy insurance or any combination thereof~~ or refusing to renew the policy solely because the insured was involved in a motor vehicle accident unless the insurer's file contains information from which the insurer in good faith determines that the insured was substantially at fault in the accident.

b. An insurer which imposes and collects such a surcharge or which refuses to renew such policy shall, in conjunction with the notice of premium due or notice of nonrenewal, notify the named insured that he or she is entitled to reimbursement of such amount or renewal of the policy under the conditions listed below and will subsequently reimburse him or her or renew the policy, if the named insured demonstrates that the operator involved in the accident was:

- (I) Lawfully parked;
- (II) Reimbursed by, or on behalf of, a person responsible for the accident or has a judgment against such person;
- (III) Struck in the rear by another vehicle headed in the same direction and was not convicted of a moving traffic violation in connection with the accident;

(IV) Hit by a "hit-and-run" driver, if the accident was reported to the proper authorities within 24 hours after discovering the accident;

(V) Not convicted of a moving traffic violation in connection with the accident, but the operator of the other automobile involved in such accident was convicted of a moving traffic violation;

(VI) Finally adjudicated not to be liable by a court of competent jurisdiction;

(VII) In receipt of a traffic citation which was dismissed or nolle prossed; or (VIII) Not at fault as evidenced by a written statement from the insured establishing facts demonstrating lack of fault which are not rebutted by information in the insurer's file from which the insurer in good faith determines that the insured was substantially at fault.

c. In addition to the other provisions of this subparagraph, an insurer may not fail to renew a policy if the insured has had only one accident in which he or she was at fault within the current 3-year period. However, an insurer may nonrenew a policy for reasons other than accidents in accordance with s. 627.728. This subparagraph does not prohibit nonrenewal of a policy under which the insured has had three or more accidents, regardless of fault, during the most recent 3-year period.

4. Imposing or requesting an additional premium for, or refusing to renew, a policy for motor vehicle insurance solely because the insured committed a noncriminal traffic infraction as described in s. 318.14 unless the infraction is:

a. A second infraction committed within an 18-month period, or a third or subsequent infraction committed within a 36-month period.

b. A violation of s. 316.183, when such violation is a result of exceeding the lawful speed limit by more than 15 miles per hour.

5. Upon the request of the insured, the insurer and licensed agent shall supply to the insured the complete proof of fault or other criteria which justifies the additional charge or cancellation.

6. No insurer shall impose or request an additional premium for motor vehicle insurance, cancel or refuse to issue a policy, or refuse to renew a policy because the insured or the applicant is a handicapped or physically disabled person, so long as such handicap or physical disability does not substantially impair such person's mechanically assisted driving ability.

7. No insurer may cancel or otherwise terminate any insurance contract or coverage, or require execution of a consent to rate endorsement, during the stated policy term for the purpose of offering to issue, or issuing, a similar or identical contract or coverage to the same insured with the same exposure at a higher premium rate or continuing an existing contract or coverage with the same exposure at an increased premium.

8. No insurer may issue a nonrenewal notice on any insurance contract or coverage, or require execution of a consent to rate endorsement, for the purpose of offering to issue, or issuing, a similar or identical contract or coverage to the same insured at a higher premium rate or continuing an existing contract or coverage at an increased premium without meeting any applicable notice requirements.

9. No insurer shall, with respect to premiums charged for motor vehicle insurance, unfairly discriminate solely on the basis of age, sex, marital status, or scholastic achievement.

10. Imposing or requesting an additional premium for motor vehicle comprehensive or uninsured motorist coverage solely because the insured was involved in a motor vehicle accident or was convicted of a moving traffic violation.

11. No insurer shall cancel or issue a nonrenewal notice on any insurance policy or contract without complying with any applicable cancellation or nonrenewal provision required under the Florida Insurance Code.

12. No insurer shall impose or request an additional premium, cancel a policy, or issue a nonrenewal notice on any insurance policy or contract because of any traffic infraction when adjudication has been withheld and no points have been assessed pursuant to s. 318.14(9) and (10). However, this subparagraph does not apply to traffic infractions involving accidents in which the insurer has incurred a loss due to the fault of the insured.

Section 36. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 626.989, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

626.989 Investigation by department or Division of Investigative and Forensic Services; compliance; immunity; confidential information; reports to division; division investigator's power of arrest.—

(1) For the purposes of this section:

(a) A person commits a "fraudulent insurance act" if the person:

1. Section 44. Section 627.7265, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

627.7265 Motor vehicle insurance; medical payments coverage.—

(1) Medical payments coverage must protect the named insured, resident relatives, persons operating the insured motor vehicle, passengers in the insured motor vehicle, and persons who are struck by the insured motor vehicle and suffer bodily injury while not an occupant of a self-propelled motor vehicle at a limit of at least $5,000 for medical expenses incurred due to bodily injury, sickness, or disease arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle. The coverage must provide an additional death benefit of at least $5,000.

(a) Before issuing a motor vehicle liability insurance policy that is furnished as proof of financial responsibility under s. 324.031, the insurer must offer medical payments coverage at limits of $5,000 and $10,000. The insurer may also offer medical payments coverage at any limit greater than $5,000.

(b) The insurer must offer medical payments coverage with no deductible. The insurer may also offer medical payments coverage with a deductible not to exceed $500.

(c) Each motor vehicle liability insurance policy furnished as proof of financial responsibility under s. 324.031 is deemed to have:

1. Medical payments coverage to a limit of $10,000, unless the insurer obtains a named insured's written refusal of medical payments coverage or written selection of medical payments coverage at a limit other than $10,000. The rejection or selection of coverage at a limit other than $10,000 must be made on a form approved by the office.

2. No medical payments coverage deductible, unless the insurer obtains a named insured's written selection of a deductible up to $500. The selection of a deductible must be made on a form approved by the office.

(d)1. The forms referenced in subparagraphs (c)1. and 2. must fully advise the applicant of the nature of the coverage being rejected or the policy limit or deductible being selected. If the form is signed by a named insured, it is conclusively presumed that there was an informed, knowing rejection of the coverage or election of the policy limit or deductible.

2. Unless a named insured requests in writing the coverage specified in this section, it need not be provided in or supplemental to any other policy that renews, insures, extends, changes, supersedes, or replaces an existing policy if a named insured has rejected the coverage specified in this section or has selected an alternative coverage limit or deductible. At least annually, the insurer shall provide to the named insured a notice of the availability of such coverage in a form approved by the office. The notice must be part of, and attached to, the notice of premium and must provide for a means to allow a named insured to request medical payments coverage at the limits and deductibles required to be offered under this section. The notice must be given in a manner approved by the office. Receipt of this notice does not constitute an affirmative waiver of the insured's right to medical payments coverage if a named insured has not signed a selection or rejection form.

(e) This section may not be construed to limit any other coverage made available by an insurer.

(2) Upon receiving notice of an accident that is potentially covered by medical payments coverage benefits, the insurer must reserve $5,000 of medical payments coverage benefits for payment to physicians licensed under chapter 458 or chapter 459 or dentists licensed under chapter 466 who provide emergency services and care, as defined in s. 395.002, or who provide hospital inpatient care. The amount required to be held in reserve may be used only to pay claims from such physicians or dentists until 30 days after the date the insurer receives notice of the accident. After the 30-day period, any amount of the reserve for which the insurer has not received notice of such claims may be used by the insurer to pay other claims. This subsection does not require an insurer to establish a claim reserve for insurance accounting purposes.

(3) An insurer providing medical payments coverage benefits may not:

(a) Seek a lien on any recovery in tort by judgment, settlement, or otherwise for medical payments coverage benefits, regardless of whether suit has been filed or settlement has been reached without suit; or

(b) Bring a cause of action against a person to whom or for whom medical payments coverage benefits were paid, except when medical payments coverage benefits were paid by reason of fraud committed by that person.

(4) An insurer providing medical payments coverage may include provisions in its policy allowing for subrogation for medical payments coverage benefits paid if the expenses giving rise to the payments were caused by the wrongful act or omission of another who is not also an insured under the policy paying the medical payments coverage benefits. However, this subrogation right is inferior to the rights of the injured insured and is available only after all the insured's damages are recovered and the insured is made whole. An insured who obtains a recovery from a third party of the full amount of the damages sustained and delivers a release or satisfaction that impairs a medical payments insurer's subrogation right is liable to the insurer for repayment of medical payments coverage benefits less any expenses of acquiring the recovery, including a prorated share of attorney fees and costs, and shall hold that net recovery in trust to be delivered to the medical payments insurer. The insurer may not include any provision in its policy allowing for subrogation for any death benefit paid.

Section 45. Subsections (1) and (7) of section 627.727, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

627.727 Motor vehicle insurance; uninsured and underinsured vehicle coverage; insolvent insurer protection.—

(1) ~~A No~~ motor vehicle liability insurance policy that ~~which~~ provides bodily injury liability coverage may not ~~shall~~ be delivered or issued for delivery in this state with respect to any specifically insured or identified motor vehicle registered or principally garaged in this state, unless uninsured motor vehicle coverage is provided therein or supplemental thereto for the protection of persons insured thereunder who are legally entitled to recover damages from owners or operators of uninsured motor vehicles because of bodily injury, sickness, or disease, including death, resulting therefrom. However, the coverage required under this section is not applicable ~~if when~~, or to the extent that, an insured named in the policy makes a written rejection of the coverage on behalf of all insureds under the policy. ~~If when~~ a motor vehicle is leased for a period of 1 year or longer and the lessor of such vehicle, by the terms of the lease contract, provides liability coverage on the leased vehicle, the lessee of such vehicle ~~has shall have~~ the sole privilege to reject uninsured motorist coverage or to select lower limits than the bodily injury liability limits, regardless of whether the lessor is qualified as a self-insurer pursuant to s. 324.171. When an insured or lessee has initially selected limits of uninsured motorist coverage lower than her or his bodily injury liability limits, higher limits of uninsured motorist coverage need not be provided in or supplemental to any other policy ~~that which~~ renews, extends, changes, supersedes, or replaces an existing policy with the same bodily injury liability limits unless an insured requests higher uninsured motorist coverage in writing. The rejection or selection of lower limits ~~must shall~~ be made on a form approved by the office. The form ~~must shall~~ fully advise the applicant of the nature of the coverage and ~~must shall~~ state that the coverage is equal to bodily injury liability limits unless lower limits are requested or the coverage is rejected. The heading of the form ~~must shall~~ be in 12-point bold type and ~~must shall~~ state: "You are electing not to purchase certain valuable coverage ~~that which~~ protects you and your family or you are purchasing uninsured motorist limits less than your bodily injury liability limits when you sign this form. Please read carefully." If this form is signed by a named insured, it will be conclusively presumed that there was an informed, knowing rejection of coverage or election of lower limits on behalf of all insureds. The insurer shall notify the named insured at least annually of her or his options as to the coverage required by this section. Such notice ~~must shall~~ be part of, and attached to, the notice of premium, ~~must shall~~ provide for a means to allow the insured to request such coverage, and ~~must shall~~ be given in a manner approved by the office. Receipt of this notice does not constitute an affirmative waiver of the insured's right to uninsured motorist coverage ~~if where~~ the insured has not signed a selection or rejection form. The coverage described under this section ~~must shall~~ be over and above, but ~~may shall~~ not duplicate, the benefits available to an insured under any workers' compensation law, ~~personal injury protection benefits~~, disability benefits law, or similar law; under any automobile medical ~~payments expense~~ coverage; under any motor vehicle liability insurance coverage; or from the owner or operator of the uninsured motor vehicle or any other person or organization jointly or severally liable together with such owner or operator for the accident,; and such coverage ~~must shall~~ cover the difference, if any, between the sum of such benefits and the damages sustained, up to the maximum amount of such coverage provided under this section. The amount of coverage available under this section ~~may shall~~ not be reduced by a setoff against any coverage, including liability insurance. Such coverage ~~does shall~~ not inure directly or indirectly to the benefit of any workers' compensation or disability benefits carrier or any person or organization qualifying as a self-insurer under any workers' compensation or disability benefits law or similar law.

(7) The legal liability of an uninsured motorist coverage insurer includes ~~does not include~~ damages in tort for pain, suffering, disability or physical impairment, disfigurement, mental anguish, and inconvenience, and the loss of capacity for the enjoyment of life experienced in the past and to be experienced in the future ~~unless the injury or disease is described in one or more of paragraphs (a) (d) of s. 627.737(2).~~

Section 46. Section 627.7275, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

After the insurer has completed underwriting the policy, the insurer shall notify the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles that the policy is in full force and effect and is not cancelable for the remainder of the policy period. A premium ~~must shall~~ be collected and the coverage is in effect for the 60-day period during which the insurer is completing the underwriting of the policy, whether or not the person's driver license, motor vehicle tag, and motor vehicle registration are in effect. Once the noncancelable provisions of the policy become effective, the ~~bodily injury liability and property damage liability coverages for bodily injury, property damage, and personal injury protection~~ may not be reduced below the minimum limits required under s. 324.021 or s. 324.023 during the policy period.

(c) The exclusion is inconsistent with the underwriting rules filed by the insurer pursuant to s. 627.0651(13)(a).

Section 52. Paragraphs (b), (c), and (g) of subsection (7), paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (8), and paragraph (b) of subsection (16) of section 627.748, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

627.748 Transportation network companies.—

(7) TRANSPORTATION NETWORK COMPANY AND TNC DRIVER INSURANCE REQUIREMENTS.—

(b) The following automobile insurance requirements apply while a participating TNC driver is logged on to the digital network but is not engaged in a prearranged ride:

1. Automobile insurance that provides:

a. A primary automobile liability coverage of at least $50,000 for death and bodily injury per person, $100,000 for death and bodily injury per incident, and $25,000 for property damage; and

b. ~~Personal injury protection benefits that meet the minimum coverage amounts required under ss. 627.730 627.7405; and~~

e. Uninsured and underinsured vehicle coverage as required by s. 627.727.

2. The coverage requirements of this paragraph may be satisfied by any of the following:

a. Automobile insurance maintained by the TNC driver or the TNC vehicle owner;

b. Automobile insurance maintained by the TNC; or

c. A combination of sub-subparagraphs a. and b.

(c) The following automobile insurance requirements apply while a TNC driver is engaged in a prearranged ride:

1. Automobile insurance that provides:

a. A primary automobile liability coverage of at least $1 million for death, bodily injury, and property damage; and

b. ~~Personal injury protection benefits that meet the minimum coverage amounts required of a limousine under ss. 627.730 627.7405; and~~

e. Uninsured and underinsured vehicle coverage as required by s. 627.727.

2. The coverage requirements of this paragraph may be satisfied by any of the following:

a. Automobile insurance maintained by the TNC driver or the TNC vehicle owner;

b. Automobile insurance maintained by the TNC; or

c. A combination of sub-subparagraphs a. and b.

(g) Insurance satisfying the requirements under this subsection is deemed to satisfy the financial responsibility requirement for a motor vehicle under chapter 324 ~~and the security required under s. 627.733~~ for any period when the TNC driver is logged onto the digital network or engaged in a prearranged ride.

(8) TRANSPORTATION NETWORK COMPANY AND INSURER; DISCLOSURE; EXCLUSIONS.—

(a) Before a TNC driver is allowed to accept a request for a prearranged ride on the digital network, the TNC must disclose in writing to the TNC driver:

1. The insurance coverage, including the types of coverage and the limits for each coverage, which the TNC provides while the TNC driver uses a TNC vehicle in connection with the TNC's digital network.

2. That the TNC driver's own automobile insurance policy might not provide any coverage while the TNC driver is logged on to the digital network or is engaged in a prearranged ride, depending on the terms of the TNC driver's own automobile insurance policy.

3. That the provision of rides for compensation which are not prearranged rides subjects the driver to the coverage requirements imposed under s. 324.032(1) and (2) and that failure to meet such coverage requirements subjects the TNC driver to penalties provided in s. 324.221, up to and including a misdemeanor of the second degree.

(b)1. An insurer that provides an automobile liability insurance policy under this part may exclude any and all coverage afforded under the policy issued to an owner or operator of a TNC vehicle while driving that vehicle for any loss or injury that occurs while a TNC driver is logged on to a digital network or while a TNC driver provides a prearranged ride. Exclusions imposed under this subsection are limited to coverage while a TNC driver is logged on to a digital network or while a TNC driver provides a prearranged ride. This right to exclude all coverage may apply to any coverage included in an automobile insurance policy, including, but not limited to:

a. Liability coverage for bodily injury and property damage;

b. Uninsured and underinsured motorist coverage;

c. Medical payments coverage;

d. Comprehensive physical damage coverage; and

e. Collision physical damage coverage; ~~and~~

~~f. Personal injury protection.~~

2. The exclusions described in subparagraph 1. apply notwithstanding any requirement under chapter 324. These exclusions do not affect or diminish coverage otherwise available for permissive drivers or resident relatives under the personal automobile insurance policy of the TNC driver or owner of the TNC vehicle who are not occupying the TNC vehicle at the time of loss. This section does not require that a personal automobile insurance policy provide coverage while the TNC driver is logged on to a digital network, while the TNC driver is engaged in a prearranged ride, or while the TNC driver otherwise uses a vehicle to transport riders for compensation.

3. This section must not be construed to require an insurer to use any particular policy language or reference to this section in order to exclude any and all coverage for any loss or injury that occurs while a

TNC driver is logged on to a digital network or while a TNC driver provides a prearranged ride.

4. This section does not preclude an insurer from providing primary or excess coverage for the TNC driver's vehicle by contract or endorsement.

(16) LUXURY GROUND TRANSPORTATION NETWORK COMPANIES.—

(b) An entity may elect, upon written notification to the department, to be regulated as a luxury ground TNC. A luxury ground TNC must:

1. Comply with all of the requirements of this section applicable to a TNC, including subsection (17), which do not conflict with subparagraph 2. or which do not prohibit the company from connecting riders to drivers who operate for-hire vehicles as defined in s. 320.01(15), including limousines and luxury sedans and excluding taxicabs.

2. Maintain insurance coverage as required by subsection (7). However, if a prospective luxury ground TNC satisfies minimum financial responsibility through compliance with s. 324.032(3) ~~or 324.032(2)~~ by using self-insurance when it gives the department written notification of its election to be regulated as a luxury ground TNC, the luxury ground TNC may use self-insurance to meet the insurance requirements of subsection (7), so long as such self-insurance complies with s. 324.032(3) ~~or 324.032(2)~~ and provides the limits of liability required by subsection (7).

For purposes of this paragraph and subsection (9), the term "good faith effort" means that the following checks have been performed by the company to establish the prior state of registration and for title:

2. A check of the electronic National Motor Vehicle Title Information System or an equivalent commercially available system to determine

Pursuant to Rule 7.1, there being no objection, consideration of the following late-filed amendment was allowed:

Senator Farmer moved the following amendment to Amendment 1 (824756) which was adopted:

Amendment 1C (670924)—Delete lines 1681-1998 and insert:

(a) Every motor vehicle liability insurance policy furnished as proof of financial responsibility under s. 324.031 must include medical payments coverage at a limit of $5,000. The insurer must also offer medical payments coverage at a limit of $10,000 and may also offer medical payments coverage at any limit greater than $5,000.

(b) The insurer must offer medical payments coverage with no deductible. The insurer may also offer medical payments coverage with a deductible not to exceed $500.

(c) Each motor vehicle liability insurance policy furnished as proof of financial responsibility under s. 324.031 is deemed to have:

1. Medical payments coverage to a limit of $10,000, unless the insurer obtains a named insured's written refusal of medical payments coverage or written selection of medical payments coverage at a limit other than $10,000, but not less than $5,000. The rejection or selection of coverage at a limit other than $10,000 must be made on a form approved by the office.

2. No medical payments coverage deductible, unless the insurer obtains a named insured's written selection of a deductible up to $500. The selection of a deductible must be made on a form approved by the office.

(d)1. The forms referenced in subparagraphs (c)1. and 2. must fully advise the applicant of the nature of the coverage being rejected or the policy limit or deductible being selected. If the form is signed by a named insured, it is conclusively presumed that there was an informed, knowing rejection of the coverage or election of the policy limit or deductible.

2. Unless a named insured requests in writing the coverage specified in this section, it need not be provided in or supplemental to any other policy that renews, insures, extends, changes, supersedes, or replaces an existing policy if a named insured has rejected the coverage specified in this section or has selected an alternative coverage limit or deductible. At least annually, the insurer shall provide to the named insured a notice of the availability of such coverage in a form approved by the office. The notice must be part of, and attached to, the notice of premium and must provide for a means to allow a named insured to request medical payments coverage at the limits and deductibles required to be offered under this section. The notice must be given in a manner approved by the office. Receipt of this notice does not constitute an affirmative waiver of the insured's right to medical payments coverage if a named insured has not signed a selection or rejection form.

(e) This section may not be construed to limit any other coverage made available by an insurer.

(2) Upon receiving notice of an accident that is potentially covered by medical payments coverage benefits, the insurer must reserve $5,000 of medical payments coverage benefits for payment to physicians licensed under chapter 458 or chapter 459 or dentists licensed under chapter 466 who provide emergency services and care, as defined in s. 395.002, or who provide hospital inpatient care. The amount required to be held in reserve may be used only to pay claims from such physicians or dentists until 30 days after the date the insurer receives notice of the accident. After the 30-day period, any amount of the reserve for which the insurer has not received notice of such claims may be used by the insurer to pay other claims. This subsection does not require an insurer to establish a claim reserve for insurance accounting purposes.

(3) An insurer providing medical payments coverage benefits may not:

(a) Seek a lien on any recovery in tort by judgment, settlement, or otherwise for medical payments coverage benefits, regardless of whether suit has been filed or settlement has been reached without suit; or

(b) Bring a cause of action against a person to whom or for whom medical payments coverage benefits were paid, except when medical payments coverage benefits were paid by reason of fraud committed by that person.

(4) An insurer providing medical payments coverage may include provisions in its policy allowing for subrogation for medical payments coverage benefits paid if the expenses giving rise to the payments were caused by the wrongful act or omission of another who is not also an insured under the policy paying the medical payments coverage benefits. However, this subrogation right is inferior to the rights of the injured insured and is available only after all the insured's damages are recovered and the insured is made whole. An insured who obtains a recovery from a third party of the full amount of the damages sustained and delivers a release or satisfaction that impairs a medical payments insurer's subrogation right is liable to the insurer for repayment of medical payments coverage benefits less any expenses of acquiring the recovery, including a prorated share of attorney fees and costs, and shall hold that net recovery in trust to be delivered to the medical payments insurer. The insurer may not include any provision in its policy allowing for subrogation for any death benefit paid.

Section 45. Subsections (1) and (7) of section 627.727, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

627.727 Motor vehicle insurance; uninsured and underinsured vehicle coverage; insolvent insurer protection.—

(1) A ~~no~~ motor vehicle liability insurance policy ~~that which~~ provides bodily injury liability coverage ~~may not shall~~ be delivered or issued for delivery in this state with respect to any specifically insured or identified motor vehicle registered or principally garaged in this state, unless uninsured motor vehicle coverage is provided therein or supplemental thereto for the protection of persons insured thereunder who are legally entitled to recover damages from owners or operators of uninsured motor vehicles because of bodily injury, sickness, or disease, including death, resulting therefrom. However, the coverage required under this section is not applicable ~~if when~~, or to the extent that, an insured named in the policy makes a written rejection of the coverage on behalf of all insureds under the policy. ~~If when~~ a motor vehicle is leased for a ~~period~~ of 1 year or longer and the lessor of such vehicle, by the terms of the lease contract, provides liability coverage on the leased vehicle, the lessee of such vehicle ~~has shall have~~ the sole privilege to reject uninsured motorist coverage or to select lower limits than the bodily injury liability limits, regardless of whether the lessor is qualified as a self-insurer pursuant to s. 324.171. Unless an insured, or a lessee having the privilege of rejecting uninsured motorist coverage, requests such coverage or requests higher uninsured motorist limits in writing, the coverage or such higher uninsured motorist limits need not be provided in or supplemental to any other policy ~~that which~~ renews, extends, changes, supersedes, or replaces an existing policy with the same bodily injury liability limits when an insured or lessee had rejected the coverage. When an insured or lessee has initially selected limits of uninsured motorist coverage lower than her or his bodily injury liability limits, higher limits of uninsured motorist coverage need not be provided in or supplemental to any other policy ~~that which~~ renews, extends, changes, supersedes, or replaces an existing policy with the same bodily injury liability limits unless an insured requests higher uninsured motorist coverage in writing. The rejection or selection of lower limits ~~must shall~~ be made on a form approved by the office. The form ~~must shall~~ fully advise the applicant of the nature of the coverage and ~~must shall~~ state that the coverage is equal to bodily injury liability limits unless lower limits are requested or the coverage is rejected. The heading of the form ~~must shall~~ be in 12-point bold type and ~~must shall~~ state: "You are electing not to purchase certain valuable coverage ~~that which~~ protects you and your family or you are purchasing uninsured motorist limits less than your bodily injury liability limits when you sign this form. Please read carefully." If this form is signed by a named insured, it will be conclusively presumed that there was an informed, knowing rejection of coverage or election of lower limits on behalf of all insureds. The insurer shall notify the named insured at least annually of her or his options as to the coverage required by this section. Such notice ~~must shall~~ be part of, and attached to, the notice of premium, ~~must shall~~ provide for a means to allow the insured to request such coverage, and ~~must shall~~ be given in a manner approved by the office. Receipt of this notice does not constitute an affirmative waiver of the insured's right to uninsured motorist coverage ~~if where~~ the insured has not signed a selection or rejection form. The coverage described under this section ~~must shall~~ be over and above, but ~~may shall~~ not duplicate, the benefits available to an insured under any workers' compensation law, ~~personal injury protection benefits~~, disability benefits law, or similar law; under any automobile medical ~~payments expense~~ coverage; under any motor vehicle liability insurance coverage; or from the owner or operator of the uninsured motor vehicle or any other person or organization jointly or severally liable together with such owner or operator for the accident,; and such coverage ~~must shall~~ cover the difference, if any, between the sum of such benefits and the damages sustained, up to the maximum amount of such coverage provided under this section. The amount of coverage available under this section ~~may shall~~ not be reduced by a setoff against any coverage, including liability insurance. Such coverage ~~does shall~~ not inure directly or indirectly to the benefit of any workers' compensation or disability benefits carrier or any person or organization qualifying as a self-insurer under any workers' compensation or disability benefits law or similar law.

(7) The legal liability of an uninsured motorist coverage insurer ~~includes does not include~~ damages in tort for pain, suffering, ~~disability or physical impairment, disfigurement, mental anguish, and inconvenience, and the loss of capacity for the enjoyment of life experienced in the past and to be experienced in the future unless the injury or disease is described in one or more of paragraphs (a)-(d) of s. 627.737(2).~~

627.7275 Motor vehicle liability.—

(1) A motor vehicle insurance policy ~~providing personal injury protection as set forth in s. 627.736 may not~~ be delivered or issued for delivery in this state ~~for a with respect to any~~ specifically insured or identified motor vehicle registered or principally garaged in this state ~~must provide bodily injury liability coverage, $5,000 of medical payments coverage, and unless the policy also provides coverage for property damage liability coverage as required under by s. 324.022.~~

(2)(a) Insurers writing motor vehicle insurance in this state shall make available, subject to the insurers' usual underwriting restrictions:

1. Coverage under policies as described in subsection (1) to an applicant for private passenger motor vehicle insurance coverage who is seeking the coverage in order to reinstate the applicant's driving privileges in this state if the driving privileges were revoked or suspended pursuant to s. 316.646 or s. 324.0221 due to the failure of the applicant to maintain required security.

2. Coverage under policies as described in subsection (1), which ~~includes bodily injury also provides~~ liability coverage and property damage liability coverage, ~~for bodily injury, death, and property damage arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of the motor vehicle in an amount not less than the minimum limits required under described in s. 324.021(7) or s. 324.023 and which conforms to the requirements of s. 324.151, to an applicant for private passenger motor vehicle insurance coverage who is seeking the coverage in order to reinstate the applicant's driving privileges in this state after such privileges were revoked or suspended under s. 316.193 or s. 322.26(2) for driving under the influence.~~

(b) The policies described in paragraph (a) ~~must shall~~ be issued for at least 6 months and, as to the minimum coverages required under this section, may not be canceled by the insured for any reason or by the insurer after 60 days, during which period the insurer is completing the underwriting of the policy. After the insurer has completed underwriting the policy, the insurer shall notify the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles that the policy is in full force and effect and is not cancelable for the remainder of the policy period. A premium ~~must shall~~ be collected and the coverage is in effect for the 60-day period during which the insurer is completing the underwriting of the policy, whether or not the person's driver license, motor vehicle tag, and motor vehicle registration are in effect. Once the noncancelable provisions of the policy become effective, the ~~bodily injury liability and property damage liability coverages for bodily injury, property damage, and personal injury protection~~ may not be reduced below the minimum limits required under s. 324.021 or s. 324.023 during the policy period.

(c) This subsection controls to the extent of any conflict with any other section.

(d) An insurer issuing a policy subject to this section may cancel the policy if, during the policy term, the named insured, or any other operator who resides in the same household or customarily operates an automobile insured under the policy, has his or her driver license suspended or revoked.

(e) This subsection does not require an insurer to offer a policy of insurance to an applicant if such offer would be inconsistent with the insurer's underwriting guidelines and procedures.

Section 47. Effective upon this act becoming a law, section 627.7278, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

627.7278 Applicability and construction; notice to policyholders.—

(1) As used in this section, the term "minimum security requirements" means security that enables a person to respond in damages for liability on account of crashes arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle, in the amounts required by s. 324.022(1), as amended by this act.

(2) Effective January 1, 2022:

(d) An existing motor vehicle insurance policy issued before that date which provides personal injury protection and property damage liability coverage that meets the requirements of s. 324.022 on December 31, 2021, but which does not meet minimum security requirements on or after January 1, 2022, is deemed to meet minimum security requirements until such policy is renewed, nonrenewed, or canceled on or after January 1, 2022. Sections 627.730-627.7405, 400.9905, 400.991, 456.057, 456.072, 627.7263, 627.727, 627.748, 626.9541(1)(i), and 817.234, Florida Statutes 2020, remain in full force and effect for motor vehicle accidents covered under a policy issued under the Florida Motor Vehicle No-Fault Law before January 1, 2022, until the policy is renewed, nonrenewed, or canceled on or after January 1, 2022.

The insurer is not required to provide coverage complying with minimum security requirements in such policies if the insured does not pay the required premium, if any, by January 1, 2022, or such later date as the insurer may allow. The insurer also shall offer each insured medical payments coverage pursuant to s. 627.7265. Any reduction in the premium must be refunded by the insurer. The insurer may not impose on the insured an additional fee or charge that applies solely to a change in coverage; however, the insurer may charge an additional required premium that is actuarially indicated.*

(4) By September 1, 2021, each motor vehicle insurer shall provide notice of this section to each motor vehicle policyholder who is subject to this section. The notice is subject to approval by the office and must clearly inform the policyholder that:

(a) The Florida Motor Vehicle No-Fault Law is repealed effective January 1, 2022, and that on or after that date, the insured is no longer required to maintain personal injury protection insurance coverage, that personal injury protection coverage is no longer available for purchase in this state, and that all new or renewal policies issued on or after that date will not contain that coverage.

(b) Effective January 1, 2022, a person subject to the financial responsibility requirements of s. 324.022 must maintain minimum security requirements that enable the person to respond to damages for liability on account of accidents arising out of the use of a motor vehicle in the following amounts:
